MONEY IN WHEAT.

100 Per Cent or More to be Made on Investments—Shrewd Speculators See Great Possibilities for Profit in the Grain Market.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The best posted and most conservative grain men in New York and Chicago are unanimous in the opinion that the time is ripe for a substantial advance in the price of wheat; and the increased activity in the market for the past few days shows that they are acting on their opinion.

Many articles have been published supporting these opinions. The best and most comprehensive, however, is a letter just issued by the well-known house of William M. Townsend & Bro., Produce Exchange building, New York, which is a recognized authority on the consumption, production and distribution of wheat. Many reasons are advanced by them for higher prices, and altogether they form a logical and most convincing argument; they also present facts of so startling a nature as to cause extreme restlessness among the bears on grain.

The letter is issued for free distribution, and can be had on application.

PRESIDENT PAYS TRIBUTE TO OFFICIALS WHO BROUGHT PEACE IN THE PHILIPPINES

Declares Final Result Depends Almost As Much On Men Who Administer It As On Policy Followed.

GIVEN GREAT RECEPTION BY PEOPLE OF MEMPHIS

Day of Festivities Includes Receptions by White and Colored Citizens and Winds Up With Banquet in Evening.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 19.—President Roosevelt was given a great ovation today by the people of the south. The occasion of the homecoming of Gen. Luke E. Wright from the Philippines gave him the opportunity at the banquet tonight to discuss the policy of the administration in the Philippines. He paid a glowing tribute to the work of the civil and military authorities there and declared that the final result depends almost as much on the men who administer it as to the policy itself. Among other prominent guests of the city were Gov. McMillan and Gen. Joseph Wheeler.

Starts Out With Parade.

Immediately after the president's arrival there was a parade through the streets to the Gayoso hotel, where a breakfast was tendered the president and Gen. Wright, jointly, by the ladies of Memphis. In the afternoon the president attended and spoke at two receptions given in honor of Gen. Wright, one at the Auditorium by white citizens, and the other at a hall in the black section of the city by the colored people. Later there was a Colonial Dames tea at the Gayoso.

That Mrs. Wright is exceedingly popular, was made apparent by the applause which greeted every reference to her, especially at the Auditorium, when the president referred to the fact that his mother's brother served in the Confederate navy under her father, who was Admiral Semmes.

Gen. Wright did not go deeply into the situation in the Philippines, in his remarks, but he emphasized the fact that the administration of the islands, under both Presidents McKinley and Roosevelt had been absolutely non-partisan.

In Frenzy of Delight.

The reception tendered by the colored people was truly remarkable. Gen. Wright earned their undying gratitude during the two yellow fever epidemics 20 years ago by remaining here when most of the whites had fled, and seeing that the sick were cared for. The hall was packed, galleries and pit, to the point of suffocation, and the whole spirit of the proceedings breathed admiration for their friend.

When the president arrived the colored people became almost frantic, jumping up and down in their enthusiasm and yelling themselves hoarse. The president said:

I am indeed glad to have been here to witness and to share in your greeting to Gen. Wright. I can well understand how inevitable it was that he should succeed in the post of high responsibility he has occupied outside of our country, when he has had the character that has entitled him to the profound respect and regard of all his fellow citizens.

Will Do Fairly Well.

If a man is fearless, is honest, has consideration for others and is gifted with the crowning grace of common sense, he is going to do fairly well.

We all of us tend to rise or fall together. If any set of us goes down the whole nation sags a little. If any of us raise ourselves a little, then by just so much the nation, as a whole, is raised. Every man who does markedly good work in one sphere of government, by just so much helps all of us and elevates all of us. It is a great thing when we can point to any American who has tendered signal service in any position. It makes all of us a little better Americans, makes us feel spurred on to do a little better work as citizens, each in his own sphere of activity.

There were 200 guests at the banquet, the attendance being limited to that number. Gov. Longino of Mississippi traveled from Jackson to be present.

When President Roosevelt arose to speak he was greeted with cheers, and a number of times he was interrupted by applause. He said:

Expects Much of Tennessee.

It is a real and great pleasure to come to this typical city of the southern Mississippi valley in order to greet a typical American, a citizen of Tennessee, who deserves

KING ALEXANDER PLANS COUP D'ETAT

VIENNA, Nov. 20.—The resignation of the Servian cabinet and King Alexander's mandate to Gen. Marovios to form a new ministry are generally taken here to foreshadow a military dictatorship in Servia. The king's next move, according to general expectations, will be the indefinite adjournment or dissolution of parliament. He will then attempt to govern as an absolute monarch, supported only by his army.

Shot Himself Dead.

MASSILLON, O., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—George Ecksfield, a Massillon Baltimore & Ohio operator, it is alleged, endeavored to induce Mrs. Joseph Walzer of Canal Fulton to desert her husband and elope with him. Failing, he went to the Fulton station of the Baltimore & Ohio, near Mrs. Walzer's home, today, and shot himself through the heart.

MRS. MOLINEUX'S CHARGE EXTREME CRUELTY

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—(Special.)—A special from Sioux Falls, S. D., to the World says: "The World correspondent has learned the charge on which Mrs. Blanche C. Molineux is seeking absolute divorce from Roland Molineux. It is that of extreme cruelty."

McDowell Expects No Extra Session.

Alexander McDowell of Sharon, clerk of the national house of representatives, passed through the city to Washington last night. He is going to the national capital to prepare for the session of congress. "I do not expect the house to transact much business," he said, "except the consideration and passage of appropriation bills, and the regular routine work usual during short sessions. There is a demand apparently for large appropriations for public buildings, rivers and harbors, and irrigation in the extreme western states."

SLEEPING CARS ON TRACTION LINE WILL CUT PULLMAN RATES

Out in Ohio, on the traction line between Columbus and Cincinnati, they are arranging for a New Year's Day innovation in the shape of palace sleeping cars. They will also cut in half the Pullman service rates over the Big Four, the Midland division of the Baltimore & Ohio and the Little Miami division of the Panhandle railroads.

Announcement of this was made last night at the Hotel Henry by Col. H. R. Young, traction magnate of Ohio. The colonel declared that the patrons of the road have already so encouraged the scheme that it is certain to be a fixture from the start.

Col. Young is a leader in a syndicate which has just incorporated the Columbiana Central Traction Company to build a line from East Liverpool to Salem, O.

CRAZED FATHER'S FIENDISH ACT

Dorseyville Man Almost Kills Stepson With Hot Poker and Knife.

IS STILL AT LARGE

Michael Booker, a farmer of Dorseyville, last evening drove a hot poker into the breast of his stepson, George Ingram, and after disabling him attacked his with a big knife and inflicted wounds that will probably cause the young man's death. The Booker family is composed of Mr. and Mrs. Booker, Clarence Ingram, aged 22; George Ingram, aged 20; Elizabeth Booker, aged 5, and Mildred Booker, aged 3 years.

Bad blood, it is said, has existed between the Booker and the Ingram boys for a long time. Quarrels were frequent. During the past few weeks there have been several outbursts on both sides. Two weeks ago Booker bought a large bowie knife.

Just before the family was ready to sit down to dinner last evening, Booker and George Ingram quarreled. From the dining room stove the enraged man quickly drew a red hot poker and standing across the room from young Ingram threw it at the boy. It struck him in the breast, about two inches above the heart, and buried its scorching point more than an inch in Ingram's flesh. With a cry of pain the boy drew the iron from where it was sticking, then rushed towards his stepfather, tripped over a coal scuttle and fell to the floor. Booker, with the bowie knife, began slashing the boy's head and chest. In defending himself, Ingram had all the fingers on his right hand cut off. A deep cut, 10 inches long, in his scalp bled freely.

The noise of the struggle in the room attracted little Elizabeth, who was in another room. Running in, she cried: "Don't kill George, father." She was answered by a curse and a kick in the stomach that rendered her senseless. Mrs. William Edgell of No. 7216 Bennet street, Pittsburgh, a daughter of Mrs. Booker, who was in the room, fainted.

Mrs. Booker hurried in from the yard. Booker sprang to his feet and ran from the house. Clarence Ingram was working in a field close to the house. Booker went in search of him and found him talking to two neighbors. The sight of the two men evidently frightened Booker, for, running back to the house, he took his hat and coat and disappeared. He has not been seen since.

Dr. H. F. McGarvey of Dorseyville attended the wounded boy, who is not likely to live.

When Booker ran from his home he declared he was coming back to kill the whole family. A reporter for The Gazette last night found Mrs. Booker and her children in the front room of the house armed with two guns and several revolvers. They feared the return of the husband and father, but were determined to defend themselves in case he tried to make good his threat.

Owen Ziegler Quits.

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—Patsy Sweeney of Manchester, N. H., won a four-round battle from Owen Zeigler of Philadelphia, in the ring of the Criterion A. C. tonight. Zeigler declined to go on in the fifth round. Zeigler claimed that legal troubles had prevented his preparing for the fight, besides, he had hurt his arm, and went into the ring simply to keep his word.

Convicted of Murder.

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Joseph Gillespie was found guilty of murder in the second degree here tonight and sentenced to 20 years in the penitentiary. Gillespie was accused of the murder of John Holmaly, whose mutilated body was found at Midway on August 10 last.

NEW WORK TO COST $2,000,000

Entire Bessemer Line, Pittsburgh to Lake, to Be Double-Tracked.

WINTER'S BIG TASK

The Bessemer & Lake Erie Railroad Company has determined on improvements which will cost over $2,000,000. This will include the improvement of the main line to make it a complete double-track system. Most of the work will be done by the time navigation comes next spring. At that time the railroad is to be ready to handle a tremendously increased tonnage for the Pittsburgh district interests of the United States Steel Corporation. Additional furnaces will be in blast then, and at Conneaut harbor the corporation interests will have additional facilities for handling and storing twice as much material as now.

The Bessemer now has only 23 miles of double track. To make the main line a solid system of double track, 130 miles of second track will be put down. This will involve much heavy grading and filling and the cost will aggregate about $1,300,000. Most of the work will be done under the direction of the management of the Bessemer and not turned over to contractors.

At North Bessemer a great new classification yard is being built at an expenditure of about $400,000. The improvements there will provide trackage for handling 2,500 cars at one time. The yards will be over a mile long and about 1,500 feet wide. The grading, which is being done by Contractors Patton & Gibson of Pittsburgh, involve the handling of about 1,000,000 yards of earth. Near the point of the new Salem-Kremis cutoff another important piece of improvement work is under way.

The Union railroad, between Bessemer and North Bessemer, where it will link with the new yards of the Bessemer, is to be double-tracked, involving the laying of about seven miles of second track. It is understood that Patton & Gibson will do the grading for this and the work will be completed for the opening of navigation.

Work has been started all along the main line on the double-tracking. By next spring the important improvements for the Pittsburgh and Conneaut Dock Company at Conneaut harbor will be completed. This will be the extension of the dock facilities and the installing of new unloading, storing and loading apparatus by a new automatic system created by the Brown Hoisting and Conveying Machine Company of Cleveland. These improvements are costing about $500,000. The new facilities at the harbor will add a capacity of 12,000 ton a 10-hour day, nearly doubling the facilities of the docks.

At Butler the Bessemer is grading for extensions and filling a long trestle. This road has the only direct connection with the big new plant of the Standard Steel Car Company. The Pittsburgh & Western and West Penn division of the Pennsylvania and the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh reach the works over the line of the Bessemer.

Installed New Elders.

The Lincoln Avenue United Presbyterian church, formerly the Larimer Avenue mission of the Sixth United Presbyterian church, installed into eldership last night Ira C. Bell and J. P. Crisswell. The installation sermon was delivered by the Rev. William A. Philips. The congregation immediately after the exercises voted to request the Monongahela Presbytery to allow them to call a pastor.

Boy Killed While Hunting.

BELLEFONTE, PA., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—This afternoon while John Kline and Edward Sowers, 18-year-old boys of State College, were hunting, Sowers tripped and his gun was discharged, Kline receiving the full contents, dying instantly.

BANDITS HOLD UP GAMBLING HOUSE

Line Players and Proprietor Along Wall and Go Through Pockets.

TAKE NEARLY $2,000

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Minneapolis, Nov. 19.—In a fashion reminiscent of the James Younger gang, two bandits held up a gambling den at Columbia Heights early tonight and secured $1,943 from the score of players and proprietors, seriously wounding Harvey Howard, the colored porter.

Each robber used a handkerchief to shield the lower part of his face. There are two entrances to the place and the bandits appearing simultaneously at either door, ordered the inmates to hold up their hands. The score of players and attendants were then aligned on one side of the room, and while the bandit leader kept them covered with his revolver his assistant rifled pockets and tills.

First, David Bruce, the manager, was searched. He was relieved of his revolver, which was thrown out of a window. Then $160 was extracted from his pockets. Ingram Flick, treasurer of the resort, yielded $1,608. Half a dozen patrons of the place were relieved of sums ranging from $10 to $40.

While the robbery was in progress, Steve Carlson who lodges upstairs, looked in. He made a hasty exit, with four bullets fired after him. Then Harvey Howard, the colored porter, aroused from a nap, bounded in to learn the cause and bounded out again, but two bullets, one in each leg, tumbled him into the street.

The second robber went into the saloon in front of the place where he secured $80 from the cash drawer. J. D. Sullican, the proprietor, saved $360 by hiding the money.

Afterward the bandit leader ordered his assistant to "get the rig." During his absence, it developed that Sullivan's clothes had caught fire as the huddled crowd had pressed him close to the stove. The remaining bandit directed a realignment of the victims, because, he said, he did not want to burn the man up.

When the second robber returned, the robbers backed out, keeping the crowd covered with their revolvers until they disappeared in the darkness.

Havana Cigar Makers Strike.

HAVANA, Nov. 19.—The cigar makers at all the factories went out today and it is estimated that a total of 30,000 employes are on strike. Several demonstrations were made by the strikers and led to a few arrests, but the disturbances were not of a serious character.

SPIRITUALIST HIRED TO FIND MURDERER.

CUMBERLAND, MD., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—The family of John H. Miller, a farmer of near Reedsville, who was murdered one year ago yesterday, has employed a spiritualist to discover the murderer. Yesterday the spiritualist, accompanied by the family and followed by a large crowd, visited the scene of the murder, where a seance was held.

The spiritualist claims that the spirit of Miller told him that the murder was committed by a red-haired man of stout build and directed him to a pool where the revolver was found. The family, it is said, will investigate as directed by the spiritualist.

RATES UPON FREIGHT TO TAKE A JUMP

Railroads Will Advance Their Charges to Shippers.

PITTSBURGH MUST BEAR THE BRUNT

"Commodity" Freight Is the Class Affected by the Proposed Increase.

EFFECTIVE ON JANUARY 1

Freight rates are to receive a sharp increase about January 1. The articles used and made in the Pittsburgh district will be among those most affected.

These facts have become known despite the efforts of the railroads to keep them quiet for a little time yet. The Pennsylvania railroad will lead in this movement, just as it led in the movement for greater pay for employes.

Upon the greater pay of employes, the railroads will base their justification for this increase in rates. The plea will be made that the increased cost of living has made the greater wages necessary and that with this increase of wages, combined with the other increases of the railroads' expenses, the present freight rates are entirely too low, to live, the railroads must have greater profits from transpotation.

This increase in rates will be declared by all railroads alike, under the community of interest plan now so strong that there seems to be no danger of it weakening, even under the great pressure the large shipping interests will bring to bear.

Commodity Freight to Pay More.

It is stated by an official of the Pennsylvania railroad who will not allow the use of his name, that the advance, as contemplated to take effect January 1, 1903, will apply only to "commodity" rates, the present "classified" rates to remain undisturbed. The commodity rates are those applying to bulk freights, such as are most shipped in the Pittsburgh district. Coal, coke, ores, iron and steel products, stone, bricks and kindred freights, and grain and grain products are all "commodity" freights.

A number of conferences will be held in the near future among the interested railroads to work out the full details of the advance.

Just before the Pennsylvania issued its announcement of increased pay to its employes there appeared in many papers a statement which bore all the appearance of "inspiration," in which it was demonstrated that if there was to be a general increase in the rate of wages to employes of railroads there must necessarily be advanced freight rates. In the railroad journals, organs of the railroad interests, there have been also numerous editorials and other articles, all pointing to the coming increase.

Need It to Pay Higher Wages.

President Joseph Ramsey, Jr., in his formal statement accompanying the announcement that a general advance of wages will be made to the skilled labor of the Wabash, makes the following observation:

"It is evident to any one who is at all familiar with the present condition of railroad earnings and expenses, that no permanent increase in wages can be expected without an increase in the rates paid railroads for transportation; any increases made now, if not followed by advanced rates, will be lost by the employes, as soon as the 'wave of prosperity' begins to subside."

PENNSY TO BUILD NEW CLASSIFICATION YARDS

Plan to Relieve Freight Congestion Is Announced After Return from Pittsburgh Trip.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—President A. J. Cassatt, Second Vice President Pugh, Third Vice President Provost, General Manager Hutchinson and Chief Engineer Brown of the Pennsylvania railroad, on their return today from Pittsburgh, announced that, to prevent repetitions of the present condition, it has been definitely decided to build a classification yard at Marysville, at the western end of the new Rockville bridge, where the Northern Central tracks cross the main line; and to build a new freight line from Safe Harbor over to Downingtown, a distance of 60 miles.

This line is only one of many such lines that will be built about places like Harrisburg, where the freights are liable to become congested.

The town of Resht, 14 miles from its port of Enzelli, on the Caspian sea, has a population estimated at 25,000 to 30,000. It was almost depopulated by the plague in 1830.

FRAUENHEIM NOT INDORSED IN HOME WARD

Resolution to Start His Boom for Recorder Was Not Adopted.

COMMITTEE HAS DEFERRED ACTION

Motion Favoring a Straight Ticket and Looking Toward Fusion Was Held Up.

WANT EARLY PRIMARIES

The Democratic executive committee of the Twentieth ward last night refused to indorse the candidacy of E. J. Frauenheim for recorder. Resolutions declaring for a straight ticket and for fusion were also put aside. After wrangling for almost three hours, the organization postponed action for one week. It will probably go on record as favoring a Democrat without naming the man.

The Twentieth ward is the home of Frauenheim. Some if his friends wished the ward organization to start his campaign by indorsing him. While it is probable that a majority of the members of the association are in favor of naming a straight Democratic ticket, they are more disposed to indorse George W. Guthrie. Joseph Howley is chairman of the committee. His purpose in holding the meeting at the Forest hotel last night was to have the ward go on record as favoring the selection of a Democrat for recorder. In appointing his committee on resolutions it happened that three of the five men were for Frauenheim. They brought in a resolution indorsing his candidacy, but in the committee of the whole it was turned down.

Some of the Men Present.

There are 38 members of the committee and 25 were present. Howley presided and John B. McNulty was secretary. Among the members present were: R. W. Guthrie, W. S. Guffey, S. J. Graham, John C. O'Donnell, George Heard, John I. Brown, Samuel B. Griffith, James A. Wakefield, J. D. Scanlon, John O'Conner, Edward Golden, J. C. Zinsmeister, S. A. Cosgrove, R. A. Lawler, W. H. Murphy, Craig Frey, C. C. McGee, G. W. Porter and E. E. Kiernan. Col. J. M. Guffey is a member, but did not attend.

Three resolutions were introduced, one by George Heard, another by John B. McNulty, and a third by S. J. Graham. It was decided to refer them to a committee composed of Heard, O'Donnell, Graham, Guffey and Brown. The committee returned the Heard resolution in favor of Frauenheim by a vote of 3 to 2, Graham and O'Donnell voting against it. The paper recites the fusion movement of last spring, resulting in the election of Larkin and a large number of Citizen councilmen. Attention is called to the vote in the recent election, when the Democrats claim they polled the larger part of the fusion vote. They also point out that the Republicans got the larger number of places on the fusion tickets. The resolution then reads:

Try to Indorse Frauenheim.

The sense of the Democrats in the Twentieth ward that, in view of the concessions heretofore made by the Democrats to the Citizens in the nomination and election of officers and of the fact that the Democrats polled the larger vote at the recent election in this city, it is the sense of this meeting that a Democrat, possessing the proper qualifications for the position and whose sympathies and support have been given to this movement, shall be determined upon as the candidate of the combined forces for the office of city recorder at the forthcoming municipal election.

In the Democratic party we have many eligible men for the position, among them E. J. Frauenheim of the Twentieth ward, and we name him as a candidate for recorder at the coming February election and hereby indorse his candidacy.

The McNulty resolution, which will come up again next Wednesday, reads:

We firmly pledge ourselves to stand steadfastly for the preservation of the Democratic party, for Democratic principles and a Democratic candidate in the coming election for city recorder, believing that with the Republican party split into factions our candidate will win; and we hereby call upon all loyal Democrats and honest reformers to join with us in this movement.

The Graham Resolution.

The following is the resolution introduced by Graham, who, with R. W. Guthrie, is said to have represented the wishes of George W. Guthrie, chairman of the Democratic city committee:

The Democratic part yof the Twentieth ward is first and foremost in favor of any policy which will secure to Pittsburgh better men and better methods in the management of city affairs.

If it should be deemed wise by the properly constituted authorities of our party in the city to enter into any fusion movement, an equal representation in the city government be demanded and insisted upon for the Democrats of the city.

When the committee reported the Heard resolution Heard spoke for its adoption and Graham and O'Donnell against it. The committee was soon in an uproar, but Wakefield succeeded in delaying trouble by having adopted a motion to postpone action for one week. The meeting will be held in McKnight's undertaking rooms.

Early in the evening a resolution was adopted requesting City Chairman Guthrie to call a meeting of the city committee at an early date to decide upon a method of nominating a candidate for recorder. Under the Democratic rules, there is no plan suggested for nominating a recorder. The delegates that nominated Larkin were elected for three years, and the plan is to have the city committee empower them to nominate a recorder or provide for the election of a new set of delegates. There is nothing in the rules to compel Chairman Guthrie to call a meeting of his committee until he is ready to do so.

The Nineteenth ward Democrats have adopted resolutions deferring action for two weeks on the recordership question. They favor fusion.

INDIANS PERISH BY THOUSANDS

Terrible Havoc of Santa Maria Eruption Confirmed by Refugees.

SURVIVORS MAY STARVE

Bands of Robbers Swarming Over Desolated Sections — Destruction Came from Craters Which Opened Near Volcano's Base.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—The first of the refugees from the devastated lands of Guatemala arrived today. They came from the districts of the inland sea and traveled over a country laid waste by sand, ashes and pumice before reaching a railway station.

They sailed on November 7, when the volcano was still smoking and the rumbling of thunder and flashes of lightning gave evidence of more eruptions to come. These people escaped to the seaside with little more than the clothing they wore.

The refugees confirm stories of the loss of life. They say the victims for the most part are Indians. They had not heard of any white people being lost. Thousands of Indians were asphyxiated or buried in the sand.

Bands of robbers are now swarming the desolated sections, robbing and murdering refugees on the road, and looting the abandoned and desolate plantations. The people left behind on the plantations, it is said, are in danger of death from starvation, for the food supply has been cut off.

Those who came on the City of Para were the Bardwell family and Miss Florissa Mero. The Bardwells owned the Magnolia plantation near L'Argentina and about 30 miles south of Quezaltenango, which city was destroyed this year by an earthquake.

Word has been received from Mazatenango, on the outskirts of the ruined territory, that on Friday, October 25, at about 6 o'clock in the evening, Santa Maria opened a crater on the west side near its base and not far from Helvetia, and all that night it belched forth volumes of ashes and lava over Tolhut. It was noted on Saturday morning that several more craters in the neighborhood of the mountain had opened, and all were spouting volcanic debris over the plantations of the district. For more than 24 hours these new craters were in constant eruption. The earth was in continual commotion, shaking down buildings and causing much destruction. The entire neighborhood for miles was a burning wilderness.

Hardly Able to Breathe.

Ferdinand Bardwell, in telling his story of the eruption, said:

"A great column of smoke and fire rose seemingly to the peak of Santa Maria. That was on the night of October 24, about 5 o'clock. All that night the earth shook in almost constant vibration and the next morning the sky was enveloped in a thick cloud of smoke and ashes. Breathing was difficult, but the atmosphere was so hot that it seemed as though the skin would be peeled from one's body.

"For three days we were in almost total darkness. On the fourth day the smoke clouds were rolled back toward the mountains and at times streaks of light would break through. Then we saw the ruin which had come over our plantation. We were on the side of the volcano least exposed to the fury of the eruption and fully 30 miles away from the mountain; yet our place is ruined beyond all hope of recovery. We were obliged to abandon all our horses and all the goods we did not personally need for our personal comfort at the banks of a river a few miles before we reached Retahulea.

Gave Robbers No Chance.

"There were robbers along the road, but we were well known and took good care not to give them a chance, and so we were not molested. We saw hundreds of natives along the trails, wandering aimlessly about without food or shelter and almost on the verge of starvation.

"One of the refugees from the mine district said that on his way out he counted 70 natives lying half-buried under stones and ashes from the volcano, and everyone of them was living beside a pack of his household goods. Most of the villages are covered with stones and ashes to a depth of from five to seven feet. The frail houses were unable to stand the terrible downpour of the volcanic debris and people beneath the roofs were buried after being stunned by the awful hail of stones.

"Many refugees who were fleeing from the scene of destruction have been killed by the bands of robbers who now infest every trail. Those who have been murdered were those who were fleeing from the ruined district with what provisions and little money they had saved from the deluge of ashes and stones. The food they carried is what particularly excited the cupidity of the robbers.

"The houses that have been deserted at the first break of the volcano and to which the owners had a few days later returned, were found to have been looted by these robbers. Everything that was of value was carried away, and in some cases articles that could not be carried away were destroyed."

PITTSBURGHERS WIN IN THE K. OF L. FIGHT

Burns Contingent Takes Possession of National Headquarters on Court Order.

The old headquarters of the Knights of Labor in Washington, D. C., possession of which has caused much litigation in recent years, while by hook and crook they remained in possession of John W. Hayes, are now held by the reorganized order, which drops Hayes and has for its general master workman Simon Burns of Pittsburgh, president of the Window Glass Workers' association. John Fernau, chairman of the general executive board of the reorganized body and master workman of the Pittsburgh district assembly, last night telegraphed James S. Silliman of the district executive board to that effect.

Possession was secured by Simon Burns yesterday under order of a District of Columbia court. The process is understood to be the subject to further court proceedings, but the Pittsburgh crowd has scored a point generally recognized as signifying the termination of the regime of Hayes.

Fernau's message was received in time last night to be presented at a meeting of the Salespeople's assembly No. 4967, which is the biggest in numerical strength of the Pittsburgh organization. The salespeople received it with a hurrah.

At Niagara Falls Hayes only had representatives of about 2,000 members with him, although he brought forth 11 delegates.

Burns started for Washington on last Wednesday, to find a representative of Hayes in charge of headquarters, with instructions that possession was not to be given, except on an order signed by John W. Hayes. The court did the rest and meantime the routine reorganization was completed at Niagara Falls.

The new Burns organization of the Knights of Labor holds 28,000 of the 30,000 members and Hayes the rest.

Burns has plans to revive the old strength of the organization by making changes in the plan of organization which will bring it up to the modern ideas of an international parent organization of labor.

SCANDAL CROPS OUT AT THE HORSE SHOW

Exhibitor Accused of Substituting Another Horse for One He Entered.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Nov. 19.

Unwearied, society gave the third day of the horse show its most impressive presence, and all day today and tonight the scene in the big garden was the most brilliant of the week.

The ring shared honors with the boxes and the promenade, and the enthusiasm at night, when Lord Brilliant won the Waldorf-Astoria challenge cup, was marked.

Scandal came into the garden during the day, when it was charged that an exhibitor had substituted another horse for the one he had entered. He has been formally accused and may have to surrender the blue ribbon won by the team in which the questioned horse appeared.

The program for the day included classes for Shetlands under saddle and in harness, hackney stallions, horses and runabouts, roadsters, four-in-hands (park teams) and, most spectacular and interesting of all, the class for hunters belonging to a hunt club, to be shown by the master whip or members of the hunt in the hunt uniform. First prize in this class was won by the London (Canada) Hunt club.

FINE PIGEON DISPLAY.

Special Feature of the Coming Poultry Show—Many Prizes to Be Awarded.

Over $1,500 in cash prizes will be offered by the Pittsburgh Fanciers' club at its sixth annual poultry show, which will be held in Old City hall in the week beginning February 22. During the exhibition the American Owl Pigeon club will hold its annual meeting in this city and six special silver cups will be offered in the owl pigeon class. These will be given by J. M. Skiles, G. C. Sutch, Byron Goff, A. L. Hinterleiter, J. P. Hilldorfer and E. H. Seldon.

The premium list was prepared last night at a meeting of the Fanciers' club. The committee on entries reported that there would be over 1,000 pigeons, including 300 owls; 1,800 chickens and all varieties of geese, turkeys, cats, rabbits and guinea pigs. In addition to the regular prizes the Buff Leghorn club will give a silver cup and the John M. Roberts $75 silver cup will be awarded in the competition. Adam Brockle has offered a handsome gold medal for white Minorca chickens.

George Ewald of Cincinnati was selected as judge in the pigeon competition, while the following will award prizes for poultry: G. H. Burgott, Lawton Station, N. Y.; David Nicholls, Shelton, Conn.; Theodore Hughes, Indianapolis; T. F. Riggs, Iowa Falls, Ia. In 1903 the following year the club expects to hold its show in the Exposition building.

HART HAD BETTER OF O'BRIEN.

Decision Was a Draw, but Home Man Was Weak at Finish.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—Marvin Hart of Louisville tonight gave Philadelphia Jack O'Brien one of the hardest fights of his career at the Penn Art Athletic club. O'Brien's showing in the last round disappointed his friends.

In the first three rounds the bout was all O'Brien's, who also had the fourth round by a shade. Beginning with the fifth, the bout was clearly Hart's. The Kentuckian rushed in without paying the slightest attention to Jack's jabs.

In the sixth round Hart started to rush things, but in his over-anxiety he swung wildly. O'Brien lost his guard for an instant, when Hart landed a short right-hander on the jaw. O'Brien went down, and after struggling to his feet began hugging. Hart swung both right and left around O'Brien's body. These punches evidently hurt O'Brien, who slipped twice.

The house was in an uproar and for the first time O'Brien was hissed by his home admirers. Hart himself was showing the effects of his hard work and though he hit O'Brien often about the body and sent his head back with straight lefts on several occasions he could not get in the punch that would have secured for him the verdict.

COMPANY'S DUTY TO PAY DAMAGES

Councilman Wasson's Amendment to Pennsylvania Franchise.

EAST END INSPECTION

City Fathers Go Along Route Near Beechwood Boulevard. Pastor Makes Protest—Proposed Addition to Park.

Headed by President Crawford, 32 of the 51 members of common council yesterday afternoon inspected the route of the Pennsylvania railroad's proposed East End cut-off from Fifth avenue to the connection with the Allegheny Valley division near Brilliant station.

The councilmen were accompanied by G. C. Clarke and N. F. Brown, assistant engineers of the Pennsylvania railroad, who made the surveys for the branch, and Director McCandless.

The party occupied carriages and was driven along the proposed line. Everything was carefully explained by the engineers.

At the conclusion of the trip J. C. Wasson of the Twentieth ward offered a new section to the franchise ordinance, but no action was taken, because the council was not regularly in session. Mr. Wasson served notice that his amendment would be offered at the next regular meeting. The amendment reads as follows:

That all damages resulting from the changes of grades of any streets or public highways or by reason of the vacation thereof, under the provisions of this ordinance, shall be assumed and paid by the said Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

The Rev. E. D. Wells, rector of St. Philip's Protestant Episcopal church, a mission of the Calvary church, protested to the members of councils that the railroad would run too close to his church and would seriously interfere with services.

The engineers claimed the tracks would not run within 300 feet of the church, but the Rev. Mr. Wells claimed that the distance was only 100 feet.

The inspection party viewed the line where the tracks will be elevated over Silver lake, and run under the Lincoln avenue bridge.

While passing down the Beechwood boulevard, Dr. G. W. McNeill of the Twenty-first ward, protested against vacating the street on the north side of the Lincoln avenue bridge. He claimed the people living in that section would have no outlet to the boulevard.

The tracks will run near Larimer avenue about 120 feet from the north end of the Larimer avenue bridge, where a big cut will be necessary. In the neighborhood of Highland park Engineer Clarke pointed out the Leech property of 96 acres along the east side of the Beechwood boulevard, 91 acres of which the railroad company proposes to give the city in exchange for the park strip to be occupied. The railroad will thus divide the park into two sections.

The inspection of the city route of the Wabash by councilmen tomorrow will be welcomed by the railway officials. The party will be accompanied by Chief Engineer J. W. Patterson, Assistant Chief Engineer C. McK. Watts, General Counsel A. M. Neeper and other Wabash officials.

CAUGHT ON THE VERGE

Hannah Burd Saved by a Policeman from Suicide in the Allegheny River.

Because she was tired of life Hannah Burd, 16 years old, colored, attempted to commit suicide last night by jumping off the Sixth street bridge into the Allegheny river. Policeman P. J. Defenbaugh caught her as she was about to leap into the water. The girl was taken to the Central police station on a charge of disorderly conduct.

The girl had been leading a dissipated life. She boarded at No. 1429 Popular alley. She packed her clothing last night and told the boarders that she was going to end it all. They paid no attention to her and she went out. Officer Defenbaugh noticed that she was acting queerly. He followed her out on the bridge and as she mounted the railing he grabbed her.

Youthful Runaways Soon Tired.

Albert Flick, William Coleman and John George, of Wilkinsburg, two weeks ago tired of that staid old borough and ran away from home to see life in the big world outside. The first night the trio slept in a stable owned by Ben Brown, in Greensburg, and after being fed by Mrs. Brown they again started east, the next night sleeping in a spring wagon in Bolivar. Tiring of this kind of life they returned to Brown's, where they were again cared for. Yesterday morning Mr. Brown brought young Flick to his home in Wilkinsburg, but George refused to go along and is still in Greensburg. Flick is a son of John Flick, a painter, who resides in School street.

PRESIDENT PAYS TRIBUTE TO OFFICIALS WHO BROUGHT PEACE IN PHILIPPINES

honor not only from his state, but from the entire country—Gen. Luke E. Wright. We have a right to expect a high standard of manhood from Tennessee. It was one of the first two states created west of the Alleghany mountains, and it was in this state that the first self-governing community of American freemen was established upon waters flowing into the gulf.

The pioneers of Tennessee were among the earliest in that great westward march which thrust the nation's border across the continent to the Pacific, and it is eminently fitting that a son of Tennessee should now play so prominent a part in the further movement of expansion beyond the Pacific. There have been presidents of the United States for but 113 years, and during 16 of those years Tennesseans sat in the White house. Hardihood, and daring, and iron resolution are of right to be expected among the sons of a state which nurtured Andrew Jackson and Sam Houston; which sent into the American navy one of the most famous fighting admirals of all time, Farragut.

With Gallant Confederates.

There is another reason why our country should be glad that it was Gen. Wright who rendered this service. Gen. Wright fought with distinguished gallantry among the gallant men who served in the armies of the confederacy during the civil war. We need no proof of the completeness of our reunion as a people. When the war with Spain came the sons of the men who wore the blue and the sons of the men who wore the gray vied with one another in the effort to get into the ranks and face a foreign foe under the old flag that had been carried in triumph under Winfield Scott and Zachary Taylor and Andrew Jackson. It was my own good fortune to serve under that fearless fighter, old Joe Wheeler, a memory of which I shall always be proud.

But if we needed any proof of the unity of our interests it would have been afforded this very year by Gen. Wright, the ex-confederate, in his administration as acting governor of the Philippine Islands. Upon him during the months of summer rested a heavier burden of responsibility than upon any other public servant at that particular time; and not the least of his titles to our regard is the way in which he was able to work on terms of cordial good will with the head of the army, himself a man who had honored the blue uniform as Wright had honored the gray.

As Difficult as Important.

Gen. Wright's work has been as difficult as it was important. The events of the last four years have definitely decided whether we wish to or not we must hereafter play a great part in the world. We cannot escape facing the duties. We may shirk them if we are built of poor stuff, or we may take hold and do them if we are fit sons of our sires—but face them we must, whether we will or not. Our duty in the Philippine islands has simply been one of the duties that thus have come upon us. We are there, and we can no more haul down our flag and abandon the islands than we could now abandon Alaska.

Whether we are glad or sorry that events forced us to go there is aside from the question; the point is that, as the inevitable result of the war with Spain, we found ourselves in the Philippines and that we could not leave the islands without discredit. The islanders were wholly unfit to govern themselves, and if we had left there would have been a brief period of bloody chaos, and then some other nation would have stepped in to do the work which we had shirked. It cannot be too often repeated that there was no question that the work had to be done. All the question was, whether we would do it well or ill; and, thanks to the choice of men like Gov. Wright, it has been done well. The first and absolutely indispensable requisite was order—peace. The reign of lawless violence, of resistance to legitimate authority, the reign of anarchy, could no more be tolerated than it could be tolerated here in our own land.

The Army and Its Work.

The American flag stands for orderly liberty, and it stands for it abroad as it stands for it at home. The task of our soldiers was to restore and maintain order in the islands. The army had the task to do, and it did it well and thoroughly. The fullest and heartiest praise belongs to our soldiers who in the Philippines brought to a triumphant conclusion a war, small indeed compared to the gigantic struggle in which the older men whom I am addressing took part in the earlier 60s, but inconceivably harassing and difficult, because it was waged amid the pathless jungles of great tropic islands and against a foe very elusive, very treacherous, and often inconceivably cruel both toward our men and toward the peace-loving Filipinos who gladly welcomed our advent. The soldiers included both regulars and volunteers, men from the north, the south, the east and the west, men from Pennsylvania and from Tennessee, no less than men from the Rocky mountains and the Pacific slope—and to all alike we give honor, for they acted as American soldiers should.

Cruelties were committed here and there. The fact that they were committed under well-nigh intolerable provocation affords no excuse for such cruelties, nor can we admit as justification that they were retaliatory in kind. Every effort has been made to detect and punish the wrongdoers and the wrongdoing itself has been completely stopped. But these misdeeds were exceptional, and their occurrence in no wise alters the fact that the American army in the Philippines showed as a whole not only splendid soldierly qualities but a high order of humanity in dealing with their foes.

A hundred thousand of our troops went to the Philippines. Among them were some who offended against the right. Well, are we altogether immaculate at home? I think not. I ask for no special consideration to be shown our friends and kinsmen, our sons and brothers, who during three years so well upheld the national honor in the Philippines. I ask merely that we do the same equal justice to the soldier who went abroad and faced death and lived hard as we show to his fellow who stayed at home and lived easily and in comfort; and if we show that equal justice we will doff our hats to the man who has put the whole country under obligations by the victory he helped to win in the Philippines.

But the soldier's work as a soldier was not the larger part of what he did. When once the outbreak was over in any place, then began the work of establishing civil administration.

Here, too, the soldier did his part, for the work of preparing for the civil authority was often done by the officers and men of the regular army, and well done, too. Then the real work of building up a system of self-government for the people who had become our wards was begun, under the auspices of the Philippine commission. Judge Taft being made governor, and I having had the honor myself to appoint Gen. Wright as vice governor. During the critical period when the insurrection was ending and the time was one of transition between a state of war and a state of peace, at the time that I issued a proclamation declaring that the state of war was over and that the civil government was now in complete command, Gen. Wright served as governor of the archipelago. The progress of the islands both in material well-being and as regards order and justice under the administration of Gov. Wright and his colleagues has been astounding.

Must Make Haste Slowly.

There is no question as to our not having gone far enough and fast enough in granting self-government to the Filipinos; the only possible danger has been lest we should go faster and farther than was in the interest of the Filipinos themselves. Each Filipino at the present day is guaranteed his life, his liberty, and the chance to pursue happiness as he wishes, so long as he does not harm his fellows in a way which the islands have never known before during all their recorded history. There are bands of ladrones, of brigands, still in existence. Now and then they may show sporadic increase. This will be due occasionally to disaffection with some of the things that our government does which are best—for example, the effort to quarantine against the plague and to enforce necessary sanitary precautions, gently and tactfully though it was made, produced violent hostility among some of the more ignorant natives.

Again, a disease like the cattle plague may cause in some given province such want that a part of the inhabitants revert to their ancient habit of brigandage. But the islands have never been as orderly, as peaceful, or as prosperous as now; and in no other oriental country, whether ruled by Asiatics or Europeans, is there anything approaching to the amount of individual liberty and of self-government which our rule has brought to the Filipinos.

The nation owes a great debt to the people through whom this splendid work for civilization has been achieved, and therefore on behalf of the nation I have come here tonight to thank in your presence your fellow-townsman, because he has helped us materially to add a new page to the honor roll of American history. Gen. Wright, I greet you, and I wish you well.

At midnight the presidential party left for Washington over the Southern railroad. The train will reach Washington at 6 o'clock Friday morning.

SEPARATE UNION NOT DESIRABLE

Anthracite Miners Must Stick With Organization in Bituminous Coal Fields.

MITCHELL IS RELIEVED

Dr. Peter Roberts Takes Stand in Behalf of Contention of Strikers—Has Studied Question and Has Book on Subject.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SCRANTON, PA., Nov. 19.—After being on the stand for four and a half days President Mitchell of the Miners' union completed his testimony at noon today before the anthracite strike commission. He was followed on the witness stand by the Rev. Peter Roberts, D. D., of Mahanoy City, a Congregational minister, who has studied the anthracite coal industry and has written a book on the subject. He was still on the stand when the commission adjourned for the day.

One of the most important things brought out during the cross-examination of President Mitchell today was his emphatic declaration that the miners were opposed to separating the bituminous miners from the anthracite workers, thus creating two organizations. "It would not be possible or desirable. The anthracite mine workers have had independent organizations in the past. They have had several. They have gone and the men do not want any more of their organizations to go the same way."

Non-Union Men Represented.

The 2,000 non-union men who remained at work during the strike were made a party to the arbitration plan today by their counsel agreeing to make public the names of the men who petitioned the commission.

In the course of his examination by Mr. Darrow in the afternoon the Rev. Dr. Roberts furnished statistics showing that the anthracite fields covered 480 square miles. Out of a total population of 650,000 people he said that 450,000 were directly dependent on the mines.

Answering questions by Mr. Wolverton, Dr. Roberts said there were four methods of payment in the anthracite region, by the car, by weights, by the yard and by the day. The wages paid are far from uniform, he said, and he then went on to describe the changes which had been made in the size of the cars from 72 cubic feet until they now vary from 80 to 92 feet.

Controversy is Not New.

"Has the question of mining and being paid by the car been a source of vexation and trouble and dissatisfaction to the miner?" Mr. Darrow asked.

The witness answered that it was one of the complaints that have existed since 1850. The first strike, in 1868, he said, was on a demand for an eight-hour day.

Answering a question by Commissioner Watkins, Dr. Roberts said there was an effort made by the individual operators to import cheap labor into the anthracite fields.

"It was done," said he, "through ship agents who got men in New York to watch the vessels coming in and turned the current of immigration—that is, the Slav immigrants—into the coal fields."

The witness declared that a miner's occupation is more risky than in any other large industry; that there were more deaths in the mines than on the railroads, but fewer accidents.

Union Talk Saloons.

"Have you noticed the effect of saloons on miners?" was the next question.

"The number of saloons in Schuylkill county have decreased," was the reply, "and the consensus of opinion is that it is due largely to the miners' union."

He said the social worth and manliness and individuality of the Slav had been greatly increased through the Miners' union.

"Do you know what was the result of the strike of 1900?"

"It decidedly improved conditions by giving 10 per cent advance."

"Where did you receive the information you have in this book?" Mr. Wolverton asked, after reading several passages in it, "from Mr. Mitchell?"

"I did not know Mr. Mitchell personally. Never spoke a word with him until about three weeks ago."

In Case of Fire Save the Piano

This rather startling headline is justified here because of the fact that Eugene Zimmerman, better known as "Zim," the famous cartoonist of Judge, issued such an order to the servants of his household as soon as he became the owner of an A. B. Chase piano. Mr. Zimmerman's letter to the A. B. Chase Company is appended.

New York, November 10, 1902.

A. B. Chase & Co.,
Norwalk, Ohio.

Gentlemen:—

While I was looking over the Musical Courier extra today, I ran across the enclosed advertisement which prompts me to write this letter.

Fifteen years ago the Judge Publishing Company presented to me, as a wedding gift, an A. B. Chase upright piano. Its tone is as sweet and clear today as on the day it was manufactured. Fifteen years' association with my A. B. Chase is sufficient to assure me that no better instrument is made, and I have given orders that "In case of fire save the piano."

Yours sincerely,
EUGENE ZIMMERMAN,
"Zim" of the Judge.

It is such unsolicited testimonials as the foregoing that show conclusively the leadership of the A. B. Chase. It is the piano of today—the embodiment of all that is up-to-date in the manufacture of pianos. Unlike some instruments, the A. B. Chase is not obliged to rest upon a reputation made a half century ago. On the contrary, its fame rests on present achievements and is sustained by superior merit.

If you visit Hamilton's old reliable music house you will see the most notable array of pianos ever displayed in this city. The most famous makes are here and their names are familiar to music lovers throughout the world. In a word they are the piano aristocracy of the world. Conspicuous among them are the A. B. Chase grands and uprights. They are the acknowledged leaders. But other great favorites are the J. & C. Fischer, Schumann, Smith & Barnes and Hamilton pianos. The range of choice is such that whether you wish an inexpensive piano or the most elegant instrument made, you are able here to get the best possible value for your money.

You will also be interested in our splendid display of Angelus Piano Players. The superiority of the Angelus to all other piano players requires no comment here. But we wish to call your attention to this particular display because of the especially fine cases shown, which make them particularly appropriate as gifts.

ONE ROBBER IS DEAD AND ANOTHER IN JAIL

Posses Searching for Third Man Who Helped Hold Up Train in Colorado.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

TRINIDAD, COL., Nov. 19.—The Colorado & Southern train robber, who was shot by Express Messenger Shiber, during the attempt to rob his car last night, was found near the scene of the attempted hold-up this morning, with a bullet hole through his stomach. He died a short time afterward. Letters on his person led to his identification as A. E. Hudson, a coal miner.

Alexander Clark, supposed to be one of the gang, was arrested this afternoon.

Mrs. Hudson, wife of the dead robber, is locked up in the county jail. She said her husband, accompanied by Alexander Clark, started on a hunting trip yesterday. The gun which Hudson used was found under the mattress of a bed in her house, and she finally admitted it had been brought to the house about 1 o'clock this morning by Guy L. LaCroix. Posses are now scouring the country in search of LaCroix.

REMINGTON WILL NOT SAY

Positively Denies That He Declared His Brother Was Murdered. Still Investigating.

Edward P. Remington, whose brother, Robert Reading Remington, was either murdered or committed suicide in Newport's most exclusive club, returned to Pittsburgh from Williamsport yesterday morning. He denied that he had said his brother had been murdered. He said that he was not sure but that the investigation is being continued.

Mr. Remington said that facts upon which positive opinion might be based are lacking. He has placed the entire matter in the hands of an attorney, and did not care to speak about it without consulting him.

Mr. Remington took occasion to score the Rhode Island authorities. "The actions of the officials after by brother's death," he said, "were not as they would have been in Pennsylvania. There was no autopsy, no inquest or examination of any kind except that made by the medical examiner, Dr. Henry Ecroid. I have talked to Dr. Ecroid since the tragedy and he told me himself that it was an hour and a half after my brother was dead before he was on the scene. Dr. Ecroid was but a few steps away from the club at the time."

Actor Knocks Out His Property Man, Who Has Been With Him for 13 Years, in Petty Quarrel.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Richard Mansfield, the actor, and his chief property man, Thomas J. Yore, fought behind the scenes at the Grand opera house last night during the third act, according to Yore's story, Yore being punished, but not severely. Since the occurrence he has spent his time chiefly in bed, nursing several sore spots, and making occasional visits to law offices.

There is talk of an assault and battery warrant being issued, also the filing of a suit for damages. Lying in bed, Yore told a reporter he had intended getting a warrant for Mansfield.

"But it's best to go slow," he said. "So far as I know, I am no longer a member of the Mansfield company."

According to Yore's story, Mansfield was out of humor because he said his nephew, Alfred Mansfield, drew the curtain of the tent used in the third act aside three times instead of twice. Yore says he had to intercede or Mansfield would have struck his nephew. Mansfield also reprimanded Yore, he says, for striking the bell denoting midnight too rapidly. Yore has been connected with Mansfield for 13 years.

DREYFUSS NOT FIGHTING.

Returns to City and Says He is Waiting for American to Move First.

President Barney Dreyfuss and Secretary Harry Pulliam of the Pittsburgh ball club arrived in the city yesterday morning from Cincinnati, where Dreyfuss had been conferring with President Herrmann in regard to next season's schedule. President Dreyfuss denied that his visit to Chicago had any reference to baseball, and answered that he would make no move to fight the American until it was actually here, when the struggle would be for patronage at the games. Said the bland Pulliam: "I have by no means been convinced that the American intends seriously putting a team here. The league certainly knows there is not room for two high-class teams, and we certainly have one here now. They know that we will fight them for the patronage and with a two-time winner and prosperous times, we could never be better fixed for a battle. As to the rumors of an understanding, neither league has been hit hard enough yet for compromise."

GOMPERS IS WINNING

Report on Investigation of the Charges Filed Against Him Will Be Made Today—Shaffer Gives His Testimony.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 19.—The special committee appointed to consider the charges made by President Shaffer, of the Amalgamated Association of Steel, Iron and Tin Workers, against President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, will report tomorrow.

As an investigation it will terminate in the exoneration of President Gompers, and as a sensation it will probably wind up in the wet firecracker class. Mr. Shaffer has not only failed to substantiate his charges, but a member of the committee is authority for the statement that he has never made any, to that body, at least. He has appeared before the committee and when he came away, declared he had presented his charges. The committee says he did not formulate them. In the absence of direct accusation there can be but one end in the investigation.

The convention today wrestled with the subject of the autonomy of trades councils, and the matter was not exhausted when the adjournment was taken at 6 o'clock. Floods of oratory were poured out, but nothing was settled definitely.

The chief fight of the day came in the old struggle between the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners and the Amalgamated Association of Carpenters. The former organization asked for the revocation of the charter of the latter, because of alleged practices contrary to the interests of the trade union movement, its avowed object being to force the other organization into its own ranks.

After several hours of debate the matter was referred to a commission of 11, 5 from each organization and an umpire to be mutually selected. The commission is to meet on or before March 1, 1903, and endeavor to bring about an amalgamation of the two organizations. No promise was made, however, by either organization that the amalgamation will be made. All hostilities are to cease pending the meeting of the commission.

The application of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners for the revocation of the charter of the Amalgamated Woodworkers on similar grounds was laid over until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. It is likely that an agreement will be reached similar to that in the first case. The faction in the convention which is opposed to the re-election of President Gompers, as yet has been unable to fix upon a rival candidate. Vice President James Duncan has refused to commit himself in either direction, and James Lynch of the Typographical union, is now spoken of as a candidate.

MEXICAN MURDERERS ARE SHOT TO DEATH

Executed on Spot Where They Killed an Englishman and Robbed Him.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 19.—On the spot where, two years ago, they murdered Robert Remmet, an Englishman, three Mexicans were shot to death today. Their nine accomplices were sent to prison for long terms.

In June, 1901, Robert Remmet, an Englishman, and the manager of mines near Zacualpan, in the state of Mexico, was killed in his own house by a band of robbers, who knew that he and his wife, with a considerable amount of money and jewels, intended to depart next day for England. The band went to Remmet's house, which was in a solitary place, and found the Englishman in bed. He heard the noise and told his wife to hide her jewels. He then admitted the men and showed them a box containing his money. The robbers took the money and shot him dead in the presence of his wife.

On pain of immediate death, Mrs. Remmet gave up her jewels. The men were about to kill Mrs. Remmet, but were frightened away and she escaped and hid in the woods until morning.

EXTRA SESSION ON THE TRUSTS

It Is Regarded as Likely If the Expiring Congress Fails to Act on Question.

DIFFICULTIES IN PATH

Proposed Plan Would Enable Undivided Attention to Be Given to That One Subject—Congress Better Fitted for Legislation.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
616 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.

Among the best informed men there is much doubt that there will be any trust legislation at the coming session of congress. It is known that the president will recommend the amendment of the Sherman anti-trust law to further strengthen it and to give the attorney general power to effectually prevent action in restraint of trade on the part of some great corporations; but there are two difficulties in the way of prompt action.

One is the desire of so many members of both houses to be heard on the subject, if for no other purpose than to have their views placed on record; and the other will be the difficulty in having an agreement as to the exact form of the proposed amendment.

There is little doubt that an administration measure might be put through the house very promptly; but there will be no hurry in securing its enactment in the senate. There will be a full debate, which cannot be hurried. In both houses the question will have to be gone over in committee. A matter of such great importance doubtless will be before the senate committee on judiciary, of which Senator Hoar is chairman, for considerable time.

Since the president has been so pronounced in advocating such legislation, an extra session is regarded as likely. There is considerable sentiment in favor of considering this question in an extra session. It is claimed that the Fifty-eighth congress, coming direct from the people after the discussion of the question, is the proper one to act, and it is also believed by many that there would be advantage in having the whole matter gone over in a session called for that purpose, and for nothing else.

Although no official of the department of justice will make any statement on the subject, it is well understood that Attorney General Knox is prepared to check any movement which the beef packers of Chicago may make toward forming a new combination of interests. It is believed by many persons that any attempt on the part of the packers to effect in a legal way the ends which they were last summer enjoined from effecting would meet with a charge of contempt of court.

Last May the United States circuit court for the northern district of Illinois granted an injunction against the beef packers who were charged by the government with being engaged in practices in violation of law. It is the belief of certain officials of the department of justice that the packers would lay themselves liable to a charge of contempt of court should they attempt at this stage to effect an organization whose purpose is to legalize the very practices which, under the Illinois decision they are prohibited from carrying on.

FAYETTE BOY'S SUCCESS.

Assistant Adjt.-Gen. Johnston Resigns to Execute Will of His Father-in-Law, Vandergrift.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Lieut. Col. John A. Johnston, assistant adjutant general, has resigned from the army, to take effect February 1, 1903. The resignation has been accepted by Secretary Root, and Col. Johnston has been granted a leave of absence until that date.

Col. Johnston was appointed a cadet at the military academy in 1875 from Fayette county, Pennsylvania. He served in the cavalry until 1898, when he was appointed to the adjutant general's corps. Col. Johnston recently returned from Europe, where he went as aid of Gen. Corbin on his visit to the Philippines last winter.

Col. Johnston has been stationed in this city for many years in important capacities, and has made a favorable impression on all the citizens of the district with whom he has come in contact. Because of his great skill in the handling and movement of troops, he was usually selected to arrange the details of all parades in this city in which regular troops took part, on such occasions as the inauguration of a president and the dedication of a national statue. His last service in that capacity was on the occasion of the obsequies of Rear Admiral Sampson.

His resignation from the army is due to the extensive private interests devolving upon him as the executor of the will of his father-in-law, Mr. Vandergrift of Pennsylvania, a capitalist with large interests in Standard Oil, mines and lands. Although Col. Johnston will have his office in Pittsburgh, he and Mrs. Johnston will make their home in Washington during the winter months.

BIG CANNON CLAIMS.

They Say They Have 16 More Votes Than Necessary to Elect, 88 of Which Are Pledged to Him.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Representative Cannon's friends see so many delegations joining in the stampede begun by Mr. Babcock that they are now claiming 120 votes for their candidate for speaker, or 16 more than the necessary number. They say that 88 votes are pledged, and that enough more are known to be favorable to Mr. Cannon to bring the number up to 120 or over.

Only one western state, California, is put down in the list of supposedly unfavorable delegations.

The states now admitted to be against Mr. Cannon, besides the five votes of California, are: Maine, 4; New Jersey, 7; New York, 20; Ohio, 17; Pennsylvania, 28; Rhode Island, 1; West Virginia, 5; a total of 87. These votes are said to represent anti-tariff revision sentiment.

WIRELESS MESSAGES ACROSS THE ATLANTIC

Rumor Says the First from England to Nova Scotia Has Been Received.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NORTH SYDNEY, N. S., Nov. 19.—The beginning of communication between the new and the old world by means of Marconi's wonderful invention may now be announced without the slightest fear of contradiction. The world now has the inventor's own statement that such is the case.

The actual degree of development, however, to which trans-Atlantic communication has yet attained, must still for a while remain uncertain. A persistent rumor is current here that not only were signals, if not messages, received by the Carlo Alberto while in Sydney harbor, but that today the first message from the Poldhu, Cornwall station, was flashed across the waters of the Atlantic to the Cape Breton station on Table Head.

Mr. Marconi as yet refuses either to confirm or deny this report, but as for some reason he adopted a similar course with respect to the messages received by the warship until the Italian government had been officially notified and given an opportunity to make the first announcement, it is generally supposed that the rumor is not without foundation.

DR. KING ELECTED.

Is Chosen President of Oberlin College to Succeed the Late Dr. Barrows.

OBERLIN, O., Nov. 19.—At the meeting of the board of trustees of Oberlin college today Dr. Henry Churchill King was elected to the presidency of that institution to succeed Dr. John Henry Barrows, deceased.

Dr. King was born in Hillsdale, Mich., September 18, 1858. Most of his college experience has been connected with the institution of which he is now president. In 1879 he received from Oberlin the degree of bachelor of arts. In 1883 Harvard gave him the degree of doctor of divinity. Two years were spent in study at Harvard.

For another two years Dr. King was a student at Berlin. He was made dean of Oberlin in 1891, declining the presidency of the Chicago Theological seminary to take the place.

Threw the Wrong Can.

Ralph Tomey, Harry Kistler and Mark McLaughlin, three Glenfield boys, were seriously injured yesterday by the explosion of a can of gasoline. The boys had built a fire and were throwing corked bottles into the flames to hear them break. When their supply of bottles was exhausted they found a can of gasoline in a barn nearby and threw it into the fire. An explosion followed immediately and all were caught by the bits of flying tin. Dr. P. Shaner, who is attending them, says all the boys will recover.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1902.

FOURTEEN PAGES.

No one supposed the railroads were advancing wages from philanthropic motives, but the public had not expected the popular action would be made the immediate occasion for a general advance of freight charges. It was believed the tremendous business being handled at present rates was profitable enough to justify the 10 per cent increase to overworked employes, so the generosity of the rail managers was loudly applauded. It appears, however, the public is expected to pay the bill in the shape of a little added cost upon everything, and a correspondent whose communication appears in another column, suggests a reservation of bouquets on the part of the people to be thrown to themselves.

It cannot be determined definitely until the new tariff sheets are issued whether all of the 10 per cent is to be paid by shippers or whether they are to pay more than the aggregate increase in wages or less. If they are expected to pay more there will be just cause for complaint and room for vigorous protest. If the shippers are required to pay only half of the voluntary advance in wages there will be a little glory left for the railroad managers. In any event they have adopted a policy good for themselves, as the increase in the pay rolls has modified the dissatisfaction that had been growing among the men. On a fair division the prosperous shippers will have no cause to object, because they are getting higher prices for their product and can afford something toward meeting the higher cost of living of the men engaged in the transportation business.

As a matter of fact Pittsburgh shippers are more concerned about getting movement than about rates at the present time. If the increase in railroad men's wages and the advance in freight rates will do anything to raise the blockade, the shippers of this region will be pleased. It would be taking an unfair advantage of their necessities for the railroads to ask them to bear all of the 10 per cent increase in wages or more, but they might overlook the injustice if an end was put to the congestion. As matters stand there is imminent danger that great industrial works will be shut down on account of inability to obtain raw materials. Such a suspension would cost the Pittsburgh district more than an additional charge upon the tonnage, though it would not be creditable to the railroads to put up the tariff simply because the traffic can bear it. Unfortunately there appears to be little connection between the proposed advance in rates and the prospect of getting a better movement of cars.

Inspection of the route of the Pennsylvania cut-off from East Liberty to Brilliant brought forth at least one suggestion of a proper amendment, namely, that all damages to property from the construction of the railroad or the changes in grade of streets rendered necessary by it shall be borne by the railroad company. That clause should be written large in every one of the pending railroad ordinances. Damages of whatever nature resulting directly from the construction of the railroad lines must be paid by the railroad companies. The city is doing quite enough for the cause by granting valuable privileges, making changes of street grades and the like. The time passed long ago when it would have been reasonable to expect the city of Pittsburgh to assume any share of the expense of building railroads to give them access to the largest tonnage in the world. This argument applies emphatically to the ordinance for the elevated railroad on Duquesne way, in which there is a provision to put upon the city damages resulting from the proposed change of grade of the street. The city has no right to pay anything there, but is entitled to compensation for the grants to be made.

The increase of salary voted by the American Federation of Labor to their president and secretary is a sign of liberal progress in trades union management. It is true economy to pay well for good work, and when men are found capable of managing wisely the interests of labor it is sound policy and cheap in the end to pay them well for it. The credit of labor unions has greatly improved of late years, due to the growing respect shown for contracts, and this is largely to be attributed to the efforts of men like Gompers and Mitchell. To gain business results business methods must be employed, and it is evidence of sound sense when conservative business men are put at the head of affairs instead of fiery rhetoricians. The bane of labor is the sympathetic strike, and the discountenance of this, now characteristic of eminent labor leaders, shows their practical sagacity. If the anthracite strike had produced sympathetic strikes in the bituminous field it would have broken down from its own weight.

President Mitchell is being pressed hard upon cross-examination as to acts of violence against non-union men. Mr. Mitchell made the important statement that "some men may have been deterred from going to work because of violence, but the strike itself lost more in public opinion through violence by reason of that than it could possibly gain." This is absolutely true, and hence as a rule the outbreak of riot is generally the mark of the failure of a strike. So it would have been in the anthracite region had it not been for the fact that President Mitchell's attitude to some extent affected public opinion on this point. It was believed that he was sincerely trying to restrain disorder. Moreover, the attitude of the coal operators in refusing all negotiation was so irrational as to increase public opinion so that other features of the case hardly received consideration.

Sir John Mosely and his British workmen are expected to arrive in Pittsburgh today. Their object is to observe the conditions of industry in this country with a view to copying what they find to be good. Mr. Mosely believes the restrictive policies of the trades unions in England are very detrimental to British industrial progress and he thought the best way to convince them of their folly would be to bring a score or so of representative British workmen to this country to see for themselves the advantages of having unions and employers work together to secure and hold markets for their product. Pittsburgh is glad to welcome the party and will give its members every opportunity to see industry at its best. Labor saving machinery has reached its highest development in this busy district, yet the British workmen may readily see the results obtained are largely due to the energy and intelligence of the men behind the machines. They will assuredly carry home with them a lasting impression of the magnitude of American works, for those of Pittsburgh are larger than similar plants in Great Britain, but they will be better paid for their journey if they can be imbued with American methods.

A DIPLOMATIC TANGLE.

The kaiser's visit to England has stirred up a great deal of discussion over his Bagdad railway scheme, to promote which is believed to be his main object at present. Russia also is keenly interested in the matter, and its bearing upon international politics is such that doubtless all the diplomatic chancelleries in Europe are watching with solicitude the incidents of the kaiser's visit.

This Bagdad railway scheme proposes a railroad short cut to the middle east by a line from Constantinople through Asia Minor to the Persian gulf. Russia is also moving toward the Persian gulf as an ocean terminus for her railroad system, which at present has no maritime outlet between the Baltic sea and the Pacific ocean. Germany's rival project has excited deep resentment in Russia, and the advantages which will be derived by the power which establishes its position on the Persian gulf are such as to concern the entire civilized world. A strong position there would flank the Suez route, in which England is vitally interested, and she has forcibly interfered to prevent Turkish troops from occupying a coast strip desired by the porte as part of the railroad concession granted to Germany.

Everyone recognizes that it is desirable in the general interests of civilization that railways shall be built throughout the east and that they shall connect ocean ports, but the question of military advantage cannot be ignored. Public opinion in England seems to be divided, one party favoring an adjustment of interests with Russia and another party favoring Germany. Capt. Mahan, who ranks as an international authority on such matters, appears to consider that it is to England's best advantage to deal with Germany since England's position gives her a permanent flanking position upon all German commerce, so that it would not be possible for Germany to exert any pressure from a Persian gulf position to which England could not effectively retaliate. But the pro-Russian party argues that when Russia comes to the sea she puts herself where England can get at her, and thus the realization of her ambitions in the Persian gulf would cause her to exercise moderation and forbearance toward British interests in the far east.

What will be the final outcome of the matter is at present an unsolvable mystery. Meanwhile shrewd diplomatists are at work striving to extract every possible advantage from every stage of the game. Mere rumor or suspicion as to the policy of one nation is enough sometimes to affect the conduct of other nations when their interests are so mixed up as in Europe. Such perplexities affect the United States less than any other great power, but we cannot hope to escape them altogether, and we have to keep prepared for possible contingencies.

CONGESTION ELSEWHERE.

Without considering what reason the railroad managers would be likely to make if formally and seriously asked to adopt the suggestion of a local shipper that they temporarily abandon eastbound shipments from Chicago long enough to cure the local situation, the remedy proposed makes it pertinent to inquire if conditions at Chicago and beyond are such that two of the great trunk lines would be justified (taking no account of the sacrifice to themselves) in leaving shippers of that region to the ability of the other lines to care for their interests. As it is declared by the shipper who makes the suggestion that the Chicago lines which do not serve Pittsburgh are able to handle the freight business out of Chicago without the help of the lines on which Pittsburgh depends, confirmation of this declaration would inspire a hope that the western situation is clearing to such a degree as to favorably influence the local situation without an abandonment of Chicago business by the Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio railroads.

Some encouragement that western conditions have really improved is found in a letter from Chicago published on Monday evening in the New York Commercial Advertiser, but unfortunately, there is also evidence that the improvement is merely a lull. This letter opens with this broad and cheerful statement:

> The western railroad situation is more satisfactory today than for weeks past. While it is true that the railroads—one and all—have more business than they can handle expeditiously, there is a change for the better in the car situation. Nearly all the roads are still short of cars, but where they were short thousands a fortnight ago this has been reduced to hundreds in many cases.
>
> If this declaration stood alone without qualification it would indicate that the clouds are lifting. But throughout the article there are important qualifications and statements that nurse a fear that the seemingly hopeful condition is only temporary. For instance, a Rock Island official who is made to say that "conditions are improving, in the next breath declares:
>
> Business is still wonderfully large in all directions, with no let-up in sight. By the middle of December corn will commence to move in large volume, and from that time through the winter we may have a serious car shortage.
>
> An official of the Burlington road is quoted:
>
> The great west is still taking everything in large volume, and from the reports we get the needs are large and steadily growing. We could use in the neighborhood of 2,000 more box cars if we had them, notwithstanding we are getting more service out of an enlarged equipment than ever before.
>
> These statements are supplemented by trade reports that tell us receipts of wheat at primary markets show a falling off, "the reasons being the scarcity of cars and the unfavorable weather." The falling off is proven in the record that last week the receipts "were 8,536,000 bushels of wheat and 2,295,000 bushels corn, a total of 10,831,000 bushels for both, compared with 12,058,000 bushels the previous week." Following up this line, such trade journals as the Modern Miller, the Cincinnati Price Current and the Orange Judd Farmer complain of a car shortage in the winter wheat country, and unite in saying that with a plentiful supply of cars and engines the wheat receipts would show much larger proportions. All these things show the grain blockade with which the Chicago lines must grapple (including those that serve Pittsburgh) to be as real as the local congestion, with present signs of improvement that we are not encouraged to hope will continue. It is not yet apparent, therefore, that relief can be expected from a decrease of the freight movement, or that a policy of abandonment that would aggravate conditions there, would be justifiable. The remedy for the Pittsburgh situation must be found in local effort to move freight and in active co-operation of local shippers and receivers of freight with railroad officials on lines that have been outlined by the latter. It is apparent that the railroads all over the country lack sufficient equipment to properly handle the business offered, and it is only by the most efficient handling of motive power and rolling stock that worse conditions can be avoided.

THE LEAKING RESERVOIR.

A simple test is proposed to be applied to the new Highland reservoir to set at rest the claim of Director McCandless that the water going into Haight ravine is from springs. It is that the streams be marked, the basin drained and that then note be taken whether the streams remain. If they continue to flow the director and the contractor will be vindicated. This test is similar in nature to the one proposed by common council, viz: to fill the basin and note results, except that the latter suggestion involves no danger of causing a flood on the hillside and possible inconvenience to the inhabitants of the locality.

Director McCandless, however, has announced his intention to ignore the resolutions of common council, so it is probable he will not be eager to accept the unofficial suggestion. He is also quoted as saying the reservoir contractors have been released from penalties for delay, provided in the original contract, so he cannot assist the controller to collect by disapproving the work. The director may have another guess. If so he will not be the first man who has been able to come nearer the facts on the second trial. It is preposterous to assume that because a public official is more disposed to favor a contractor than to protect the public interest that there is no remedy.

It is true that responsibility for public works and public service rests upon the recorder and his administrative agents. The supreme court of the state has said that under certain circumstances there is no appeal from the decrees of the recorder and his heads of departments. These facts make it of the utmost importance that the recorder shall always be of that type of man who can be trusted to serve the public interest and who is capable of dealing intelligently with any question that may arise. But it does not follow that in the face of evidence, such as is afforded by the Highland reservoir leaks, that the director of the department of public works, or even the recorder himself, can force full payment for defective work despite public protest. The reservoir is leaking at a lively rate and it ought not to be paid for as a completed work until it is made to hold water.

A STRENUOUS DAY.

Memphis gave President Roosevelt as strenuous a time as he could have cared for yesterday. The fact that his reception was shared by Gen. Luke E. Wright, assistant governor of the Philippines, did not detract from its comprehensiveness or enthusiasm. Gen. Wright is very popular in Memphis, his old home, and the good people of the city decided that what was good for him would be good for the president, too, so they filled the day and evening with receptions and banquets.

Gen. Wright's return home furnished the text for the president's speeches. He paid tribute to the faithful patriots who have given their service to their country in the far-off islands of the Philippine archipelago and he discussed the policy and duty of the United States toward the people of those lands. His views are those of the late President McKinley and he is as firm as the martyr in the resolve to meet the responsibilities imposed and to discharge the duty of the nation to its island possessions.

Replying to a correspondent who writes from West Brownsville: With official returns reported from every county in the state Pennypacker's plurality over Pattison is 142,430. Figures on Pennypacker's majority over all are not at hand, but it is considerably less than his plurality over Pattison. The figures may be changed slightly by the final computation by the official committee authorized by law.

Velvet is said to be a favorite fabric for gowns at the New York horse show. Incidentally it may be remembered that it requires considerable velvet in the way of income to indulge the fancy.

Room for Improvement.

From the Indianapolis News.

It is discouraging that none of the operators can see any justice in any of the miners' demands. They hold that the wages paid are ample, that the working day is none too long, that the method of weighing is fair, that there is no need for children to work—in short, that the conditions in the mines are all that they should be. On all these questions the commission will pass. We have only to say that if the situation is what it is said to be by the operators, they have been most cruelly slandered. We do not believe they have been slandered. There has been trouble in the anthracite region for many years, and in the past the men have suffered from the injustice and oppression of their employers. Doubtless the situation has improved. But there is probably a good deal of room for further improvement.

WHERE THE HORSE BEATS THE AUTO

Can Jump Over a Five-Foot Fence Without Inflicting Damage Upon Itself.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Nov. 19.

Among the many things that an automobile cannot do is to jump over a five-foot fence without damage to itself. When automobiles are improved to such a pitch that they can equal horses in this and many other particulars, there may not be any more horse shows. As it is, the horse has the better of the argument—particularly this week in New York. Today was the one chosen for much jumping of hunters, and the exercise, beginning early in the morning, was continued intermittently until late tonight. In the forenoon grooms tried possible competitors in the jumping contests, and it speaks well for the kind of horses raised in America that out of 42 horses tried 30 proved their right to be included in the exercises of this evening. There were no "mistakes." Those that thought they could not clear the six 5-foot hurdles, one after the other, simply stopped and did not try it. A few went over with their hind feet just grazing the top rail, but most of them lifted themselves over as clean as a whistle. There would have been more interest in the morning trials had the owners taken the saddle; but that was not to be, because one of the big attractions of the evening session was the jumping of the hunters with "gentlemen riders" on their backs. The attendance tonight was exceptionally brilliant. There is nothing that will draw a large horse show crowd more certainly than an exhibition of hurdle leaping by horses whose names are fairly well known and whose riders are more or less popular in society. As showing the risk a "gentleman rider" takes when he appears in a morning trial, F. Ambrose Clark on his thoroughbred, Copper King, moved a little in his saddle and was "gated." In other trials this young man, who is the son of Bishop Potter's present wife, made a splendid showing. All the mishaps of the morning were forgotten tonight, however, when the whole scene was resplendent with flying horses, perfectly dressed men and many thousands of spectators applauding everything done.

Miss Knox at the Horse Show.

One of the most admired of the many fashionable young women at the horse show tonight was Miss Rebecca Knox, daughter of the attorney general of the United States. Miss Knox is about to go to Japan for a tour of that country, and she is passing a few days in New York beforehand. She had not appeared at the horse show before this evening. She is well known in Washington and New York society and a great many friends exchanged a few words with her as she sat in a box watching the proceedings.

Nod Alternative of Handshake.

Here is another of those horse show things: It is the "Florodora nod." When one does not care to use the horse show handshake, described in this column yesterday, he can still be in the fashion by giving friends the nod. One authority gives directions as follows: You must raise the chin slightly, then give the head a quick, short nod, like that of the "pretty maidens" in "Florodora." At the same time, you smile as prettily as you can, but do not speak. When the "smart set" got to work on this nod tonight, all at once, they looked like a collection of automatic mandarins, notwithstanding that it was pronounced "charming" by more than one professional society censor.

Mrs. Molineux's Latest Word.

New Mrs. Molineux telegraphs from Sioux Falls to New York that she did not quarrel with Roland in the death house at Sing Sing. Well, who cares? Certainly not many New Yorkers, most of whom are sick of the whole thing.

Openwork Stockings Spoils a Match.

Openwork stockings are under a ban here. A Brooklyn minister preached a sermon against them on Sunday, and now, in Jersey City, a marriage has been broken off on account of them. It is said that a young couple went to the office of a justice of the peace to be married, when the prospective bride's shoe lace came untied. This led to the remark that she wore openwork stockings. Her fiance said he did not like them, and the young woman retorted that she would wear what she liked. There were a few more exchanges of repartee, and then the maiden walked off in a huff and the wedding did not take place. It may occur, however—when the young woman has changed her hose.

Casino Theater to be Improved.

Pittsburghers will be interested in the fact that the Casino theater is to undergo at last the long promised changes. The stage is to be made 28 feet wider and 18 feet higher than at present. In addition to these changes, the roof garden will be remodeled and laid with a fire-proof floor of iron and concrete. The Casino has always been a popular place of amusement with Pittsburghers, and in the old days, when Rudolph Aronson was producing comic opera there, Pittsburgh was always very largely represented on opening nights. The theater is still a favorite rendezvous for the gay set at night, and although the stage is absurdly small behind the scenes, it looks well enough from the front, and the public has known little of the inconveniences in the way of inadequate dressing rooms, suffered by all the performers, particularly the fragile and sensitive "show girls."

Mrs. Fiske's New Triumph.

Mrs. Fiske furnished the theatrical event of tonight. She appeared in her new drama, from the German of Paul Heyse, entitled "Mary of Magdala," at the Manhattan theater. There was a very large audience, and Mrs. Fiske certainly scored in the title role, as did Tyrone Powers as Judas.

Society Eschews Diamonds.

The horse show is not ablaze with jewelry, as it has been in former years. Even long chains are not often seen, and the bodice usually is without gold or precious stone ornamentation. Now and again you may see a woman with pearls in her ears, while brooches of dainty but not obtrusive design are generally seen; but no diamonds are to be noticed. The smart set leans more and more to plainness of apparel nowadays, but it is a new thing, indeed, to see them carry out the idea at the horse show.

Every Woman's Train a Broom.

A maiden who holds as precious the splendid costumes worn by fashionable women at the horse show thus bewailed herself to me this afternoon. The way that splintered, rough floor boardwalk at Madison Square garden is being swept daily and nightly by trains that are simply brooms is a caution to the frugal-minded. Even if a woman wanted to pick up her skirts, she couldn't really do it. No such masses of lace and ruffles are to be held in by one gloved hand. And though these models of form pretend to hold their confections, as a matter of fact chiffon and delicate white lace scrub along in a way that is simply heartbreaking."

Horse Show But a Drop in the Bucket.

The bred and born New Yorker, self-satisfied and good-humored, declares that a horse show or two in town makes no noticeable difference in the outward appearance of things. To quote one of the evening papers on this subject: "It would be quite possible for a stranger in New York not to know that a horse show was going on at the Garden. If he did not read the newspapers and did not have to find quarters at a hotel, and did not have to buy flowers, he might imagine that the city's condition was normal. If the horses were not on exhibition the shops would be just as bright, Broadway and Fifth avenue would be just as gay, and the elevated and surface cars would be just as uncomfortably crowded. All of which means that we are metropolitan in the truest sense of the word. All of the smaller places that are put out of gear by sudden demands on their facilities." While this may sound somewhat bumptious, it is not far from the truth, allowing for a little of the exaggeration of local pride. New York is a big place, and the fact is never more impressive than when an extra 10,000 strangers are here for a week.

After the Horse Show, the Opera.

No sooner will the horse show be over on Saturday night than society will arrange its feathers for the next important display. The opera will begin on Monday night. The Metropolitan opera house has been cleaned, painted and redecorated and all kinds of improvements have been made on the stage. Rehearsals have been in progress for a week and everything points to a magnificent opening, both before and behind the curtain. Among the box holders is Edward Thaw.

Hope for the Rail Birds.

Maurice Grau thinks that he will be able to let his "rail birds" perch in their accustomed places this winter. The attempt to do away with the standees at the Metropolitan has not settled the question, and Mr. Grau believes it will end in his favor. He wants the big crowd of persons who pay for standing room to have the privilege still, and certainly the preponderance of sentiment is with him. It all depends on the courts, however.

Pittsburgh Horseman's Aspirations.

E. E. Smathers, the Pittsburgh broker and horseman, has expressed his willingness to try his trotter, Queen Wilkes, on the New York speedway against C. Bohling's Kingmond, who won the fall championship series. Queen Wilkes, it will be remembered, won the spring champion ship.

The Parlor Match Question.

The proposition to prohibit the sale of parlor matches in the city is still causing a great deal of discussion. If the law is put in force on the 1st of January, as is intended, it will mean a great loss to several match manufacturers. Commissioner Sturgis, who received a committee of these gentlemen this afternoon to listen to their protest against the enforcing of the law, said that the object was to prevent women and children being burned to death by unsafe matches. At once all the committee insisted that parlor matches are safer than any other kind, and the commissioner adjourned the hearing till Friday before his visitors had an opportunity to sweep him off his feet in their vehemence.

Tribulations of an Election Deputy.

Only a man who can hold his own in the dirtiest kind of scrap should venture to act as a deputy for John McCullagh, superintendent of election. Lester Bennett, one of his deputies, is a big, husky fellow who strikes a hundred-pound blow from the shoulder and is not afraid of anything, but he fell in with a gang in the Bowery early this morning, and now he is in Bellevue hospital with a dislocated jaw and his face battered out of recognization. He was active in catching "floaters" at the polls on the East Side on election day, and the punching and kicking he received this morning was a slight recognition by some Tammany toughs of his official work. Bennett was shot nearly to death about a year ago. But he seems to like his job, for he was as busy as ever at this last election day, and means to keep at it as soon as he is discharged from the hospital.

Manhattan L in the Stock Market.

The rise in Manhattan today gave a jump to the stock market and there was a great deal of excitement in Wall street. All kinds of gossip was afloat, including the talk of a corner in Manhattan and the effect of the electric motive power on the road in general. Anything connected with the "L" is of more than stock market importance to New York, because it is an institution used by everybody and is regarded as the personal possession, more or less, of everyone that uses it habitually. There is a wide opinion that there may be some sensations in connection with the stock in a few days, of which the gossip of today is the precursor.

Rounding Up the Cattle Barons.

From the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Secretary Hitchcock will win the country's plaudits for the vigorous way in which he is enforcing the law against the cattle kings who have illegally fenced in tracts of the public domain. The cattlemen have been old offenders in this direction, and though the law has been put in operation against them in many cases, the culprits have frequently been able to dodge it. In the present instance there is very little chance for any of the transgressors to escape. Col. Mosby, the noted ex-confederate guerrilla, who has been actively engaged for the government on the Pacific slope in rounding up the depredators, is now operating in Nebraska, and he is putting in good work for the interior department. The west is especially interested in the enforcement of the laws against the individuals and trusts who have been using the government lands to enrich themselves and to impede settlers in building homes. Secretary Hitchcock has the country with him in this attack on the public landgrabbers.

John Mitchell's Ability.

From the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

If anybody was in doubt about John Mitchell's ability to present labor's side of the case to the strike commission when confronted with the able counsel retained by the operators, it seems that he may be at ease. It is apparent from the way the labor leader is holding his own when subjected to the most searching questions that he knows his case better than any lawyer could possibly learn it in a short time, and that he can handle it as well as any lawyer. The reports of the hearings show that the interests of labor will not suffer because of lack of ability in their counsel or from an inadequate presentation of their side of the controversy.

PERSONALS.

C. O. Malone of the Malone Stone Company, Cleveland, O., is at the Hotel Henry. "I am going to enjoy life for the next six months," he remarked, "and will leave this evening for Dunedine, Fla., to pass the winter in hunting and fishing. King fish and tarpon are now biting, and the sport is excellent. I expect William Dickson of Sewickley to join me in Dunedine, about the middle of December. William is a great fisherman and enjoys the sport as much as Senator Quay. Our business for the past year could not have been better, and our only trouble has been in getting cars to ship material. We have also experienced great trouble in getting our stone unloaded in Allegheny county. We have had cars 16 days on the road from Cleveland to Pittsburgh and when they arrived here we could not get them unloaded. The outlook for next year is excellent, as there will be many large buildings going up in all the leading cities."

Count and Countess L. Moltke Shutfeldz of Denmark, arrived in Pittsburgh from Chicago yesterday and registered at the Hotel Duquesne. Count Shutfeldz is interested in ore developments in Denmark. He said: "I am here to look into mining interests, while the countess is finding enjoyment in sightseeing. To me it has been a highly interesting trip, and promises to aid materially in the development of our mining interests in Denmark." The count and countess passed most of the day at the Carnegie steel works at Homestead.

The regular monthly meeting of the Pittsburgh Association of Credit Men was held yesterday afternoon, at the Hotel Henry. Mr. A. B. Wigley of the R. G. Dun Company, addressed the association on "Mercantile Service."

The Rev. Father Anthony Nathe, pastor of the Catholic church at Bally, Berks county, Pa., died yesterday, aged 58. He was formerly located in Ashland and Philadelphia.

Catherine Shock, an old resident of Sharpsburg, died last night at her home, No. 707 Butler street. She was in her 66th year. Her body will be taken to Spokane, Wash., for interment.

Miss Amanda J. Hart, aged 78, of Canonsburg, Pa., is dead at the home of her niece, Mrs. John D. Butler. She was a sister of Capt. David Hart of Canonsburg, and Samuel F. Hart of Hickory, and resided in Canonsburg the greater part of her life.

Dalzell and the Speakership.

From the Erie Dispatch.

Hon. John Dalzell has been a leader in the house. He has been elected nine times and was returned without opposition on Tuesday, so high in esteem did the people of his district hold him. He was a leading member of the last congress, holding places on important committees, and his advancement would be only deserved promotion. He will have the undivided support of the Republican members from Pennsylvania, including those elected on Citizens and fusion tickets, and a meeting of these congressmen-elect will be called shortly to indorse his candidacy. It is probable that the Ohio members will combine with those of this state in securing the election of Mr. Dalzell.

A Submerged Issue.

From the Indianapolis News.

The utter disappearance of the imperialism issue or question in the recent campaign was not the least of the marked characteristics of that peculiar political contest. However confused the contest, no question that had vitality failed of mention, while many that had not got more than their share of it. But imperialism—it was not even "conspicuous by its silence." It was simply unthought of. The fact is remarkable.

From the Chicago Record-Herald.

POLITICAL DRIFT.

Senator Burrows of Michigan, whose position on the senate finance committee gives his views special importance, favors delay in dealing with the tariff. In a recent interview he said:

"The president might call an extra session next spring, but in my judgment it would be well to let the matter go over till the spring of 1905, when with a new congress, called in special session, just as in 1897, and a new administration starting in, the subject could be approached to the best advantage. Meanwhile the country could discuss the subject and find out what it really wants. I do not look on the tariff commission proposal with great favor. There might be a congressional commission made up of members of both houses who had become recognized as tariff experts, but any commission composed of outsiders, particularly a permanent commission, would keep the whole question so stirred up as to be prejudicial to the best business interests of the country."

Commenting on the pending statehood bill, the Atlanta Constitution (Dem.), observes that New Mexico and Arizona are likely to be refused admission to the Union, while Oklahoma may fare better. "In the first place," it observes, "the raison d'etre for a territory requires a vast deal of specious explanation, but certain it is no territory was ever admitted into the Union without its partisan status cutting a paramount figure. The Republican party has owed its supremacy in the senate of the United States in a large measure to its practical politics in making states of territories that were reasonably safe to that party in an election. From the day Nevada was allowed to bring her 'rotten borough' into the Union, to the day Dakota was split in twain to swell the Republican representation in the senate by four, any territory that 'voted right' did not knock in vain upon the door of a Republican congress. Contrariwise, the Democratic party has been too guileless or slow of thought to seize such a partisan advantage.

The Washington Post notes that the committee on accounts was almost wiped out at the late election. Its chairman, vice chairman, four other members and its clerk heard of the dull thud of defeat. By virtue of these fortunes of war Congressman Hildebrant of Ohio, the junior Republican member of the committee and the only surviving Republican, will go to the head of the committee next congress.

The committee on accounts heads the list of house committees, and, while it is hard hit, is not the only one in which will appear great changes next congress. The committee on mines and mining comes next. It loses its chairman, Eddy of Minnesota, Connell of Pennsylvania, Sheldon of Michigan, Moody of Oregon, Glenn of Idaho, Edwards of Montana and Smith of Arizona. But of this number only Connell was defeated at the polls.

Congressman Mercer of Nebraska thinks that while Republican prosperity has killed Populism, there is a political trend in the cities that in

WILL TAKE THE WHOLE OUTPUT

Pennsylvania to Get All Cars Made by the Pressed Steel Car Company.

WILL SPEND MILLIONS.

New Yards and Equipment Planned on Unprecedented Scale—Consignees Will Be Asked to Remove Freight.

Beginning December 1 and continuing until June 1, the entire product of the Pressed Steel Car Company, over 100 cars a day, will be taken by the Pennsylvania system. Already part of the order of the Pennsylvania for 15,000 cars is being filled. This means an expense of $15,000,000, and the increase of the capacity of the Pennsylvania equipment by 750,000 tons.

This is one of the means by which the Pennsylvania plans to relieve the freight troubles of the Pittsburgh district. The orders for engines to move these cars have been given. Plans for additional facilities, in the way of yards and through tracks for these cars and engines are being made on a scale never before thought of by any railroad.

There is much reticence in regard to the detail of these plans. Accompanying their execution will be considerable acquisitions of real estate, and to name the localities, in which the work will be carried forward, would probably prove expensive on that account.

Consignees Are Blamed.

Blockades in the city freight yards, where goods are held in cars for unloading, is blamed by the railroad officials as due partly to the shortage of storage warehouses in Pittsburgh. For this reason, they look to the completion of the great warehouse project on the point for relief.

Merchants of all classes, it is said, who order goods by the carload often find they have no room to store the goods. Recourse must then be had to the cars on sidings for storage purposes and for days they stand awaiting unloading and starting a blockade.

The freight agents of the Pennsylvania were instructed by President Cassatt, when he was here, Tuesday, to secure if possible more co-operation from the consignees of freight in this matter. The railroad company realizes, however, that the consignees themselves often can secure no room for the goods.

An idea of the Pittsburgh situation, as seen from the outside, is contained in the interview of Roswell Miller, chairman of the board of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, when he said that the real cause of the delays in handling freight through from the west to the Atlantic seaboard is the trouble in and about Pittsburgh. The only Chicago-eastern lines via Pittsburgh are the Pennsylvania lines, the Panhandle and Ft. Wayne, and the Baltimore & Ohio.

Relief Not in Sight.

This remark by the western railroad official is in line with the suggestion in yesterday's Gazette that the Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio should for the time let go of the Chicago-seaboard business to the greatest degree practicable. Inasmuch as Chicago is connected with the Atlantic seaboard by several other lines and its tonnage is far less than that of the Pittsburgh district, the Pennsylvania could not be much the loser by the plan of clearing up Pittsburgh, and the other railroads could protect the Chicago interests.

Railroad officials hold out no hope for an immediate ending of the troublesome railroad situation. Nothing more than temporary relief is in sight, at the best for a year or more to come. As one of the Pennsylvania officials expressed it yesterday: "Millions of money could do nothing that would bring immediate relief in this congestion. The full capacity of the car and locomotive plants has been exhausted for over a year ahead. No rails can be had for delivery until late in next year, so that we would have to wait until that time to lay any more sidings or through tracks.

"If Mr. Carnegie came to Pittsburgh with his $300,000,000 and offered to devote it to improvement of these conditions, he could not spend the money on the work. All that can be done is being done, or will be done as soon as possible."

Smallpox Was Carried by Cats.

HUNTINGDON, PA., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Henry Shugarts, a victim of smallpox carried to his home by family cats that traveled to and from the dwelling of a neighbor where the disease existed, is dead in Walker township, seven miles from Huntingdon.

WORKERS FROM ENGLAND REACH PITTSBURGH TODAY.

The 23 delegates of trade organizations composing the British industrial commission will arrive in Pittsburgh this morning and will be entertained by labor leaders. The expense of the trip is borne by Alfred Mosely, who accompanies them.

ALFRED MOSELY.

The delegates will be met by General Organizer John Pierce of the Amalgamated association, a committee from the Building Trades Council and John Jarrett, head of the bureau of labor for the American Sheet Steel Company. The delegates will inspect the furnaces, foundries, steel mills and glass factories.

The English trades unions represented are engineers, tailors, boilermakers, shipwrights, ironfounders, iron and steel trades, blast furnacemen, cotton spinners, weavers, lithographers, printers, compositors, plasterers, bricklayers, carpenters, boot and shoe, furniture and leather workers, bookbinders and paper m[illegible]. The delegates represent the chief cities of England.

COMMISSIONER DURHAM HOME FROM FLORIDA

He Says Quay and Penrose Are Well, but Brings No Cabinet Intelligence.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Public Ledger Building, PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 19.

Insurance Commissioner Durham arrived home this morning. Since election his party has, with Senators Quay and Penrose, been resting at San Lucie, Fla.

Mr. Durham said he felt much improved, physically, by his rest. Quay and Penrose are also in good health. Senators Quay and Penrose, Mr. Durham said, will start north next Monday, and should reach Washington Wednesday.

The Gazette correspondent is reliably informed that Attorney General Elkin is not considered a cabinet probability by the Republican leaders. This statement is based upon the decision of Mr. Elkin himself, who before election sent word to Col. Quay that under no circumstance would he accept a reappointment or other honor under the Pennypacker administration. This position was influenced by his determination again to become a candidate for governor four years hence.

It seems settled that Secretary of the Commonwealth W. W. Griest and Insurance Commissioner Durham will remain in their present positions; also that the question of a successor to Mr. Elkin is one which will be personally decided, without outside suggestion, by Gov. Pennypacker. If influenced by political considerations, it is probable that Frank Fuller of Fayette county stands a good chance of succeeding either Elkin or Reeder.

There are several applicants for the position of deputy attorney general, Col. Flood of Meadville being strongly urged, while Fred W. Fleitz, the present deputy, is willing to remain where he is. Mr. Fleitz has been mentioned for a superior court vacancy, but Gov. Stone seems to have struck a snag in his campaign to create compulsory vacancies, so Fleitz is satisfied with the bird in hand.

CHESTER D. POTTER.

PRINCESS' NEPHEW STRANGELY MISSING

Started from Germany to His New Jersey Home, but Never Got to His Steamship.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Detective agencies of Europe are trying to discover the whereabouts of Frederick C. Johnson, 20 years old, son of Col. Edmond Johnson, a wealthy citizen of Vineland, N. J., and nephew of the Princess Agnes Salm-Salm of Bonn, Prussia.

Young Johnson, who was a dental student at the University of Pennsylvania, has been abroad taking a course of study at the Darmstadt university. He mysteriously disappeared three months ago. Johnson is the favorite nephew of the princess, who, being childless, took charge of him when he was 10 years old and gave him the care of a mother until five years ago, when he rejoined his parents in Vineland.

On September 1 Johnson started from Bonn for his home in Vineland. His relatives have not seen or heard from him since. The Princess Salm-Salm learned that a Frederick C. Johnson had engaged and paid for passage at Antwerp, but that the steamer sailed without him. His baggage was found unpacked at Antwerp. She besti[illegible] all the detective agencies in Germany and Belgium and telegraphed the consuls of nearly every large city on the continent to look out for her nephew, but so far there is no trace of him.

As young Johnson left the home of the princess with more than $1,000 in his pockets, foul play is feared.

DIRECTORS DISAGREE, PRESIDENT RESIGNS

Alfred Walter Severs His Connection With Lehigh Valley Railroad Company.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—President Alfred Walter of the Lehigh Valley railroad today tendered his resignation to the board of directors at the regular monthly meting of that body, to take effect November 30. The resignation was accepted. The explanation of the directors was that differences of opinion regarding management caused Mr. Walter's action.

Mr. Walter left this city for New York immediately after presenting his resignation. He declined to make any statement.

President Walter in his last annual report announced that it would be necessary to adopt some financial plan by which funds might be secured from other sources than from the earnings of the company to meet the operating expenses, which have frequently been so great as to result in a deficit. It is believed the president's suggestion did not meet the approval of the management.

Mr. Walter was elected president of the Lehigh Valley railroad in 1897, succeeding E. P. Wilbur. Mr. Walter was at various times connected with the Pennsylvania railroad, the Northern Central, the Baltimore & Potomac, the Baltimore & Ohio and the New York, Lake Erie & Western.

SOCIETY

THE wedding of Miss Alice Walton, daughter of the late Joseph Walton, and James Harold Childs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Childs, Jr., last evening was the most brilliant ever solemnized in Emmanuel Protestant Episcopal church, Allegheny. The youth, wealth and social position of both the bride and the bridegroom made the event of great interest to a wide circle of friends. The little church was crowded, invitations having been limited to its seating capacity. A wealth of tropical plants was massed within the chancel railing, which was almost hidden by a hedge of American beauty roses. Clusters of roses were tied to the ends of the pews. Instead of white ribbons closing the aisle through which the bridal party passed pale blue ribbons were used.

The marriage was solemnized at 5 o'clock, the rector of the church, the Rev. Ernest Paddock officiating. The choir boys preceded the bridal party. The bride was led to the altar by her brother, Samuel B. Walton, who gave her away. Her maids were nearly all from the little group of younger society girls on the North Side. She wore a very beautiful wedding gown of rose pointe lace and mousseline de soie over a foundation of white satin. The gown was fashioned with a full court train, lined with a mass of tiny chiffon ruffles. The mousseline was elaborately tucked and shirred, while the front of the gown was covered with an applique of rose pointe. Her veil of tulle and lace reached to the hem of the long train and in her hand she carried a shower bouquet of white orchids, lilies of the valley and maiden hair ferns tied with white chiffon. The attending maids were exquisitely gowned. Mrs. James Wood, a sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. She wore a gown of delicate pink chiffon over pink satin, a large white beaver hat trimmed with pink roses and white plumes with a lace veil draped and falling to the shoulders. A long white staff tied with chiffon, holding in place an immense cluster of American beauty roses, was carried instead of the regulation bouquet of flowers. The bridesmaids, eight in number, including Miss Rebecca Darlington, who came on from New York to attend the wedding; Miss Madelaine Laughlin, Miss Madelaine Evans of Morristown, N. J., Miss Martha Dalzell, Miss Marian Chambers, Miss Edna Johnson, Mrs. Burrows Sloan of Philadelphia and Miss Gertrude Childs, a sister of the bridegroom, wore charming gowns of light blue chiffon over blue silk, tucked and shirred. They wore large white beaver hats trimmed with pink roses and a fall of lace in the back, and each carried a long white staff tied with chiffon and a cluster of American beauty roses, similar to that of the matron of honor.

Clinton L. Childs, a cousin of the bridegroom, was the best man, and the ushers were Southard Hay, Thomas McGinley, J. Ramsey Speer and Henderson Gilbert of Harrisburg, Pa.; Charles Foster of Philadelphia, William Day of Indianapolis, Lawrence Butler of Detroit and Reginald Bowles of Boston, Mass., friends of the bridegroom at Yale.

Following the ceremony at the church of which the musical program was a very enjoyable feature, a large reception was given at the old Walton mansion in Western avenue, now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McKee Cook, the brother-in-law and sister of the bride, with whom she has been making her home. Awnings were stretched from the street over the sloping terrace to the house. Within the mansion a riotous beauty of floral decorations appeared. American beauty roses, the bride's favorite flowers, appeared in almost every apartment. The large drawing room where the bride and the bridegroom received, Mr. and Mrs. Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Childs, Jr., completing the receiving party, assisted by the ushers as assistants, was in green and red.

The hall, which extends from the front to the rear of the house opening out on a wide side piazza, is the reception room, a small, dainty apartment furnished in delicate pink and gold.

Shades composed of wreaths of roses covered the lights throughout the house. In the library were red American beauty roses. The side porch, which was enclosed with canvas, was decorated with vines.

Supper was served at small tables in the dining room, each having a center piece of red roses. The bride's table, where the members of the bridal party were seated with four others, Mrs. J. Ramsey Speer, Miss Virginia Johnston, Burrows Sloan of Philadelphia and George S. Oliver, was placed directly beneath a large chandelier, wreathed with tulle of the same shade of color as the deep crimson American beauty roses, which depended from it, forming a canopy over the tables.

The wedding cake, an immense one, was cut by the bride last night. In dainty white leather boxes, having the monogram of the bride and bridegroom in blue enamel, the cake was carried away by the guests.

The rooms on the upper floor were prettily decorated and one was set aside for the reception of the many gifts received by the bride.

Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Childs left for an extended wedding trip. They will remain away from Pittsburgh the entire winter, expecting to go to Palm Beach after the holidays to join Mr. and Mrs. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. James Wood Scully and Mrs. Wood, the bride's married sisters and their husbands. When Mr. and Mrs. Childs eventually return to Pittsburgh, they will live in Allegheny avenue, Allegheny, issuing at home cards after their return. The bride, who has been a belle for the last two seasons, was educated at Farmington, Conn., all her maids having attended the school at Farmington at the same time, with the exception of Miss Gertrude Childs, who is just making her debut this winter. Mr. Childs is a Yale man, and member of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Country club sets. The bride is one of the finest women golf players in Pittsburgh and has won a number of cups at home and in the south.

A number of out-of-town guests came on for the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Cook entertained Miss Madelaine Evans of Morristown, N. J., and Miss Chislett of Cleveland, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Drake of Cleveland and Mr. and Mrs. Newburn of New York were the house guests of Mrs. James Wood in Lincoln avenue, and several others were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. James Wood Scully, who have not yet closed their summer home at Sewickley Heights. Miss Darlington is staying with Miss Laughlin at the B. F. Jones' residence, and the out-of-town men in the bridal party were Mr. Childs' guests at the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Country clubs. Mrs. Burrows Sloan of Philadelphia, who was married in Trinity church on election day, arrived in the city yesterday morning and is staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Park Painter, in Ridge avenue, Allegheny, until Friday evening.

Leeds-Kimball.

The old Presbyterian church at Lakewood, N. J., the resort of wealth and fashion, was the scene of a most brilliant wedding at noon yesterday when Miss Elizabeth Whitewright Leeds, daughter of Mrs. William Bateman Leeds of New York, became the bride of George Cook Kimball of Pittsburgh. Society people from New York, Boston and Philadelphia attended the wedding in great numbers. The interior of the church was transformed into a bower of laurel and chrysanthemums.

The ceremony was performed by the venerable Rev. Dr. Charles E. McClellan, assisted by the Rev. C. P. Butler. The bride was given away by her mother. She was charmingly gowned in white ivory satin, trimmed with duchesse lace. Her veil was the one which her mother wore when she was married. It was fastened by a brooch of pearls and diamonds, the gift of the groom. Following the ceremony there was a reception at the home of the bride's mother. The wedding breakfast was served by Sherry. Wedding presents to the value of nearly $100,000 were received. Mr. and Mrs. Kimball left yesterday afternoon for an extended trip through the south, and after January will make their home at No. 5317 Fifth avenue, Pittsburgh. The groom is a Harvard graduate and is a member of a prominent Boston family. He came to Pittsburgh about a year ago.

NEW COFFEE.

For the U. S. Army.

Some soldiers are badly affected by coffee drinking. The hospital steward in one of the army posts in the west says: "Though in the medical service of the army I suffered agony for two years from a case of chronic gastric indigestion, and now that I am free from all the tortures attendant upon it, I attribute it to the good effects of Postum Food Coffee, both as a food and as a beverage.

"I used medicinal and mechanical means to relieve myself during those two years, and even though I had left off the use of coffee, I did not find myself in any measure free until I had commenced using Postum.

"Being in charge of a detachment of the hospital corps, U. S. A., I, of course, had supervision of the mess, and by degrees I have initiated into using Postum every member of the mess, some of whom were formerly very loud in their denunciation of anything 'manufactured.' And, going still further, I have supplied it to our patients in lieu of coffee; none have found fault, while many have praised it highly, and when returned to duty have continued the use of it when possible, for a soldier has an extremely hard time in trying to choose his own food.

"For the past eight months not a grain of coffee has been used in this hospital, and thanks to a cook who prepares Postum just right—there is a brilliant prospect of coffee taking a permanent seat in the background.

"One who has passed through the horrors of indigestion as I have shudders as he looks back upon his sufferings and when cognizant of the cause will shun coffee as he would a rattlesnake." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Evening Clothes

There's a distinct departure in dress clothes this winter—
English ideas prevail—
Long graceful lines—fitted close to the figure—
The most distinctively artistic evening clothes ever made for men—
Yet not enough away from the old ideas to make them unduly prominent.

Let us show you the new things—in materials as well as styles.

WOMEN IN THE WORLD

A beginning of kidney trouble lies in the fact that people, especially women, do not drink enough water. A tumbler of water sipped in the morning immediately on rising, another at night, are recommended by physicians. Try to drink as little water as possible with meals, but take a glassful half an hour to an hour before eating. This rule persisted in day after day, month after month, the complexion will improve, and the general health likewise. Water drunk with meals should be sipped, as well as taken sparingly.

The Way to Drink Water.

Ice water ought never to be taken with one's meals, and as little as possible between meals. One never knows what is being taken into the stomach in water filled with chipped ice. It is safer to fill bottles with water and allow them to stand beside ice to chill until required.

Tests have been made which show that one gill of ice water, which means an average tumblerfull, poured hastily down the throat reduces the temperature of the stomach from 100 to 70 degrees, and it takes more than half an hour to recover the heat it has lost. Cold water, slowly sipped, will not be followed by such a result, cooling the system pleasantly in hot weather without chilling the glands of the stomach so that digestion cannot take place.

The choice of a tooth powder or paste is most important, for there are many preparations sold which are most injurious, destroying the enamel and ruining the teeth generally. This powder and paste is said to be excellent:

Two Good Tooth Powders.

Tooth Paste—Precipitated chalk, 16 ounces; white castile soap powder, 4 ounces; oil of cloves, 10 drops; oil of nutmeg, 40 drops; oil of rose, 20 drops. Form into a paste with a mixture of equal parts of glycerin and water.

Tooth Powder—Areca nut charcoal, 5 ounces; cuttlefish bone, 2 ounces; raw areca nuts, pounded, 1 ounce. Pound and mix. Two or three drops of oil of cloves or of cassia may be added as a perfume.

The sloping shoulder is a noticeable feature in winter gowns for outdoors. Cape collars of every style and depth are seen, while sleeves, very close at the top just below the shoulder and bulging very much below the elbow, add to this effect of slope. Many sleeves have the appearance of being cut circular to give the wide puff with a slight fulness, where they are set into a short cap at the shoulder. This cap is a new feature. It varies in length and sometimes is cut straight across the arm, or is in scallops. It may be of lace, hand embroidery, silk or velvet. Bodices of these dresses blouse back and front, or in front only, the tight bodice being rare. Coats for wear with thin waists are stylish, and may be plain or elaborate. Short basque frills or postilion effects are put on them.

Cider jelly may be made of the new or canned sweet cider, and is useful as an accompaniment for the meat or salad course. To make it, soak a half box of gelatine for 30 minutes in a half cupful of cold water. Then dissolve it in one cupful of boiling water, strain it and add a pint of sweet cider and sugar to taste. Turn it into one large or several individual moulds. This jelly is delicious with baked pork in place of the traditional baked apple. In rural districts it is used as a filling for cake.

How to Use Cider.

Boiled cider apple pies with a liberal admixture of seeded raisins make a welcome variation to the gamut of pastry possibilities. They may be made with a top crust or a strapped covering or may be surmounted by a meringue or with whipped cream. Anything but a pastry crust is, however, quite unorthodox.

For mince pies, suet puddings and other rich pastries, an admixture of boiled cider contributes to the deliciousness of the flavor.

There is no green vegetable of such value as spinach. The English appreciate more than we do this fact, perhaps because a great physician, whose memory is still revered there, called it the broom of the stomach. It ought to be eaten twice a week, if possible, during the months when it is cheap, and once a week during the winter. Its value can only be obtained by proper cooking in a very small quantity of water, in an uncovered vessel, and for about 15 minutes. It will come from the kettle a beautiful green and rich in the salts required for the cleansing of the blood during the heated time of the year. Its frequent appearance in the family menu does much for a good, clear complexion.

Clubwomen were held up to their duties a day or so ago by Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, first vice president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, at one of her lectures.

"If the club woman does not make the best companion for her husband, and the best comrade for her boy, there is either something wrong with the club, or with the woman's view," said she. "Club life for women should prepare them for making better wives and mothers," she continued, "or the club has not accomplished its mission."

Mrs. Burdette's Views of Club Women.

Mrs. Burdett also scored the women in general for being responsible for the mad rush for wealth, which she declared is the greatest menace to perfect domestic happiness and the highest ideal of married life. As no thinking woman doubts that she tells the exact truth.

A busy mother of limited means has for several years worked on the following plan: She has a week or 10 days of real sewing twice a year, spring and fall. She buys a good supply of materials when they are marked down in January and midsummer. In the long March days she has a moderate-priced seamstress come in for a week or so, and they make up an abundant supply of gingham, print and linen frocks for the children, with a white dress for best all 'round, and her own wash dresses. If there are any dresses worth making over, it is done then. Almost all the work is done on the sewing machine.

How to Manage the Family Sewing.

Then late in September she summons her helper again, and the cheviots, warm plaids, etc., are made up for winter.

Of course, other household matters have to be neglected while the sewing campaign rages, but she soon catches up and doesn't have the children's clothes continually on her mind. There is the usual weekly mending and darning, but this mother teaches her girls to take care of their clothes, so she doesn't have such a very hard time. Her eldest girl came home from a visit and said: "Why, mamma, just think, Maude steps out of her skirt and leaves it in a heap on the floor all night and throws her waist on a chair with the sleeves wrong side out and all wrinkles. She thought I was awfully fussy because I hung my skirt up on two hooks and put my waist over the back of a chair to air."

A woman who suffers from perspiring palms lines each glove with a piece of very thin oil silk covered with thin muslin. The silk is pasted down on the inside of the glove with just a suspicion of pure gum arabic mucilage applied so dry that it cannot stain through. Oil silk is the material of which the ordinary dress shields are made. She says the presence of the lining is not noticeable in any way when the glove is on the hand, and works marvels in keeping the hand covering intact.

AN ELOPEMENT THAT CAME TO SUDDEN END

Mrs. Smith Left Her Husband and Came to Pittsburgh With Lover Who Was False.

The desertion of Mrs. Catherine Smith's lover, Edward Yates, brought a sudden ending to her elopement yesterday. He left her and was to meet her at the Union station at 10 o'clock in the morning. She waited five hours for him and then sought the police for aid in finding him. After she told her story, she was locked up to await investigation. The elopers came from Johnstown in Tuesday night. She is 17 years old and he is 30. Yates took her ring and money when he parted with her.

Infatuation for the stage was the primary cause of Mrs. Smith's trouble. She was formerly Kate Catherine Nolan, daughter of a prominent boat owner in the East river, New York. At 14 years of age she sought to become famous on the stage and eloped with James P. Smith of that city. He was 16 years old. They joined Bostock's show and went to St. Louis.

Her parents refused to have anything to do with her, and the young couple drifted from city to city with various theatrical companies. About six months ago they went to Johnstown, where her husband secured employment in a mill. He took Yates and Harry McIlroy to board with him. Saturday he came from work and found Yates and his wife in each other's arms.

He ordered Yates from the house, but became reconciled to his wife. She, however, continued to have secret meetings with Yates. Mrs. Smith told her husband she wanted to come to Pittsburgh for a few days and asked him to give her some money. He gave her $11. With the $28 that Yates had, the two eloped to this city. They stopped at the Lafayette hotel. She gave him her ring and the $11 yesterday morning and agreed to meet him at the railway station. At 10 o'clock she went there, but Yates was not to be found. She waited until 3 o'clock and then went to the detective headquarters.

Detectives Richard Kelly and William A. Riley listened to her story and placed her under arrest. Her husband was notified in Johnstown. At a late hour last night nothing had been heard from him.

"SEEPAGE" IS NEW NAME FOR LEAKS

Director McCandless Says That Is Trouble Common to Big Basins.

CERTAIN TEST PROPOSED

Draining of Basin Would Settle Controversy at Once—Councilmen See Vain Attempts to Hide Leakage.

Upon the invitation of Director McCandless the 32 members of common council, after they had inspected the proposed new route of the Pennsylvania railroad tracks from Fifth avenue to Brilliant pumping station, visited the new Highland reservoir late yesterday afternoon.

Just as they party came up the boulevard drive from Brilliant great streams of water could be seen pouring down the sides of the reservoir. Two of these were particularly noticeable, while at least six have been covered up by a gang of laborers in the past week.

One of the streams yesterday had been partially covered with earth, but the water had crept through the covering and was running down the side of the great hill.

Director McCandless saw at a first glance that the laborers had not completely covered the streams and sought to divert attention to the necessity of a fence along the retaining wall of the boulevard.

"Seepage" Is the New Name.

To President Crawford and Councilman Stevenson the director explained that the leaks were mere "seepage," which would probably continue for some years to come. He stated that this "seepage" was not unusual, and that a large drain from the old reservoir, which was built some 82 years ago, carried off great quantities of water daily.

Councilman Stevenson wanted to know how much water leaked from the new reservoir daily, and the director refused to impart the desired information, claiming that he did not know the exact amount, and on being questioned farther walked away.

D. F. Crawford, a representative from the Fourteenth ward, vowed that enough water was running from a leak on the north side of the reservoir to fill a six-inch pipe.

The councilmanic party then left their carriages and went to the top of the reservoir and inspected the other side. Streams of water were also found gushing from this side and many attempts to hide the leaks were apparent.

Asked to Drain Basin.

Director McCandless has an opportunity of proving by a simple method that the new Highland reservoir No. 2 does not leak, as he claims. The plan suggested is to drain the reservoir completely and then to ascertain if the streams from the embankment are still flowing.

The streams can be easily located in advance and if they cease it would demonstrate beyond all question that the water flowing down the sides of the embankment come from the reservoir. If the streams continued to flow for any length of time after the reservoir was drained it would show that the water is coming from some other source.

Common council has taken an opposite course and asked the director to fill the reservoir to ascertain whether the streams on the outside increase in size. The director declares that he will ignor the order of common councils, and at the same time says that he has already begun to fill the basin, using the pumps at the Brilliant station, whenever they can be spared.

The Walls Might Break.

It is feared, however, that the experiment of filling the reservoir to the limit would be attended with a danger, as the walls might give way under the strain.

There is another difficulty which has been pointed out in connection with the experiment. Common council has asked the director to leave the water stand in the reservoir after it has reached a certain height. It is possible that water might be surreptitiously pumped in during the night or at some other time to keep the stage and thus defeat the purpose of the experiment.

The statement of Director McCandless and others that the penalties for the non-completion of the reservoir were remitted by the old councils aroused a great deal of adverse criticism and brought fourth a number of denials.

Director McCandless and his supporters were ready to modify this statement when Controller Larkin and others demanded proof of such councilmanic action.

The report is circulated at city hall that the remission of the penalty was not made by councils, but by a former director of public works. The right of the director of public works or any city official to exempt the contractors from paying damages for nonperformance is disputed by councilmen.

Water Gauge Changed.

Director McCandless stated on Monday that there was 21 feet of water in the reservoir. When the councilmen visited the reservoir yesterday the same number of feet were marked with red figures on the abutment at the point where the water flows into the basin through the intake pipe. According to the figures the stage had not increased above the height of the day previous.

Councilmen made an interesting and significant discovery in inspecting the figures which have been painted on the wall since the leaks were discovered. Previously there was no guage to denote the height of the water. Councilmen noticed yesterday that the figures had apparently been changed, in order to give the impression that the water had risen while in reality it had not done so.

To all appearances an attempt had been made to erase the cipher in the number 20 and print a 1 over the cipher to make it 21 feet instead of 20 feet. A similar erasure appeared in the figures above. The last figure in the number 22 had evidently been changed so as to make it 23, instead of 22. This was noticed by a number of councilmen, who immediately jumped to the conclusion that the way the department of public works raises the supply in the reservoir is by changing the figures on the red-letter guage.

New Kensington Gets Mill.

The Union Spring Manufacturing Company has been organized with capital of $200,000, and will operate at New Kensington. Machinery has been purchased to equip buildings formerly used by the Hussey Steel Company, where a site of 10 acres has been purchased by the new company. Albert Pancoast, formerly of the Railway Spring and Manufacturing Company, the business of which was absorbed by the Railway Steel Spring Company of America, is president and general manager of the new company.

A Wonderful Patronage.

"The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast" is breaking all records for attendance at the Alvin theater this week. Before the matinee performance yesterday the house was sold for every remaining performance, and the management was forced to announce an extra matinee for tomorrow afternoon. From all appearances "The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast" could have outdone "Ben Hur" in the way of a run here.

BRIDGE RAISING WOULD DO INJURY

Allegheny Select Council Enters Its Protest Against the Change.

CITY SOLICITOR TO ACT

Ordinance Presented for a New Bridge Over the Ohio—Proposition to Connect With Pittsburgh's Water Mains.

Allegheny select council, at its regular meeting yesterday afternoon, adopted a resolution of protest against the raising of the bridges crossing the Allegheny river.

The resolution was presented by J. W. Robinson of the Fourth ward. As it proposed action necessary to precede the engineer's hearing on Saturday, the rules were suspended and the resolution passed at once without reference to committee.

The resolution declares that the proposed change of elevation in the bridges threatens the municipal and mercantile interests of Allegheny and directs the city solicitor to attend the engineer's hearing Saturday forenoon and present the Allegheny protest. A second resolution was passed providing for a joint committee, two members from select and three from common council, to consult with the United States engineer regarding the bridge project.

New Ohio River Bridge.

Mr. Robinson introduced an ordinance authorizing the Western Bridge Company to erect a bridge over the Ohio river, from a point below Wilkins street to McKees Rocks. The incorporators and directors of the company are Charles D. Meyer, J. A. Meade, G. B. Cooper, J. P. Torrence and R. F. Ramsey. R. F. Ramsey is president and treasurer, and W. B. Carson, secretary. The ordinance was referred to the committee on corporations. A similar reference was made of an ordinance to grant a franchise to the Pittsburgh Time and Signal Company. The incorporators are William T. Speer, Stephen C. Strums, J. A. Koch, Joseph T. Speer and C. F. Schaefer, and the officers, C. F. Schaefer, president and A. F. Judd, secretary and treasurer.

Among other ordinances presented were the following: Authorizing the city recorder to purchase a lot in the Fifteenth ward, upon which to erect a pumping station and to advertise for bids for the building, machinery and tanks; authorizing the issuance of bonds to the value of $23,769 to pay the cost of paving Norwood avenue.

Connection of Water Mains.

Council voted a joint resolution for a special committee of five, two from select and three from common, to confer with a committee from Pittsburgh councils regarding the connection of the water mains of the two cities. Morris Einstein and Charles Kirschler were appointed for the select branch.

The ordinance authorizing the payment of $500 to W. B. Rodgers for professional services in assisting the law department to prepare the Pennsylvania company railroad ordinances, caused considerable discussion. John A. Born and Dr. Andrew Easton thought the law department should be able to frame ordinances for the city without employing outside attorneys. It was decided to appoint a committee to confer with the Pennsylvania company on the payment of the bill. Kirschler, Trimble and Easton were appointed.

Council passed the ordinance to submit to popular vote the proposal to increase the bonded debt $48,460 for the paving of Fleming avenue.

Joseph Stewart of the First ward, elected to the state legislature at the last election, presented his resignation, which was accepted.

Harry Whitman, 27 years old, of Carson street, left his home on Monday and took $75 with him.

Dorsey White of Duquesne has been missing since Saturday. He is 17 years old and in ill health. His father offers $50 reward for his detention.

POSTOFFICE WRECKED BY MASKED ROBBERS

Erie County Citizens Are Terrorized and One Is Wounded.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ERIE, PA., Nov. 19.—Edinboro, this county, was aroused at 2 o'clock this morning by five loud explosions, and in a very short time 20 citizens were at the postoffice, where the explosions had occurred. As they reached the building five masked men ran out towards the crowd, and, at the point of 10 revolvers, made the citizens open a way for escape. The robbers fired several shots, but no one was injured.

As the robbers ran they turned and fired again, a shot taking effect in the arm of George C. Goodall, who had opened the window of his bed chamber in the house across the way and who was watching the one-sided battle.

The burglars were soon out of reach, and the crowd entered the office to find the safe blown open and its papers scattered about the floor. The door of the safe was thrown across the room. The damage to the office amounts to several hundred dollars.

The postmaster said that the safe contained $20 and probably $300 in postage stamps.

A posse was immediately organized and started in pursuit, but failed to find the burglars. The thieves started from this city and in order to reach Edinboro, which is 18 miles from here, stole a free rural delivery horse and wagon belonging to Frank Gaughey, containing considerable mail which had been rifled. The rig was found in the outskirts of Edinboro.

COAL LOADING STOPPED.

Baltimore & Ohio Policemen Prevent Fuel Being Put on Cars at Fairmont.

FAIRMONT, W. VA., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Superintendent Hustead of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company has had notices posted at the entrance of Walkers siding here, prohibiting M. M. Foster and others interested with him from loading coal on the siding, which is the only eastern loading point here, to supply trade. They claim to have the right to load coal at the siding the same as any other freight.

Baltimore & Ohio policemen have stood behind stretched ropes all day to see that the superintendent's orders are obeyed. A dozen loaded coal wagons have stood at the entrance of the siding all day and the coal operators claim they intend to hold their ground. Yardmaster Riggs was arrested today for interfering. R. L. Robinson, interested with Foster, claims a large coal corporation is behind the move.

The Lake Erie uses the Union station jointly with the Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio. The Lake Erie owns a large frontage immediately west of the Union station and intends to erect a new passenger terminal there.

The work will be commenced as soon as the four-track system is completed past New Castle Junction, three miles south, in order to arrange for the entrance of four tracks into the station here.

USED LOCOMOTIVE FOR AN AUTOMOBILE

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Peter Earle, a watchman employed by the Little Kanawha Railroad Company, took a locomotive today and went for a ride. He ran the engine at full speed to Palestine, the terminus of the road, and back. He struck a railroad bicycle with two men on it, threw them from the track and passed through several towns at full speed with the whistle shrieking.

Because of the improper care he burned out the flues in the boiler and finally abandoned the engine in the yards here. He says he prefers a locomotive to an automobile.

POSTMASTER RESIGNS NEW CASTLE OFFICE

John B. Brown to Be Succeeded by Ex-Councilman John A. McKee.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 19.—The Hon. John B. Brown announced his resignation as postmaster of this city to be effective as soon as his successor is appointed. Congressman Showalter has indorsed ex-Councilman John A. McKee for the appointment and his commission is expected to arrive within a few days. Postmaster Brown was first appointed in June, 1897, and was re-elected last March in spite of his own objections. Political conditions in this county made this expedient, as there were many applicants for the office in case Brown was not again a candidate. All danger of internal strife within the Republican ranks has disappeared.

It is rumored that Mr. Brown will be given the office of state banking commissioner, but he says he is out of politics and will leave soon for California to recover his health.

His successor, Mr. McKee, is a well-known business man and a partner of the Hon. William M. Brown. McKee served several terms in the city councils and was a leader in the reform movement here. He was also president of the New Castle baseball club of the Interstate league for several years and is a liberal patron of athletic sports.

THE CHILDREN ENJOY

Life out of doors and out of the games which they play and the enjoyment which they receive and the efforts which they make, comes the greater part of that healthful development which is so essential to their happiness when grown. When a laxative is needed the remedy which is given to them to cleanse and sweeten and strengthen the internal organs on which it acts, should be such as physicians would sanction, because its component parts are known to be wholesome and the remedy itself free from every objectionable quality. The one remedy which physicians and parents, well-informed, approve and recommend and which the little ones enjoy, because of its pleasant flavor, its gentle action and its beneficial effects, is—Syrup of Figs—and for the same reason it is the only laxative which should be used by fathers and mothers.

Syrup of Figs is the only remedy which acts gently, pleasantly and naturally without griping, irritating, or nauseating and which cleanses the system effectually, without producing that constipated habit which results from the use of the old-time cathartics and modern imitations, and against which the children should be so carefully guarded. If you would have them grow to manhood and womanhood, strong, healthy and happy, do not give them medicines, when medicines are not needed, and when nature needs assistance in the way of a laxative, give them only the simple, pleasant and gentle—Syrup of Figs.

Its quality is due not only to the excellence of the combination of the laxative principles of plants with pleasant aromatic syrups and juices, but also to our original method of manufacture and as you value the health of the little ones, do not accept any of the substitutes which unscrupulous dealers sometimes offer to increase their profits. The genuine article may be bought anywhere of all reliable druggists at fifty cents per bottle. Please to remember, the full name of the Company—CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.—is printed on the front of every package. In order to get its beneficial effects it is always necessary to buy the genuine only.

BOGGS & BUHL PURCHASE LOT IN STOCKTON AVE.

Ft. Wayne Secures a $14,000 Property at Bellevue. New Project at New Castle---Duquesne Land Company Pushing Improvements.

The Brown property at the northwest corner of West Stockton avenue and West Diamond street, Allegheny, has been conveyed from A. D. Wilson to Boggs & Buhl, for $47,000. Mr. Wilson purchased the property a few weeks ago from the Safe Deposit, Title and Trust Company, trustees for the Joseph S. Brown estate. It consists of a lot, 60x240 feet, extending through to Parkway. A 12-room brick house is the only improvement. At the price named in the deed the rate of sale is $783 a front foot, somewhat more than has been paid for other properties in this neighborhood, but a very reasonable figure it is thought, in view of the depth of the lot and the fact that this is about the only property of this size near by which is on the market. About three months ago Boggs & Buhl bought, through Mr. Wilson's agency, the Tiernan property, a lot, 70x240 feet, in East Stockton avenue, between Federal and East Diamond streets. At that time it was stated that the site would be used for a six-story warehouse which would cover the entire lot. Yesterday it was learned that the proposed warehouse is likely to be erected on the Brown lot, when Boggs & Buhl get possession of it, next April.

Dudley S. Liggett and S. G. Lennox have purchased from the Froelich heirs one of the best residence properties in the Lawrenceville district, for $12,500. The property is known as Nos. 291-293 Main street, and consists of a lot, 50x100 feet, situated between Penn avenue and Davison street, Seventeenth ward. It is improved with a modern 12-room brick house, which originally cost $15,000. The purchase was made for an investment.

Ft. Wayne Buys Bellevue Property.

The Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago Railroad Company has started a new flurry in realty circles by purchasing from Homer McBride two acres opposite the Bellevue station for $14,000. The property lies at the foot of Meade avenue and has a frontage of about 150 feet on the railroad. It is situated on a side hill, the upper part being fully 40 feet above the tracks, and is improved with a 12-room brick house. The railroad company, which now has five tracks at Bellevue station, will put in two more tracks at once, it is said. The same company is negotiating for the purchase of a property in Avalon which is valued at $25,000.

Through the agency of J. C. O'Donnell, C. C. Hamilton has bought from C. C. Crosby, the lumberman, a colonial brick house of 12 rooms at the corner of Stanton avenue and Beech street, Nineteenth ward, for $20,000. The house stands on an irregular lot, with extreme dimensions 80x140 feet. In part payment for the residence Mr. Hamilton tendered a property 35x10, feet at the corner of Grandview avenue and Republic street, Thirty-fifth ward. The lot has erected on it a 10-room frame house and is valued at $9,000. The difference in the deal was paid in cash.

The deed was registered yesterday in the sale of the City Trust Company property at the southeast corner of Smithfield street and Sixth avenue and a lot in the rear to the German American Savings and Trust Company for $242,500. Title to the property was secured from William V. Culley. The corner lot, on which is erected the building now occupied by the trust company, measures 22x60 feet and the lot adjoining it in Sixth avenue is 20x60 feet.

The Industrial Land and Improvement Company of Allegheny city, Pa., is the name of a newly organized institution which has applied for a Pennsylvania charter. The incorporators are L. Stallmer, Edward Brogan, Reinhardt Roth, C. G. Otto, H. K. Knox, P. E. Shackhouse, John Kress, A. S. Fishaus, Adam Diaz and Edmund Tate, all of Allegheny. The company is capitalized at $10,000 and has purchased from James Atkinson 50 acres of land at Pitzer station, two miles west of New Castle, for $6,250. The land is situated on the line of the New Castle & Youngstown electric railway and is only 10 minutes' ride from the former city. It has a frontage of about 2,000 feet along the railroad. The company proposes to plot it into 200 lots, 50x150 feet each, and to put in the usual street and sidewalk improvements. The lots will be put on the market after Thanksgiving at prices ranging from $100 to $150 each.

The Duquesne Library Land Company, which recently purchased a large plot of frontage surrounding the Carnegie library at Duquesne, met Tuesday night and elected the following officers: President, T. O. Boyd, Homestead; secretary, S. M. Fry, Homestead; treasurer, J. O. Miller, Duquesne. Directors were chosen as follows: T. O. Boyd, S. M. Fry, William H. Sufling, C. F. Payne, John F. Bettigan, Thomas L. Parry, D. S. Kennedy, A. J. Kuhn, John Cupples, J. M. Molamphy and Frank E. Baldwin of Homestead and H. L. Black, G. Miller, C. Heller and G. D. Welsner of Duquesne. The company is talking big on the improvements, which will include the moving of 10 frame houses to one side of the plot, the laying of sidewalks and pavements and putting in sewer and water connections. As soon as these are completed the lots, about 300 in number, will be placed on the market at a public sale.

Will Take Stock of Business.

The Consolidated Real Estate Company held another meeting yesterday afternoon and received two more firms into its membership. The by-laws of the organization were carefully considered and the capitalization fixed at $500,000. A committee was appointed to take stock of the business of the different real estate firms which have signified their intention of joining the new corporation, preparatory to starting business in the main office in Fourth avenue and the branch offices in the East End, Allegheny and the South Side. Another meeting will be held Friday afternoon.

The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company has purchased from O. P. Guttridge a plot 22x150 feet, lying between the Baltimore & Ohio tracks and Braddock avenue, Rankin, for $10,000. The railroad company has been making other purchases nearby lately for the purpose of putting in more tracks.

Stella McLaughlin has bought from the M. F. Hipple estate an improved property, 34x70 feet, on the south side of First avenue, near Ferry street, First ward, for $15,000.

Contractors Lennox & McWilliams are preparing to build 12 frame houses to cost $7,500 each in the University park plan of J. Walter Hay in Allegheny. The same contractors have just completed six similar houses in this plan, which are all either rented or sold. These other frame houses, to cost $5,000 each, are to be built in Montrose avenue in the same plan under the direction of J. C. Lasure. A handsome residence is being built by A. Fertig at the corner of Burgess street and Wurtzell avenue at a cost of $5,000. W. L. Stillman has started a similar house at the corner of McIntire and Ellwood avenues and A. F. Daum is building a house in Lyons avenue, all in the same plan.

OSGOOD LOSES APPEAL

Justice Brewer Declines to Grant Petition in Colorado Fuel Case. Another Card to Play.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—Justice Brewer of the United States supreme court today denied an application for an appeal to the United States circuit court from the decision of Judge Caldwell providing for the appointment of a master in chancery to supervise the meeting of the stockholders of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company to be held December 10.

The petition for an appeal was presented on behalf of J. C. Osgood, president of the company, by Attorney Frederick D. McKenney of this city and Attorney John C. Beaman of Denver, and was resisted by Attorney W. H. Hornblower and Attorney F. W. M. Cutcheon, both of New York, who appeared for John W. Gates.

The decision was based upon the fact that the appeal had not been taken within the time required by law.

The effect of the decision is to leave the case where it was placed by Judge Caldwell's order, and presumably the meeting for the election of directors under the supervision of Master Seymour D. Thompson will proceed in accordance with Judge Caldwell's order, December 10, unless those opposed to such action find a way to prevent it. Attorneys Beaman and McKenney said they had by no means exhausted their resources, but declined to say what action would be taken.

He Had the Plunder.

William Anderson, arrested by detectives Tuesday night, was committed to jail yesterday by Alderman McMasters for a hearing Monday on a charge of burglary. William T. Jones of East Pittsburgh says that Anderson robbed his home on November 11. Jones and his wife identified a gold watch and rings found on Anderson.

FOOD FOR A YEAR.

Meats	300 lbs.
Milk	240 qts.
Butter	100 lbs.
Eggs	27 doz.
Vegetables	500 lbs.

This represents a fair ration for one man for one year.

But some people eat and eat and yet grow thinner. This means a defective digestion and unsuitable food. To the notice of such persons we present Scott's Emulsion, famous for its tissue building. Your physician can tell you how it does it.

We'll send you a little to try if you like.

S. P. HUTCHINSON TO TAKE HIGH POSITION ON MICHIGAN CENTRAL

S. P. Hutchinson, whose resignation as superintendent of the Pittsburgh division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad was exclusively announced in yesterday's Gazette, leaves his position here to be assistant general superintendent of the Michigan Central, with headquarters at Detroit.

Mr. Hutchinson said yesterday: "My resignation from the Baltimore & Ohio here is not yet formally made, but will be shortly. I regret exceedingly to leave the Baltimore & Ohio's Pittsburgh division, despite the fact that it is a difficult position. I am sorry also to leave Pittsburgh. The new position, however, is in the line of advancement, and I felt that I could not afford to refuse it."

Who will be the new superintendent at Pittsburgh is now the subject of engrossing interest among Baltimore & Ohio men, as well as among the shippers. General Superintendent L. O. Haas went east yesterday afternoon and is not expected back until this evening. He may announce the name of the new superintendent upon his return.

The resignation of Mr. Hutchinson will be effective December 1. His new appointment will not take effect until December 8, so that he will have a week to rest. In the time that he has had charge of the most difficult division of any railroad in the country he has worked early and late and the results of his efforts have been manifest in many ways. He was known before as an operating man of unusual ability and his work in Pittsburgh has added to his reputation among all who have been closely in touch with railroad matters in this district. He has made many friends here, who regret his departure from the city.

The highest operating office on the Michigan Central is that of general superintendent, R. H. Ulmmedieu filling the position. The office to which Mr. Hutchinson is called is the second in rank.

Wabash and Jersey Central Railroads Join the Procession of Wage Increasers.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—(Special.)—President Joseph Ramsey, Jr., of the Wabash announces a general advance of wages to the employes of that system. He issues a statement, in which he says: "For some time I have been giving careful consideration to the important question of wages, not solely with reference to adjustment of the wages of one class of employes, but with the object in view of fair and equitable adjustment of the pay of all classes of service on a proper basis." He tells of the conditions existing on railroads, meaning the greater "expense of living" for the corporations as such, as well as for the men, and concludes:

"After full consideration of the subject I have concluded to advance the rates of pay of all classes of skilled labor, engine men and trainmen, shopmen in the motive power and car shops, yardmen and such other employes as may be entitled to an advance. The changes in rates of pay will be bulletined as soon as the lists are made up."

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The Central Railway of New Jersey announced today that its employes shall be treated as well as those of its neighbors. Where recent wage increases by railroads in its territory make the average rate higher than those paid by the Jersey Central, the wages of such classes of its employes will be equalized to meet the prevailing rates paid.

W. E. Zirckel Promoted.

Announcement was made yesterday of the appointment of W. E. Zirckel to the position of agent for the companies formerly represented by L. T. Fowler, who is now with the Winsor line, the Boston & Philadelphia Steamship Company. Mr. Zirckel was soliciting agent under Mr. Fowler and is now promoted to the full agency. The companies are the Merchants & Miners Transportation Company, the Central of Georgia Railway Company and the Plant system of railways. The appointment comes to Mr. Zirckel in recognition of hard and efficient work for several years.

Mr. Peter Berry of Pearl St., Augusta, Me., was a Very Sick Man.

Physicians were baffled over his case. But he took "Blood Wine" and was cured. Read what he says:

"A very hard cold settled on my lungs, causing a most obstinate cough that no medicine given me would relieve. During many months I suffered untold misery, my lung trouble growing worse. My physician was baffled and finally told me I would have to go to a warmer climate. I saw 'Blood Wine' advertised and decided to try it. After taking it regularly I was greatly pleased with its results and am now well. My astounding recovery was a surprise to my physicians. Those whom I have since advised to use it, believe with me that it is the greatest medicine in the world."

Remarkable cures seems invariably to be the result of taking "Blood Wine," not only for Coughs, Colds, and Sore Lungs, but in cases of pronounced Consumption it has killed the germs, toned up the system, put flesh on bones that almost protruded from the skin, and made sufferers of a lifetime well, hearty and happy. The "Keiser" stocks, however, are decidedly the favorites, especially our "Keisers" at our matchlessly low prices. We have them in barathea silk, crepe de chine, taffeta and peau de soie. Some of the styles are illustrated above, but we have numerous others equally charming and attractive, among them being the new "bunch of grapes" pattern taffeta silk stocks, made with long taffeta silk tabs in front, artistically embroidered with a bunch of grapes, a very striking novelty now much in vogue. THRIVING BOROUGH ABOUT TO BE CREATED IN CRESCENT TOWNSHIP

Town Will Be Called Wireton in Honor of Its Industries.

HAS FOUR BIG PLANTS

Its Leading Source of Wealth, the National Cable and Wire Co., Will Begin Operation Next Month.

The new industries along the line of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad have resulted in a wonderful increase in the population of Crescent township, and articles of incorporation are being prepared for the establishment of the borough of Wireton, at Anderson Road station, 18 miles from Pittsburgh. The new municipality will begin its life with a population of about 1,100 and will have five thriving industries.

Wireton will receive a great boom with the opening of the plant of the National Cable and Wire Company next month. Over 200 skilled workmen will be employed and extensions which are bound to come will give the new town a steady impetus toward wealth and improvement. The Coraopolis and Monaco trolley line, now in construction, will pass through the main thoroughfare and give rapid transit facilities to Pittsburgh and the thriving towns in the Beaver valley. The railroad will erect a fine suburban station and all the important accommodation trains will stop at Wireton.

A committee composed of the following Crescent township citizens is preparing the application for a charter: Bert Porter, William Laughner, Archibald Lawson and William Musgrave. Wireton boasts of scores of good dwellings, several stores, a hotel and several small industries, beside the big plants of the Wire and Cable Company, the United States Wire and Nail Company, the Baer & Gazzam brick works and the structural steel plant of the Riter-Conley Company, which occupies a 65-acre site at Leetsdale, directly across the river.

The officers of the Cable and Wire Company, with a few guests, yesterday inspected the plant. Everything was found in readiness to begin operations at the beginning of next month. The plant is one of the most complete in the country and is equipped with the latest devices for threading and insulating electric wire.

The company will make a specialty of insulated wire for all purposes and is unique in this respect among Greater Pittsburgh's industries. All kinds of wire, from the finest copper thread for tiny magnets to immense cables for the underground telephone mains, will be included in its products. In the braiding department 105 machines are now in use and 400 will be installed when the plant is ready for full operation, capable of an output of 100,000 feet of wire a day.

An innovation will be a complete rubber refining mill where the raw product from the forests of Central America will be carried through a process fitting it for the insulation of wire.

The visitors yesterday witnessed interesting work. The paper and cotton used as the insulating material were received in long rolls and skeins and wound on large spools fitted to the braiding machines. The machines are automatic and one operator attends to the handling of 10 braiders. The plant is conveniently located near the river and has ample sidings connecting the storage house with the railroad.

The officers of the company are David Carlin, president; Joseph A. West, vice president; J. E. Powell, treasurer; H. W. Klein, secretary and M. Wachter, general superintendent.

ITS FOURTH BIRTHDAY.

Liberty Market, Gaily Decorated, Was Visited by Crowds.

The fourth anniversary of the opening of Liberty market was celebrated yesterday and last night. The first celebration, which was first held last year, will now be an annual affair. Quite a large crowd inspected the market yesterday and last night the immense building was crowded to overflowing.

Superintendent James Barrett was elated over the celebration and said it excelled that of last year in many respects. The past fiscal year has been the most prosperous in the history of the market, and according to the owners of stands, business is growing rapidly.

The stands yesterday were decorated with American flags and bunting, while flowers of all descriptions filled the building. Music was furnished during the day and evening by an orchestra and a lantern slide exhibition at night furnished the visitors amusement.

OHIO SUPREME COURT STAYS JOHNSON'S HAND

City Government of Cleveland Not to Be Ousted Just Yet—Fraud Charged.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 19.—Mayor Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland and his scheme to reorganize the city government before the commencement of the operation of the new municipal code, received a check today when the Ohio supreme court ordered a stay of execution in the decision ousting the city government of that city.

Mayor Johnson and the commissioners of law and police are charged with perpetrating a fraud on the police pension fund by forcing retirement on employes not entitled to pensions. Mayor Johnson is also charged with attempting to advance his political interests by supplanting present employes with his immediate followers who he hopes will be retained when the new system of government is inaugurated.

Six Girls Form a Club to Make Presents for Future Wedding.

BOSTON, Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Six pretty Beverly girls are members of a club in which they work once a week, making up the usual articles, which will be presented some day to the first girl to find a happy husband.

The club is called the "S. L.," and no young man of Beverly has been able to find what the mystic initials mean, although they have been trying for five years to unravel the mystery. Meetings are held Friday evenings of each week.

Many Suits Result.

Alderman E. C. Vierheller of the West End has a peculiar case before him this evening. Antonio Ciampoli charges Luigi Furlano with larceny by bailee. It is said that Luigi loaned Antonio $5 to start in business and that the money was never returned. Last Sunday when Ciampoli and Furlano were visiting at the home of Pietro Tiani an argument over the money was started and led to a fight, in which Antonio bit the host's left thumb almost off, and took a couple of bites out of the cheek of Donata Cavilar's cheek. The latter two have entered suit on a charge of mayhem.

Egan's Successor Named.

ST. PAUL, MINN., Nov. 19.—The Great Northern Company has accepted as a fact that Benjamin F. Egan, the missing superintendent of the Kalispell division, has perished, and appointed A. E. Long successor, with the title of acting superintendent. Mr. Egan disappeared in the mountains two weeks ago, and search since then, carried on by 200 men, has failed to find traces of him.

FLAMES DEVOUR ENTIRE BLOCK

Big Fire Rages in Business Section of Monongahela City.

LOSS ALREADY $75,000

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Monongahela, Pa., Nov. 20.—(2 a. m.)—One of the most disastrous fires in the history of this city started shortly before midnight in the rear of the Towner block on Payne street, between Second and Third streets. An alarm was turned in and the entire department responded, as the fire is in the very heart of the business district. It is estimated that the damage caused by the flames will amount to about $75,000. Claude Towner, owner of the Towner block and the large drygoods store at the corner of Payne and Second streets, places his loss at $50,000, covered by insurance.

The large grocery store of A. D. Scott was completely gutted by flames and water. Scott's loss is placed at $25,000, only partly covered by insurance.

At an early hour this morning the flames had communicated with the meat market of J. N. Yohe, whose establishment adjoins that of Scott, and it looks as though the entire block would be consumed.

The firemen had considerable difficulty in fighting the flames, as the water supply at present is very low in the city. A broken main is responsible for a dangerously low pressure. Nothing is known of the origin of the fire.

WU TING FANG BOWS LOW BEFORE GEN. CHAFFEE

Remarkable Meeting of Two Men With High Places in History of China.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Gen. Chaffee and his party were standing on the rear platform of their special car, which was about to leave the Union station, when Minister Wu and his suite arrived, en route to San Francisco to sail for China.

The American soldier was pointed out to Minister Wu, who stepped across the platform and bowed profoundly. Gen. Chaffee returning the salute.

"The general is a great man," remarked Minister Wu, "I admire him exceedingly. I am glad to have seen him. So that was Chaffee—the great Chaffee?"

Gen. Chaffee and his two staff officers, Lieut. Harper and Capt. Lindsay, left Chicago tonight over the Pennsylvania road for New York, where the general will be located permanently.

WILL YOU WEAR A PARIS-MADE WAIST?

Five hundred and thirty women will wear genuine imported French waists in Pittsburgh next week, and the best thing about it is that these waists will cost them less than $2 each.

The card in Campbell's show window tells the story in brevis, and the waists that surround the card prove the verity of the statement.

The advertisement in the afternoon papers today and in The Gazette tomorrow will give the full details to women who cannot come down to see the show window.

Better look the matter up, if you want a lovely albatross or French flannel waist, with the unmistakable Parisian touch seen in every line, at a less cost than you usually pay for a very ordinary garment of domestic manufacture.

LONDON BEING FORTIFIED AGAINST ENEMIES' ATTACK

Lord Roberts Finds City Wholly Unprepared for War.

REBELLION IS CRUSHED

Belief Is General That the Revolt in Venezuela Is Ended—Vandals Break Parts of Statues Erected by Emperor William.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—Efforts of a far-reaching character have been set on foot to fortify the metropolis against a possible attack in case of war, from which, judging from statements made tonight, it has hitherto been quite inadequately protected.

An announcement to the effect that extensive buildings have been completed at Woldingham, Surrey, 11 miles south London, for use as a mobilizing center in the scheme for the defense of London, reveals for the first time the existence of important war office operations.

It is stated that when Lord Roberts took over his post of commander-in-chief of the British army, he personally investigated the defenses of London and found them to be very imperfect. Since then powerful batteries have been mounted on elevations commanding the principal roads between London and the south coast. New fortifications are being rapidly constructed along the banks of the Thames and Woldingham has been fitted up as a center for mobilization.

MATOS' HOPES ENDED.

Now Trying to Get Aid from Colombia or from Personal Friends. President Castro Active.

WILLEMSTAD, CURACOA, Nov. 19.—President Castro of Venezuela is energetically pushing operations to prevent the revolutionists from recovering from the effect of their dissensions and the flight of Gen. Matos.

One of the objects of Matos' departure, it is reported, is to attempt to induce the Columbian government, which is notoriously unfriendly to President Castro, to send arms and ammunition to his men. Mato also relies on his wealthy friends in this island, with whom he is conferring, though sick. These persons have already contributed money in support of the Venezuelan revolution, but under the belief that President Castro would flee from the country. Consequently, inadequate preparations were made, and hence the present condition of the revolutionists.

Matos future plans are kept secret. Though his estates in Venezuela have been confiscated, he still has money, and can, if he so chooses, continue the contest either personally or through Gens. Rolando and Luciano Mendoza, who are still in the field. The general opinion is that Matos' aspirations to the presidency of Venezuela are ended.

VANDALS USE A HAMMER.

Parts of Historical Statues, Erected by Emperor, Are Broken.

BERLIN, Nov. 19.—Vandals have again broken off parts of five of the statues on the Sieges Allee, the historical series erected by Emperor William at his personal expense. The statues themselves were not harmed, as they stood out of the reach of the depredator, but pieces of decoration of the bases were broken, apparently by hammer blows.

A previous mutilation occurred in 1899, and though a large reward was offered, the culprit was never caught. The perpetrator of the present outrage has not been traced.

DEATH OF A LAFAYETTE.

Granddaughter of America's Friend Expires in France.

PARIS, Nov. 19.—The marquise de Chambrun died yesterday. She was the last granddaughter of Lafayette and her life was notable for her constancy in maintaining the family's cordial feeling for America.

Her oldest son, the marquis de Chambrun, who is a member of the chamber of deputies, becomes the ranking representative of the Lafayette family. He was formerly counsellor of the French embassy at Washington and married a daughter of Mrs. Bellamy Storer.

TWO BRITISH OFFICERS KILLED BY TRIBESMEN

English Suffer Severe Loss in the Afghan Frontier Uprising.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

SIMLA, INDIA, Nov. 19.—Col. Tonnechy, commanding the Fourth column of the British expedition engaged in putting down the uprising of the Waziri tribesmen on the Afghan frontier, found a strong tower at Gumatti, held by six outlaws who refused to surrender. The shells from the British guns made little impression on the fort till evening, when the tower was stormed and all its defenders were killed.

The British losses were comparatively heavy. Besides Col. Tonnechy, who died of wounds, Capt. G. White of the Third Sikhs, was killed while leading the storming party, and Capts. Davie and Houston and Lieut. Airy and eight of the native troops were wounded. The tower was razed.

Gen. Egerton arrived at Shiwa yesterday and captured the head man and several of the villagers. Col. McRae, commanding the First column, signaled from Spinwan on Monday that he had surprised and captured the village and had taken 250 prisoners. Some war munitions also fell into the hands of the First column.

PRAYER DAY IN BERLIN.

Business Is Suspended and Places of Amusement Closed.

BERLIN, Nov. 19.—This is the national day of penitence and prayer here. The Germans, who are liberal every other day in the year, today closed all their theaters and forbade any kind of public amusement. Opinion even prohibits playing any music, except sacred music, in private houses. The Royal opera tonight rendered Cherubini's requiem, "The Last Supper," and the music of "Parsifal."

The morning papers, which ceased typesetting at midnight, publish serious articles, adapted to the day. No evening paper was issued today and no morning papers will be published tomorrow because it would require work today.

DAUGHTER IS BORN TO QUEEN OF ITALY

Public Is Disappointed, But the King Says He Is Satisfied.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ROME, Nov. 19.—Queen Helena was accouched of a daughter this morning. The mother and child are announced to be doing well. The new princess will be named "Mafelda." The child born today is the second daughter, the first, Princess Yolanda Margharita, having been born at Rome on June 1, 1901.

The king yesterday was shooting on the island of Monte Christo, when he was suddenly summoned home. He immediately boarded a yacht and was landed on the beach in the neighborhood of Rome. As there were no debarkation conveyances the king was carried ashore on the backs of sailors. A motor car was in waiting and he soon reached the palace.

The birth of another princess instead of an heir to the throne is a great public disappointment.

United States Ambassador Meyer was the first outsider to personally congratulate the king. The sovereign was in excellent spirits. He declared he was satisfied with another daughter.

Cripple Held, Daughter Weeps.

Magistrate Henry Hunneshagon of Allegheny yesterday held Fred Goehring, a cripple, in $300 bail for court. He is charged by Peter Miller with larceny. It is alleged that last Sunday, while in Miller's room in Spring Garden avenue, Goehring stole some money. When Goehring was led back to the cell his little daughter who was present at the trial, wept bitterly.

WERE LOOTING HOUSE OF ALL ITS FURNITURE

Four Men Were Disposing of It at Second-Hand Store When Caught.

An attempt to rob a house of all its contents was thwarted by Detectives Richard Kelly and William A. Riley last night shortly after 7 o'clock. William Collins, James Martin, Joseph King and Frank McMahon entered the house of Mrs. Fay Ross, at No. 542 Fourth avenue, and carried five small chairs, two leather couches and two large rocking chairs to the second-hand store of William Golden at No. 515 Grant street, and were trying to sell them, when accosted by the detectives.

Three of the men were placed under arrest immediately and McMahon was found in the Fourth avenue house waiting for his comrades to return for the rest of the furniture. They will be arraigned for a hearing this morning on a charge of entering a building, before Magistrate Bernard McKenna.

Mrs. Ross had closed her house and was away. The men went there after dark and forced an entrance through a rear window. Piece by piece they carried the furniture to Golden's store. James Martin told him that his sister had died and as he wanted to give her a respectable burial, he was forced to sell the furniture. While he was talking to the furniture dealer, Detectives Kelly and Riley came along and saw King carrying a piece of furniture on his head. They followed him to the store, where they found Martin and Collins.

They were taken to the Central police station and Detective Riley went to the house, where he found McMahon piling up the furniture preparatory to taking it away. The men are well known to the police.

Price Considered Too High.

A meeting of the congregation of the Central Presbyterian church of Allegheny was held last night at the seminary in Ridge avenue. The Rev. Dr. J. A. Platts presided. The meeting was called for the purpose of selecting a site for the proposed new church. The subject was talked over informally and the meeting adjourned until next Wednesday evening. The general opinion seems to be that $23,000 asked for the Union avenue site is too high.

HORSE MEAT FOR SAUSAGE IS CHEAPENED IN BERLIN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Berlin, Nov. 19.—Quotations here for fat 600-pound horses for slaughtering have fallen from $37.50 and $40 to $25, and for fair to middling and lean from $25 to $18.75 and $20 in consequence of the exposure of the large quantities of horse meat sold as beef or used for making sausages. Horseflesh has long been a regular article of food, but municipal ordinances in most cities require that it shall be sold as such.

The extraordinary high prices of meat, however, have caused extensive evasions of the law and a great increase in the sale of horse steaks and souphones as beef. While the German frontiers are closed to the importation of live cattle the prohibition does not apply to old, broken down horses, which are brought by shiploads from England, especially to Hamburg and Bremen, and are fattened for butchering.

It is predicted that a sharper enforcement of the horse meat ordinance is likely to result in a slight increase in the prices of meat and particularly of sausage.

W. & J. SHOWS FAST FORM IN DEFEATING WEST VIRGINIA----HARVARD HOPES REVIVE

W. & J. OUTPLAYS WEST VIRGINIA

Darkness Stopped Game in Middle of Second Half. Score of 23 to 0.

COLE WAS CRIPPLED

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—In one of the best games played on the local gridiron this year, Washington and Jefferson defeated West Virginia university by a score of 23 to 0. The game was called in the middle of the second half on account of darkness, or W. & J. would have made a much higher score. The game was replete with sensational plays and many long runs were made by the ends and backs of the local team, which later resulted in touchdowns.

The bright stars of the game were Hupp and Tomberger for the local team and Capt. Smith of West Virginia. Hupp played his first varsity game at left end and time and again got around the opposite end for long runs. He could not be stopped on the offense and on the defensive playing broke up the West Virginia interference every time it came his way. Smith almost scored on the local team. On a fake kick he got around right end and ran 50 yards to the eight-yard mark before he was downed. W. & J. braced, however, and took the ball on downs and saved the day. The local team scored three touchdowns in the first half and in 16 minutes of playing in the second half secured one touchdown and kicked goal.

Young's Rulings Cause Trouble.

The rulings of A. E. Young, one of the officials in the game, caused much dissatisfaction. When W. & J. several times almost had the ball over the line he called the men back for alleged offside work and foul tactics, and the ground had to be regained.

Longwell kicked off and Hoy got the oval and returned up the field 45 yards. It looked then as if the visitors would walk away with the contest, but W. & J. got the ball on a fumble and started on a march to the West Virginia goal line. The W. & J. back field and tackles commenced a fearful hammering on the line and took the ball along by steady gains. Shortly after play was started Cole, the big tackle on the West Virginia team, broke his ankle, Mesmmore taking his place. W. & J. placed the ball on the 20-yard line and Hayes tried a goal from field, but failed. West Virginia was forced at once to kick and when W. & J. getting the oval, started toward the goal again, Hupp made a 35-yard run and placed the ball on the 20-yard line. After a few straight line bucks Hayes placed the ball within one foot of the goal and then took it over for the first touchdown, after ten minutes of play. Longwell sailed at goal. Score: W. & J. 6, West Virginia 0.

Second Score Took Eight Minutes.

W. & J. played all around their opponents and carried the ball to striking distance of the goal, but lost on a fumble. W. & J. was penalized frequently for offside work, but managed to under the disadvantage. Kelso, Hupp and McDivitt made good end runs and Heimberger spurted ten yards and placed the ball on the five yard line. Heimberger took the ball over at one down Buchanan kicked the goal. Score: W. & J. 11, West Virginia 0.

On the first line-up after kick-off McDivitt got around the end for 25 yards and the backs and ends were drilled in through the line. Big holes were opened up and "Buck" Washer was boxed in time and again and his end skirted at will. The third touchdown was made after about four minutes of play, when Heimberger placed the leather on the three-yard line and carried it over. Score: W. & J. 17, West Virginia 0. The half ended with the ball in W. & J.'s possession in the center of the field.

Play in Second Half.

Soon after the start of play in the second half Smith dropped back for a punt, but went around right end 35 yards to W. & J.'s eighty-yard line before he was downed by McDonough. W. & J. took the ball on downs. Hayes almost at once broke through left tackle for 15 yards. The ball was rapidly taken down the field and in 10 minutes of play Murphy bucked it over from the one-yard line. Hayes kicked the goal. Score, W. & J., 23; West Virginia, 0.

It was almost dark and the players could with difficulty see the ball. After the first line-up the officials called the game with 14 minutes of the last quarter half to play.

The W. & J. team has made great improvement, and the fans predict a victory over East End. West Virginia came here accompanied by over 200 rooters and a brass band, on a special train. The attendance was unusually large, about 1,000 people witnessing the contest. The visitors played pluckily throughout, but were too light. Line-up:

AMERICAN AGAIN CLAIMS NEW YORK

Somers Says Location of the Grounds Optioned Will Be Disclosed in Few Days.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 19.—Vice President C. W. Somers of the American league returned from New York today, where he was in conference with President Ban Johnson. John Kilfoyle and others interested in the projected American league club in that city.

"We have an option on splendid grounds in New York," said Mr. Somers, "but as that option has not yet been closed, and I am therefore not at liberty to discuss the matter. I think, however, it is safe to say that a definite announcement will be made in a few days."

BASEBALL TRUCE.

American Received Into the National Association of Minor Leagues. Trouble is Restricted.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—A peace pact was arranged late this afternoon between the warring baseball clubs, through the efforts of the arbitration board of the National Association of Minor leagues. By the terms of the truce the fight between the two clubs is confined to the two cities, Milwaukee and Kansas City, where there have been conflicts, each club to play on its own grounds. The American association, which has been an outlaw, comes into the National association.

The proposition made by the Western league last night that the American association abandon their grounds at Kansas City and play on the Western league grounds and on nonconflicting schedules was rejected by the American association today, and as an ultimatum announced that they would play according to the proposition made by Pat Powers of the minor leagues in New York two weeks ago. The players that were signed by the American association before the American association are retained by them, but players signed in the last two weeks will go back to the clubs to which they formerly belonged.

BRADENVILLE WON THE CHAMPIONSHIP

Mt. Pleasant Tigers Defeated in Hard Fought Game at Greensburg 6 to 5.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GREENSBURG, PA., Nov. 19.—In one of the hardest fought games ever seen in Greensburg the St. Clair eleven of Bradenville defeated the Mt. Pleasant Tigers today by the score of 6 to 5. The county championship was at stake and at least 1,500 people stood along the side lines and roared for their favorite eleven. Bradenville owes its victory to outplaying the Tigers in the first 10 minutes of play. Securing the ball on a fumble on Mt. Pleasant's 25-yard line in 12 downs, they pushed it over the goal line. Mt. Pleasant took a stand for the balance of the game and outplayed their opponents.

Mt. Pleasant's score was made early in the second half, and for the last 15 minutes of play the ball was kept about in the center of the field. Capt. Flickinger was the star for Bradenville and his line backing was responsible for over half of the ground gained by his eleven. Snyder was perhaps the most conspicuous player on the gridiron, his tackling and blocking being excellent. Rumbaugh and Capt. Stevens also played well for Mt. Pleasant. Line-up and summary:

Team of Street Car Men Defeated by Score of 29 to 0.

The Western university eleven won an easy practice game yesterday afternoon on the Colosseum grounds from an aggregation of street car motormen and conductors, known as the Allegheny A. C. The latter trolley men were outclassed in the arts of football, with the exception of Elson, and W. U. P. won as it pleased by a score of 29 to 0 in two 20-minute halves. Elson at fullback for Allegheny was a whole team in himself. He made a try for a field goal 60 yards away, his drop kick falling about ten yards short. Martin in scoring the second touchdown made the longest run of the game, going 60 yards. At the start the street car men went through W. U. P.'s line like paper, but could do little afterwards. YALE WILL PLAY HER GIANT GUARD

Glass' Standing Has Never Been Questioned, It Is Officially Stated.

BETTING ODDS DROP

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 19.—A whirlwind of rumors has today been floating, about Yale's intention of putting the giant guard, Edgar Glass, into the game against Harvard next Saturday. To clear the public understanding, Joseph R. Swan, the general field coach of the eleven, said tonight:

"Glass is regarded by the Yale football association as perfectly eligible. We know of no reason why we should not play him and we shall put him in the game. We have received no protest against him whatever from Harvard or anybody else. We have investigated his case carefully and have found nothing whatever against his eligibility. Harvard has sent no communication whatever to Yale this fall relative to the status of Glass."

Yale's "varsity players were given only a light day's work this afternoon. The regulars were shoved through half an hour's signal practice. Then Holt, Goss, Chadwick, Metcalf and Rafferty were taken off the team and were ordered to work out a few laps around the gridiron. Metcalf and Rafferty prove to be slightly out of condition still.

The reorganized "varsity was sent into a 10-minute scrimmage. It played as follows: Left end, Hare; left tackle, Bissell; left guard, Glass; center, Hamlin; right guard, Roarback; right tackle, Hogan; right end, Shevlin; quarterback, Rockwell; left halfback, Vandepoel; right halfback, Ward; fullback, Farmer.

Betting here has dropped today from 2 to 1 and 5 to 4 on Yale, because of rumors that the eleven is not in its best physical condition and because of the reports about the ineligibility of Glass. There are reports that Metcalf may be displayed by Farmer at right half, but coaches say that they intend to send the team against Harvard exactly as it faced Princeton.

Tomorrow the eleven will be given a five-minute scrimmage line-up, the last of the season.

HARVARD'S SCENTS A YALE SCHEME

Report That Blue Lineup Will Be Changed—Crimson Team in Tip-Top Condition.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Nov. 19.—It leaked out today that Whitwell will start the Yale game at center, and Force will be the first right guard. Barnard and Sugden, the tarts, will be saved for the rougher work, after the first flush has passed.

The men are like so many panthers, and their spirit has gone kiting. The second eleven were as so much paper before the 'varsity today. Such vigorous play has been seen on very few occasions.

A new end play was worked out today, and the men had it to perfection in a half hour.

YALE STUDENTS HOLD A MASS MEETING

Undergraduates Preparing to Engage in Singing Bout at Saturday's Big Game.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 19.—Yale's football coaches have decided to give the Yale university eleven no hard work in preparation for the game with Harvard. Practice today was devoted to trick plays, formations and signal work. Bowman did not do particularly well when trying for field goals.

The mass meeting about the center of the field. Capt. Flickinger was the star for Bradenville and his line backing was responsible for over half of the ground gained by his eleven. Snyder was perhaps the most conspicuous player on the gridiron, his tackling and blocking being excellent. Rumbaugh and Capt. Stevens also played well for Mt. Pleasant.

Line-up and summary:

W. U. P. WON EASILY.

Team of Street Car Men Defeated by Score of 29 to 0.

The Western university eleven won an easy practice game yesterday afternoon on the Colosseum grounds from an aggregation of street car motormen and conductors, known as the Allegheny A. C. The latter trolley men were outclassed in the arts of football, with the exception of Elson, and W. U. P. won as it pleased by a score of 29 to 0 in two 20-minute halves. Elson at fullback for Allegheny was a whole team in himself. He made a try for a field goal 60 yards away, his drop kick falling about ten yards short. Martin in scoring the second touchdown made the longest run of the game, going 60 yards. At the start the street car men went through W. U. P.'s line like paper, but could do little afterwards. The line-up:

W. U. P.—29.		A. A. C.—0.
Stroud	L.E.	Glascurster
G. Jackson	L.T.	McCarthy
McGogney	L.G.	Quinn

Touchdowns—Martin 2, Scorist, Rugh, Stroud. Goals kicked—Martin 3, McCready. Goal missed—McCready. Time of halves—20 minutes.

IMPROVEMENT AT PENNSY.

The Practice Was Held Yesterday at Swarthmore.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—The Pennsylvania coaches decided upon a change today, and the 'varsity and scrubs journeyed to Swarthmore for practice. Dale, Weschler and Metzgar, who were recuperating at Atlantic City, returned this morning. They appeared to have been benefited and something like old-time form was noticed when the team started to play. Capt. Gardner, who has also been taking a rest, was in his old position. Should the change to Swarthmore appear beneficial, it will probably be continued until the end of the week.

Game May Be Played in Detroit.

ANN ARBOR, MICH., Nov. 19.—Prof. Victor Lane of the board of control of athletics at the University of Michigan, today said that the petition of Detroit alumni asking that the Thanksgiving Day football game with Minnesota be played in Detroit, as was formerly the intention, will be given consideration by the board. There is a feeling in university circles that the protest of the Detroit alumni, newspapers and citizens generally will result in the game being played in Detroit.

DANNY MAHER WON STAKE OF $300,000

American Jockey Defends the English Turf—Record of 106 Wins Out of 400 Mounts.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—The American jockey "Danny" Maher, who sailed on the Celtic today for New York, has the record for the highest average of wins on an English turf season.

"I have been more or less restricted by physical conditions in securing mounts," said Maher, "but I am quite satised with 106 wins out of 400 mounts. I cannot sympathize with the complaints some of my fellow American jockeys have made against English turf methods. I have found English racing men to be true sportsmen, and if I have had any trouble at all it has been with Americans quite as often as with English jockeys. I won five of the most important races on Rock Sand and I never lost a race with him. This is probably without precedent. My wins of the Eclipse stakes, $50,000, on Chaser, and the champion stakes, $25,000, on Rabellas, both at Sandown, helped to make up the sum of $300,000 which I secured for my employers during the season. I propose to remain in the United States until March, when I will return to England to ride for Sir Daniel Cooper, Sir James Miller and Lord Cadogan."

M'CLELLAND AND SULLIVAN.

St. Louis Sports Much Interested in the Bout There Tonight.

ST. LOUIS, MO., Nov. 18.—Tomorrow's big battle here between Jack McClelland of Pittsburgh and Brooklyn Tommy Sullivan has the sports worked up to a high pitch and they are the most equally matched boys that one would care to see. Sullivan is a big favorite on account of making his home here for the last two months and the betting tonight favors him at about 10 to 7. This don't seem to worry the "Pride of Pittsburgh."

McClelland has been matched to meet "Ole Olesson" at Jackson, Mich., on December 2. Manager Haughton received a wire from Manager Harris tonight accepting his offer and if Sullivan wins he will be entitled to go again for Terry. Dave Sullivan also wired that he will arrive in time to challenge the winner.

BIDS ARE STILL OPEN.

No Headway in Arrangements for McGovern-Corbett Match.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 19.—Bids for the 25-round glove contest between "Young Corbett" of Denver and Terry McGovern of Brooklyn were opened here today. The clubs bidding were the Penn Art club of Philadelphia, and the Hays Valley Athletic club of San Francisco. Neither offered a guarantee. Sam Harris, manager of Terry McGovern and Young Corbett, decided not to accept either bid for the present.

The boxers have agreed to leave the bids open one week longer to give the competing clubs time to post the necessary forfeit.

MATTY MATTHEWS REPORTS.

Matty Matthews, the eastern boxer, who meets Eddie Kennedy on November 25 at Turner hall, Allegheny, in a 10-pound contest, arrived in the city yesterday from New York. Matthews was accompanied by Tommy West, the eastern middle-weight.

Matthews will do his out-door work at Schenley park and has engaged training quarters near there. Kennedy is training hard, meeting all comers at his rooms.

Kilfoyle Vouches for New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—(Special.)—John F. Kilfoyle, president of the American league club in Cleveland, said today: "The whole matter of a new baseball club in this city has been left to Mr. Johnson, president of our league. I came here merely for pleasure. Mr. Johnson has been here, but I am not acquainted with the full facts of the situation. I may say positively that the American league will have a team in New York, but I cannot say where the team is going to be." Mr. Kilfoyle returns to Cleveland tomorrow.

MOON DAISY WON VESTAL STAKES

Long Shot Easy Winner. Andy Williams Wins Bennings Special.

LEGAL NOTICES.

J. F. WALLACE, Attorney for Petitioner. In the court of common pleas No. 1 of Allegheny county, Pennsylvania. In re petition of Sarah Lescallett, by Charles Lescallett, her agent in this behalf, for a decree releasing and discharging real estate from the lien of a mortgage and the payment thereof. No. 702, December term, 1902. To whom it may concern: I, William C. McKinley, sheriff of said county, do hereby give notice that Sarah Lescallett, by Chas. F. Lescallett, her agent, has presented her petition at said number and term of said court, representing that on April 1, 1868, she became seized in fee of a certain lot or piece of ground situate in South Fayette township (now the borough of Oakdale), Allegheny county, Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows, to wit: Beginning at a point where the westerly line of Union avenue intersects the southerly line of land of Jane Johnston's heirs, thence along the land of said heirs south 60 degrees west 172 feet 7 inches to a post; thence along the easterly line of lot No. 74, of a plan of lots laid off A. D. 1867, by C. H. Love; thence north 34¼ degrees, west 62 feet 6 inches, to a post; thence north 60 degrees, east 251 feet 2 inches, to Union avenue; thence along said Union avenue south 34¼ degrees, east 62 feet 2 inches, to the place of beginning. Being a part of a larger lot of ground, No. 78 of said plan of lots.

That by the said Sarah Lescallett acquired said lot or piece of ground by deed from C. H. Love of ux, by deed dated April 1, 1868, and recorded in the recorder's office, of Allegheny county, in Deed Book Vol. 830, page 224.

That on April 1, 1868, the said Sarah Lescallett, and Samuel Lescallett, Sr., her husband, executed and delivered a mortgage to C. H. Love, to secure the balance of the purchase money on said described premises, in the sum of $200.00, payable as follows, to-wit: The sum of $50.00 on or before April 1, 1869; the sum of 50.00 on or before April 1, 1870; the sum of $50.00 on or before April 1, 1871; and the sum of $50.00 on or before April 1, 1872; with interest thereon from the date thereof annually. Said mortgage is recorded in Mortgage Book Vol. 1,024, page 224.

That the said Sarah Lescallett is still the owner of said described property. That the debt and interest due thereon has long since been fully paid and satisfied by payments made by said Sarah Lescallett and Samuel Lescallett, Sr., to C. H. Love, in his lifetime, but the receipts for the same have been mislaid or lost, and after a diligent search have not been made for them, they have not been found. That no payment has been made or demanded in accordance with the terms thereof on said mortgage for more than 21 years prior to the filing of this petition, nor has the same been recognized in any manner whatever, so far as known, and the same is now claimed to be a lien against said premises. Said mortgage has not been satisfied, released or otherwise discharged of record, nor has there been any assignment of record of said mortgage or of any interest therein.

That the said C. H. Love made a voluntary assignment, and has never been discharged, and that C. S. Marshall was appointed assignee of said Love. That said C. H. Love died on or about January 27, 1897, having first made his last will and testament, dated September 8, 1888. That F. B. Hogg became trustee under said will; and that letters of administration cum t. a. were granted in the Safe Deposit & Trust Company, and that said administrator has the custody of said bonds.

That the only persons known to your petitioner, to be in any way interested in said mortgage, And said petitioner prays that a decree be made releasing and discharging the above described lot or piece of ground from the lien of said mortgage and the payment thereof, according to the act of assembly, approved May 24, 1887.

Whereupon the court made an order designating December 6, 1902, at 10 o'clock a. m., for the parties interested in said mortgage to appear in said court and answer said petition, etc.

I therefore hereby notify you, the said parties, and all parties interested therein to appear in said court on Saturday, December 6, 1902, at 10 o'clock a. m., to answer the said petition and show cause why the prayer thereof should not be granted, and why a decree should not be made releasing and discharging the above described lot of ground from the lien of said mortgage and the payment thereof, and why the said mortgage should not be satisfied of record. William C. McKinley, Sheriff.

A TRYING DAY ON BULLS AND BEARS

Wild Movement in Manhattan Caused Some Apprehension in Wall Street---Remarkable Showing by Local Banks and Trusts.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

Yesterday was a trying day for shorts in stocks, grain and provisions, and the longs were not without apprehension. In Wall street the wild fluctuations in Manhattan, which dominated the market during the first half hour, caused considerable uneasiness. The stock opened at 142½ and jumped to 150 without interruption. After a moderate reaction it again made an advance to 151¼, a record price. The transactions were on an enormous scale, and the movement was accompanied by the wildest rumors. Among the latter was one to the effect that Mr. Keene, John W. Gates and Jacob Field were all short of the stock and that they were to be forced to cover, let the consequences be what they might. With recollections of what occurred in the famous Northern Pacific "corner" last year, traders became very nervous, and the general market ruled weak. Pennsylvania, St. Paul, Baltimore & Ohio and Union Pacific selling off to the low level of last Friday. When the rise in Manhattan halted and Metropolitan and Brooklyn Rapid Transit began to display strength shorts in the remainder of the list became nervous, and a covering movement set in which resulted in a recovery of a considerable portion of the morning's loss. Metropolitan rose from 136⅞ to 143¾, and Brooklyn advanced from 67¾ to 69⅝. There were many stories current to account for the sudden activity in this group of stocks. In three days practically the entire capital stock of Manhattan has changed hands, which might indicate that there was no scarcity of stock for sale, or that there was something more than a mere speculative deal underlying the demand. Among the reports current was the old one of a New York Central guarantee. Another was that the Metropolitan was negotiating for a lease of the elevated system, and a third that a comprehensive deal which would embrace the elevated, surface and underground system of rapid transit in one grand combination was under consideration. Two other specialties attracted attention at different times during the day. Colorado Fuel and Iron, in which a large short interest is said to exist, advanced in the early dealings to 85, but just before the close it broke to 82 on the announcement from Washington that Judge Brewer had denied the application for an appeal in the case. Amalgamated Copper was under pressure at the opening and broke to 53, but later in the day rallied to 55⅝, and closed near the top. There was a general covering movement during the closing five minutes of trading which produced a firm tone to the market at the close.

Time money was quoted very firm, with 7 per cent bid for 60-day loans. Offerings, however, were light, and there is some apprehension of another flurry in the market toward the end of the year. The effect of the withholding of time money from the market is seen in the easier tendency in call money rates ranging yesterday between 5 and 2 per cent. Sterling exchange was easier, and it begins to look as though the present policy being pursued would avert gold exports entirely.

Elsewhere in this newspaper is printed a consolidated balance sheet of the 24 state banks and 36 trust companies of the city of Pittsburgh proper. The figures are compiled from the statements made to the state banking department in response to the call issued on the 12th inst. When compared with the statements for the corresponding date last year quite a remarkable showing is made. Loans and discounts aggregate nearly $86,000,000, an increase of $26,289,863. Investment securities foot up $60,376,555, an increase of nearly $15,000,000 for the year. If these investments represent the employment of surplus funds of the various institutions, the showing might be accepted as highly gratifying, but if the increase or any large percentage of it represents underwritten securities for which no market has yet been found, the showing is not so satisfactory. While there was in these two items an increase of more than $41,000,000 for the past year, the increase in individual deposits was a little less than $12,000,000, and in total deposits a trifle less than $22,500,000. Capital increased nearly $7,500,000 during the year and surplus and profits increased $10,708,074, a large percentage of the latter representing premium paid on subscriptions for new stocks. The total resources of the state banks and trust companies now foot up the unprecedented sum of $182,753,943.

The local stock market continued dull and narrow, and the outlook for improvement is not very bright. Money continues firm at 6 per cent, and the demand even at that figure is not satisfied. There is no profit for the broker in buying stocks for which he can only charge 6 per cent, hence trading is more and more restricted to the cash purchaser. A large percentage of the buying during the past two weeks has been for cash, and the fact that the market has maintained a moderate degree of activity is evidence of a very fair investment demand. Yesterday at the close 12 securities showed net declines, 9 had advances and 5 were unchanged, the total sales reaching 5,164 shares. Pittsburgh Coal was the leader, selling to the extent of 910 shares at 28⅜ and 28. The preferred was extremely dull, but closed at a slight advance. There was only one transaction in River Coal, 100 shares changing hands at 10¾, and the market closing at that price bid. Pittsburgh Brewing was fairly active, but after selling at 30¾, eased off to 30½, and was offered at that price at the close. The steel stocks were irregular. Crucible Steel common declined at the opening to 18⅜, but subsequently rallied to 19¼, and closed steady at 19¼ to 19⅜. The preferred was stronger, advancing to 84½, and closed at 84 bid. United States Steel common sold off to 36¼, recovered to 36¾, and closed at 36½. The preferred stock was heavy, declining to 83¼, but recovered to 83¾ bid at the close, a net decline of a point. Westinghouse Electric, after holding fairly steady during the greater part of the day at 98⅝, broke to 97½ at the close, but recovered to 97¾ bid. Window Glass was dull, only 200 shares changing hands, the market closing firm at 61½ bid, the best price of the day. There were no transactions in Philadelphia Company all day. The common closed at 46¼ bid, and the preferred was offered at 49¼. The October report of the company, printed in another column, showed an increase in gross earnings of $126,770 over the corresponding month last year, and an increase in net of $34,714, or at the rate of more than $1,000 a day. Owing to the mildness of the weather the consumption of gas for fuel was unusually light.

Dealings in bank and trust company stocks were again light and the tendency of the market downward. American Trust sold down to 142 and was offered at that price at the close, a break of 8 points. Allegheny Trust was 3 per cent lower at 150, and Commonwealth Trust declined 4 points to 230. Real Estate Trust, after selling at 288, declined to 287, a loss of 3 points for the day. Small lots of Colonial Trust sold at 580, which was unchanged from the last previous sale.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The gross earnings of Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg for second week of November were $145,286, an increase of $25,228.

Mexican Central reports an increase of $115,-454 for the second week in November.

H. L. Casy, whose famous circular on the copper situation last year foreshadowed the break in Amalgamated, says: "These producers who believe that production of copper can be diminished by putting the price of refined to 12 cents are mistaken. Copper can be produced at a good profit at 12 cents. Calumet and the Greene can cake money with that much lower prices, and until the Amalgamated Copper people control a larger percentage of the world's output they cannot hope to dictate copper prices. The reports that they are seeking to control the world's copper market may be true, but they have very little chance of meeting with success in the near future."

The Philadelphia Company report for October shows an increase of $126,770 in gross earnings from operations and an increase of $34,714. Comparative figures follow:

	October. 1902	1901.
Gross earn. from oper.	$1,146,297	$1,019,527
Oper. expenses and taxes	654,258	562,902
Net earnings	$ 492,038	$ 457,324
Other income	125,354	32,025
Total	$ 617,393	$ 489,349
Deduct rentals, etc.	115,269	43,587
Net income	$ 502,125	$ 445,762
Int. on funded debt	224,330	166,678
Div. on pfd. stock	106,436	90,166
Surplus	$ 171,356	$ 179,917

Surplus earnings for the ten months of the calendar year amount to $1,941,543, against $1,918,035 for the corresponding period of 1901.

The $80,000 Colfax sub-school district, 4 per cent bonds were awarded yesterday to the highest bidder, Mr. Holmes & Son, bankers, at 102.62. $82,096. Other bidders were: Dick Bros. & Co., New York, 102.38, or $81,904; F. L. Fuller & Co., Cleveland, $81,600; Seasongood & Meyer, Cincinnati, $81,92; Dennison, Prior & Co., Cleveland, $80,971; E. H. Rollins & Son, Boston, $100.83, or $80,424.

So far as the associated banks are concerned it does not appear that the necessity for forced contraction of speculative liabilities any longer exists. The New York banks are carrying $12,000,000 less in loans than they were a year ago, and surplus reserve is $8,000,000 larger. Gold was going out in quantity at this time last November, and the banks, while gaining from the interior, continued to lose to the sub-treasury during November and December fully as much as they are losing now. Yet the worst that happened was a decline in the surplus reserve from $14,000,000 odd on November 23, to $5,000,000 odd on December 14, following which money rates rose to about the level they now occupy. Stocks went down rather sharply in the first fortnight in December, following an advance in November, but these losses were mostly regained by the Christmas holidays.

The American Steel Foundries Company has declared a quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock, payable December 1.

The rally in Window Glass was on a report of the final agreement between the producers and the jobbers, which will avert the price-cutting that was so costly to all concerned last year.

It is estimated that London sold 30,000 shares American securities yesterday. At the opening foreigners sold Baltimore & Ohio.

If everybody continues to prepare for a money squeeze at the end of the year, the expected will not happen.

The head of a local house expressed the opinion yesterday that there was not a bond dealer, including large financial institutions, who was not carrying more securities than desirable, simply for the reason that there had been no bond market for months past.

Manhattan pays less than 2½ per cent at the current price, and yet there were buyers for nearly 150,000 shares of it yesterday.

The comptroller of the currency has authorized the Clairton (Pa.) national bank to begin business on $25,000 capital. Edwin L. Porter is president and C. H. Drum cashier.

WEAKENING IN HEAVY IRON AND STEEL LINES

Lower Prices Forced, to Keep Independent Finishing Mills from Closing in Face of Reductions on Their Own Products--Insures Activity.

There is a weakening in all lines of the iron and steel market. Pig iron and steel billets are selling at lower prices, and the producers have come to realise that in order to keep independent concerns moving they will have to meet lower prices. High prices on the heavier iron and steel lines cannot live in face of the low prices on finished lines which have been squeezing the independent interests.

Yet there is nothing alarming in these conditions.

There is a tremendous volume of business offering and the lower prices promised on raw materials will only create an equilibrium that is essential to the life of an active market. Until just recently the prices on raw materials had been gradually moving upward to artificial values which always threaten the general market.

While the producers of pig iron cannot be expected to make a radical reduction to meet the conditions of low prices in finished lines, which have already in some instances forced finishing mills to close, yet the business of these independents is too important a factor to be lost sight of. It would be taken care of at once, except that contracts of the heavier producers with the merchant furnacemen more than exhausts the output of the furnaces under the curtailed production brought about by the coke embargo.

Pig Iron Cheaper.

Bessemer pig iron is now available for next year's delivery at $21 50 to $21 75 a ton. Sales of considerable lots for immediate delivery were made at $23 to $23 25 a ton, and the market now is the lower figure. Bessemer billets are hard to sell at as low as $28 a ton, and open hearth billets are weaker and the price offered is $31 at mills, although a few sales were closed in the week past as high as $32. These steel prices are at mills, Youngstown, and the iron prices at valley furnaces.

The fancy prices on coke are passing away. The urgent demand for foundry coke has, for coke ready to ship at the ovens, brought a price as high as $8 a ton, but this cannot last. The market on foundry coke for delivery in next year is $4 to $4 50 a ton at the ovens, and on furnace it is $3 35 to $4, the last being the price for urgent deliveries.

The freight blockade is still on, and Pittsburgh shippers look for little relief this winter, unless the three Pittsburgh railroad interests will consent to stop handling the through grain, provisions and cattle traffic from Chicago through the congested yards of the Pittsburgh district. With this wonderful open weather, with only a few foggy days, it is amazing that a tonnage increase of from 10 to 20 per cent should have swamped the railroads and forced down many mills because they cannot get the raw materials.

One of Two Faults.

It is either that the railroads have made no provision for this increase in Pittsburgh's tonnage or their organizations are unable to manage affairs. It would be interesting to know to which of these conditions the railroad executives would acknowledge guilt. One is as culpable as the other, and carries with it disregard for a satisfactory movement of the great and profitable tonnage of Pittsburgh, activity of the industries of which is the key of all industrial activity. A ready solution would be to stop the fight for the through and less profitable freight out of Chicago long enough to clear up the congestion here.

The report of a sharp reduction on the price of iron bar stands without confirmation. While these mills are able to take care of reasonable specifications in three weeks or a month, they have heavy contracts running for many months ahead. Next month they will be making new contracts for next year, and it will not be surprising if the current ruling price is shaded somewhat on the heavy contracts. Now the price is held firmly at $1 80 to $1 85 the 100 pounds, according to importance of orders, with prices on the Pittsburgh refined bar the usual proportions higher.

Bar Iron Not Cheaper.

The Republic Iron and Steel Company, the largest western producers of iron bar, has established Pittsburgh offices in the Frick building. The only existing weakness in the iron bar market is in the east, and this is of no such importance as reported. No common iron bar for reasonably prompt shipment can be bought at the prices of the wild reports of a bear trade paper. The figure named is $1 70, but it is not real.

The present movement of the markets, to establish more of an equilibrium, between finished and raw material prices, is the most healthful development of months. It is only handicapped by the railroad congestion.

From week to week the merchant furnacemen have been forced to work along under the short coke deliveries, with from 60 to 80 per cent of their normal output cut off. Coke shipments from the region on Sunday and Monday were normal. While during the past two days there were none for the merchant furnaces. Even furnaces of the United States Steel Corporation, which are naturally favored on the deliveries of its constituent coke concern, have been forced to bank for hours on many days, although so far none have been forced out, as have a score or more of the merchant furnaces of the Mahoning and Shenango valleys and the Cleveland district.

Raw Material Prices.

Bessemer pig iron for prompt shipment and amounting to 1,000 tons was sold in the week past at $23 to $23 25 a ton. The base price at the furnaces for contract business, next year delivery, is now $21 50, and may be shaded later.

Forge iron is also weaker. On a sale of 1,000 tons, for delivery in the second quarter of next year, the price made was $21 35, Pittsburgh.

The altitudinous market in foundry iron also is threatened. A sale of 1,000 tons of No. 2 foreign foundry iron, for delivery before the end of the year, was closed at $25. Some few carlots were sold at as high as $26. Domestic foundry is, of course, worth a little more, but buyers are sparing in the market.

About 3,000 tons of basic open-hearth billets were sold in the week past, mostly at $33 a ton; but the market is now nearer $31, at the mills. A sale of 800 tons of Bessemer billets was made at $28 a ton, maker's mills.

The rod market is dragging, with the producers holding their prices on Bessemer rods at $36 a ton, while little new business is offered.

The merchant bar market lacks activity and the price is about $35 a ton.

In iron bar the demand is fairly active at $1 80 to $1 85 the 100 pounds, with Pittsburgh refined bar at the usual higher prices.

There is an improved demand for skelp, at prices which allow all pipe mills to meet the lower prices. Grooved iron skelp brings from $1 95 to $2 for 100 pounds; sheared, about $2 10, and steel skelp, from $1 90 to $2.

Looking Abroad for Rails.

The rail market is so active and the mills engaged so far ahead that late buyers wanting deliveries starting early next year are searching abroad. The domestic mills are loaded with business which will occupy them till into September, and in some cases throughout next year. Prices are as follows: $28 for 200 tons and upward, $30 for carload lots and $32 for less than carload lots; $35 for 70, 35 and 40-pound rails in less than carload lots; $39 for 25-pound, $40 for 20-pound, $42 for 16-pound and $43 for 12-pound. Girder and T rails for the use of traction companies are $35 to $38 a ton.

The steel plate mills have business which will engage them from four to six months. Pittsburgh producers in the week past booked new business amounting to 12,000 tons, mostly for forward shipment, at prices as low as the base of the associated producers, which is $1 60 the 100 pounds for tank plate.

The merchant steel bar mills can take new business for delivery after two months. In the week past Pittsburgh producers sold between 5,000 and 6,000 tons, at the base price of $1 60 for the 100 pounds for forward shipment.

The structural steel mills are catching up, but still have business ahead which would crowd them for from four to six months. Pittsburgh mills sold about 10,000 tons in the week past. The base prices remain: Beams and channels, from 3 to 15-inch, $1 60 for 100 pounds; beams, 18 to 24-inch, $1 70 for 100 pounds; angles, 3 to 6-inch, $1 65 for 100 pounds; tees, 3 to 6-inch, $1 65 for 100 pounds.

Steel hoops continue to sell at $1 90 for lots of 200 tons to $2 in lesser lots.

Crucible and Scrap Strong.

Crucible and finer lines of merchant steel continue in strong demand. Prices are as follows: Tire steel, $2 15 to $2 25 for 100 pounds; spring steel, $2 25 to $2 35; toe calk, $2 30 to $2 40. On less than 2,000 tons of a size and not less than 1,000 tons of the same prices are to an additional 10 cents on the price for 100 pounds, and on less than 1,000 tons, 30 cents. Cold-rolled shafting quotations continue at 47 per cent off list in car and larger lots, and 42 per cent on less than carlots.

Transactions of the past week brought some higher prices on old material. A sale of 2,000 tons of heavy melting stock was made at $22 a ton. The freight congestion alone stands in the way of an active market in scrap. Prices are as follows: Heavy melting steel scrap, $20; No. 1 wrought scrap, $22 to $22 50; old steel rails, $22; steel rails for rerolling, $24.

There is a better movement in tin plate at the new lower prices, $3 60 for the 100-pound box of plates at mill.

The sheet market has also improved somewhat under the lower prices which are met by all producers. These range from $2 75 on the No. 28 gauge black sheets and from $3 85 on the No. 28 gauge galvanized.

There is an increased movement in wire and wire nails, at the reduced prices on car and larger lots at mill, $1 90 the keg for nails; plain wire $1 80, and barb wire, $2 20.

Record Hardware Business.

The hardware business continues to break all records, the record so far this month showing an increase of 33 1-3 per cent over business done in the same period of last year. It seems as though the farther into the season the trade gets the more goods is required. The open weather is doubtless the cause of a very large business in heavy hardware such as nails, wire and goods of such character, that are used for outside work. This also is doubtless responsible for the large business in paints, colors and varnishes. The low rates still continue on the Pittsburgh basis, but may be withdrawn at any time, as the manufacturers have closed their agreement.

The good movement, spoken of in our previous reports, in builders' hardware, carpenters' tools, fine table and pocket cutlery, in lines of fine cutlery, the trade evidently preparing for a big business in this particular direction. This includes such goods as pocket knives, razors, carvers, silverware and other items that are used at holiday times by hardware dealers.

Stocks are moving out freely and manufacturers still report themselves as unable to fill orders as promptly as they would like to, some manufacturers being from two to three months behind with orders.

Hardware Quotations.

This, together with the report from the large steel corporations that they have millions of tons sold ahead, indicates that prices are bound to be firm, if not higher. The Shindler Hardware Company furnishes the following quotations: Wire nails, $1 90 in carlots; $2 base, in less than carlots; cut nails, $2 05 in carlots; $2 20 base, in less than carlots; plain galvanized wire, $2 15 in carlots; $2 25 base, in less than carlots; galvanized barbed wire, $2 55 in carlots; $2 65 base, in less than carlots. Other sizes usual advance. Columbia pocket knives, discount 35 per cent; Albion hatchets, discount 50 per cent; Stevens shotguns and rifles, discount 25 per cent; Bindley canal shovels, $9 50 a dozen; Great Western files, discount 70 and 10 per cent; window glass, discount 88 and 5 per cent, less than carlots, and 90 per cent in carlots; sheet iron, base No. 26, $3 10 for 100 pounds; galvanized sheet iron, discount 70 per cent.

New Pipe Discounts.

The reduced prices on steel and wrought iron pipe, which have finally been made open to the jobbing trade, while they have ruled for some time on much business, as has been stated in The Gazette, are as follows, in carlots:

FUEL SUPPLY STILL DOMINATES MARKET

Trouble Continues to Be in Freight Congestion—Effects Pig Iron and Steel.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The Iron Age tomorrow will say:

The fuel question dominates the entire iron and steel trade. Instead of the supply improving, the inadequacy of deliveries appears to become more aggravated. The report of many furnaces continually banked for the lack of coke, which interferes with the production of pig iron and also checks the output of steel. Eastern works are not only affected by the short supply of coke, but are greatly hampered also by difficulty in securing coal.

The seat of the trouble continues, as heretofore, in the lack of transportation facilities. The prospect for improvement in this direction is not brightening, as winter is approaching, when the severest weather is to be met with increasing difficulty among transportation lines.

The largest iron and steel manufacturers anticipate a considerable restriction of output for winter, owing to the causes above given. The only apparent way of relief from the present gloomy outlook is that they may not be able to get out sufficient tonnage to satisfy the requirements of their customers.

The charge made in some quarters, that discrimination is exercised by the managers of railroad lines in favor of the United States Steel Corporation, is refuted by the fact that furnaces and mills of that corporation are likewise suffering from difficulty in securing supplies of fuel. Some of the most important furnaces of the corporation have been banked on this account during the past week.

Numerous contracts for furnace coke are reported at $4 a ton at the oven, to run through the whole of the coming year. This shows emphatically how the coke situation is regarded by furnacemen, who would not make such contracts if they felt that an improvement was likely to occur in a few weeks.

A sharply increased demand for pig iron is observed in the eastern market. This is due to the fact that many consumers had supposed that the settlement of the anthracite strike would result in a speedy increase of pig iron production; consequently, for a time the eastern demand for pig iron was decidedly light. Now, however, that deliveries do not show as slow a rate ever on old contracts, and some of the largest consumers are in pressing need of a supply of pig iron, they will be unable to secure the considerable quantity from either eastern or western furnaces, and it is expected that a large increase in importations will result.

Among the purchases for import during the week was one of 3,000 tons of low phosphorus pig iron at Baltimore.

The demand for foreign steel is not large, but some sales are reported, among them being that of 4,000 tons of Canadian billets. The price on Canadian billets is about $28 50 exship New York, which is obtained by reason of prompt delivery. German billets are also offered at $26 to $27, and some small orders have been entered for importation, but large consumers do not seem to be attracted by the low quotations.

Pittsburgh reports larger transactions in both Bessemer and open-hearth billets, buyers now taking hold for deliveries over an extended period. Prices as Pittsburgh are firm at a trifle slightly below the delivered price on foreign steel in that district.

An interesting occurrence the past week was the starting of the new rail mill of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company at Ensley, Ala. The mill was started on the 13th and will for some time make rails for the company's own railroad. They are prepared, however, to take orders for delivery early in the coming year.

The heavy inquiries for rails noted last week not only continue, but appear to be increasing, showing that many railroad companies need more rails for their next year's requirements.

LIVE STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—There has been about an average demand for staple cottons today at previous prices. Print cloths are steady but demand quiet. Men's wear woolens in better demand than last week, and prices steady for all regular lines. Dress goods quiet, with a steady market.

IN THE OIL FIELDS.

The Gordon sand districts in the lower southwest are still keeping to the front with new wells and production. In the Foltom district, Wetzel county, the Delmar Oil Company has drilled in its test on the J. R. Talkington farm and the well produced 250 barrels the first 24 hours.

In the same district Greenlee and the Southern Oil Company have completed their No. 4 on the C. A. Snodgrass farm and have a 50-barrel producer.

There are a number of wells in this district each producing 100 or more barrels a day. The South Penn Oil Company's No. 1 on the A. J. Ice, Jr., farm is hooling up at 125 barrels a day. No. 6 Rachel Talkington 180 barrels, Nos. 7, 9 and 18 Genine Robinson 165, 175 and 125 barrels a day respectively.

On Fallen Timber run A. W. Mellon & Co.'s No. 1 on the Z. T. Francis farm is producing 110 barrels a day.

In the Big Injun sand territory, west of the old Fairview district in Marion county, E. M. Jennings & Bros.' test well on the A. Darrah farm has increased its production to 75 barrels a day.

On the east side of the Folsom district the South Penn company's No. 2 on the John Price farm has a small show of oil in the stray sand. No. 5 on the Genine Robinson tract has been drilled into the same formation and has filled up 2,000 feet with fluid.

The South Penn Oil Company has given its No. 7 on the Henry Mason farm a 60-quart shot, and the well produced 30 barrels the ensuing 24 hours.

Near Bridgeport, Harrison county, a local company has drilled a test well four miles east of Clarksburg, to a depth of 2,265 feet and developed some oil and gas after firing it a shot. The gas will be used for light and fuel in Bridgeport.

North of Flemington, Taylor county, a New York company has drilled a test well into the Big Injun sand and has a fair gas pressure but no oil.

In the new development near Uniontown, Belmont county, O. LeConte & Bruner have drilled in a test on the Sharp farm that is reported to be good for 50 barrels a day. The Sharp farm adjoins the Nichols farm, on which the same company completed a good producer last week.

In the Grayseville district, Munroe county, F. P. Hue & Co. have completed No. 9 on the Abner Byers farm and have a show for a 25-barrel producer in the Keener sand.

Whole Market in Chicago Is Active and Prices Advance All Around.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—There was a continuation of the bull movement in wheat today, in which the volume of business was enormous with a leading long addition materially to his already big line of both December and May. It was rumored that over 2,000,000 bushels were bought today for the account of this one holder. Covering by shorts added to the excitement and helped to advance prices. There was some selling at the start influenced by the favorable weather and unresponsive cables and the opening prices were easier, but later when the leader in the bull movement became an active buyer, others followed and the market advanced sharply. About noon heavy liquidation developed and a monetary reaction resulted, but on renewed buying there was another advance and the close was strong and practically at the top. Primary receipts were 1,519,000 bushels, compared with 1,174,000. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 768 cars, which, with local receipts of 83 cars—with 1 of contract grade—made total receipts for the three points of 851 cars, against 975 last week and 950 cars a year ago.

Corn was affected by the strength in wheat and ruled strong after an easier opening, due to good weather and disappointing cables. The market was active and with interest still centered in the December delivery, which went up and down in an erratic manner. Local receipts were 120 cars, with 6 of contract grade.

Strength in wheat and corn was the main influence in causing better prices in oats. Trading was light; close strong. Local receipts were 148 cars.

Provisions ruled active and strong after an easier opening, due to heavy receipts of hogs and lower prices at the yards. The bullish tendency of grains was the chief strengthening factor, although there was moderate buying on outside account, while the offerings were limited. The close was strong.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 75 cars; corn, 165 cars; oats, 109 cars; hogs, 35,000 head.

The leading futures are corrected by John D. Armstrong & Co., 209 Sixth street, members of Chicago board of trade:

TRACTIONS ONCE MORE OVERSHADOW MARKET

Manhattan, Metropolitan and B. R. T. Sales Equal Nearly Quarter of Day's Total.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Interest in today's stock market centered almost entirely in the local tractions, which were very strong and active. Operations in that group aggregated about one-quarter of the entire day's business. Manhattans, as on the previous days of the week, was the real feature, making a maximum advance of over 9 points, and a net gain of 6¾. Metropolitan and Brooklyn Rapid Transit, which were taken up later in the day, scored net gains of 3¾ and 4¼ points, respectively. The "street" is convinced that some sort of a deal is on in Manhattan, and there are those who believe that the deal includes practically all the street lines of Greater New York. Manhattan, according to rumors current during the day, may go to Metropolitan interests or be taken over by the syndicate which controls the subway system now in course of construction. Rumors regarding Brooklyn Transit had to do with Pennsylvania railway interests. The Pennsylvania road, as is generally known, controls the Long Island railroad and has other interests in King and Queens county.

Rumor Not Believed.

Nevertheless, the rumor coupling Pennsylvania with Brooklyn Transit was generally scouted. Opening prices reflected further pressure in all the active stocks except Manhattan. Colorado Fuel declined 2 points, and there were average losses of a point or more in Baltimore & Ohio, St. Paul, Union Pacific and Amalgamated Copper, while Reading, United States Steel and Sugar also sold lower. Manhattan meantime continued to advance on buying orders attributed to Gould brokers, and in the first 30 minutes advanced to 150, from which it fell 3 points, but as is shown, more than recovered this loss. Prices gradually improved in many of the standard issues. Traders who had been out of the market for some days took the long side and the short interest covered extensively, especially in Manhattan and Sugar. Trading in Manhattan during the early session was so wide that the stock gained a point between quotations. It was reported that a very prominent operator was engineering the movement.

Records Are Made.

Recoveries at this time elsewhere in the list were feverish and erratic, as was shown in the course of such stocks as Metropolitan, Louisville & Nashville, St. Paul, Rock Island, Missouri Pacific and Canadian Pacific. Sugar continued steady on reports of better trade conditions. Colorado Fuel fluctuations were wild, making an abrupt rise of 4 points, though a closing two points below yesterday's price. General Electric went off 2 per cent on small sales, and the market at this particular period seemed to be meeting more stock than it could absorb. The early afternoon brought the real upward turn in the tractions and in the general rally an improved tone was shown by St. Paul, Reading, Norfolk & Western, Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Baltimore & Ohio, Wabash preferred, Atchison and some others in the same class. The closing was

BARREL OVER HIS HEAD TO ESCAPE ORE DUST

Testimony of One Witness in Trial of Suit Against the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company for Alleged Dust Nuisance.

The equity cases brought by E. R. Sullivan and others against the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company were called for trial before Judge Frazer yesterday. The actions are to have the Eliza furnaces of the defendant company on Second avenue, Fourteenth ward, declared a nuisance by reason of the volumes of ore dust emitted.

It is claimed this dust has greatly depreciated the value of property in the Oakland district, that it is consequently no longer a desirable residential location, that the quantities of ore thrown on buildings, household goods and shrubbery has a tendency to destroy them, and that all this has come within the past two years, or since the defendant company made certain changes in its furnaces.

The charges are denied by the company, it being alleged that for years the plant has been operated in the same manner and that the Eliza furnaces are no worse than other manufacturing establishments skirting the river.

The Sullivan case was first called. The outcome of this will settle the other actions. Attorneys George C. Wilson, Clarence Burleigh and W. D. Evans represent the steel company. Attorneys Patterson, Sterrett and Acheson represent Sullivan, who is a heavy property owner.

Sullivan testified that he resided on Frazier street for many years, but recently moved. He declared that three years ago there was very little smoke in that locality, but since the steel company made changes in its plant, it had, by reason of the ore dust, become almost impossible to live there. The dust was not only ruinous to shrubbery, but affected clothing and had a tendency to eat in roofs. The witness said that when clothing is washed the dust remains. He said he employed three men, who took three barrels of dust from the conductors and spouts on his house. Sullivan said that the ore dust killed the trees and when the dust clouds appear the air is so dense that one cannot see the length of a short street.

Dr. W. F. Williams of 1305 Bouquet street, swore the dust was injurious to health. He exhibited a gallon and a half jar of dust taken from a cement walk 12 hours after it had been swept.

W. J. Brown swore that the insurance decreased property values 25 per cent. W. B. Seeley testified that he once had to place an empty barrel over his head to escape a heavy shower of dust.

Miss Eichleay, a daughter of John Eichleay, living in Bouquet street, exhibited a soiled napkin that she had retained from a washing, also a plate covered with dust. She said that two years ago she had the "nicest kind" of chrysanthemums, but not now. Of 20 rose bushes there only remain now a few. As to the napkin, the witness said the maid put it out with the other washing "before the shower of dust."

James Fawcett of Bouquet and Frazier streets, offered testimony to show the effect of the ore dust generally, and August Eberhart of Frazier street, swore that it was impossible to keep the windows open in summer. It was shown by the witnesses that the showers of ore follow the explosions caused by "slips" at the furnaces. Eberhart testified that after these explosions the custom has been to run out of the house and bring in the children.

James Hardy, a wealthy property owner, said he had lived in the Oakland district since 1870 and that until a few years ago he had not noticed the dust.

Mrs. Minnie Gallio of 3745 Frazier street, swore that after a fall of ore dust foot prints could be noticed on the walk.

"It is not pleasant to live anywhere in Pittsburgh on account of the smoke," suggested Attorney Wilson.

"We expect smoke in Pittsburgh, but we do not expect to live under clouds of ore," replied the witness.

"That's the stuff," exclaimed Attorney Patterson.

"Mr. Petterson says 'that's the stuff,' so I guess that will be enough," remarked Attorney Wilson. The witness was excused and adjournment was taken until this morning.

GET SMALL VERDICTS.

Plaintiffs Win in United States Court Cases—Many Petitions in Bankruptcy.

In the United States circuit court the jury in the case of the Toledo Machine and Tool Company against the Penn Shovel Company returned a verdict of $5,762 40 for the plaintiff, but allowed the defendant $3,762 40 for defective machinery and time lost, reducing the plaintiff's verdict to $2,000. The plaintiff had sued for $5,000, alleged to be due for the installation of a shovel plant for the defendant at Conway.

In the case of J. H. Brennan against the Warren-Burnham Company, the jury found in favor of the plaintiff for $806. The plaintiff asked for $17,000 damages for the destruction of lumber and shingles alleged to have been burned in a fire started by the defendant company.

NOT A GAMBLING DEAL.

Court Says Marginal Stock Transaction Does Not Come Under That Heading.

In the case of Percy E. Hunter against Michael Gorman and others, an action growing out of a stock transaction, the plaintiff was awarded $3,500 damages. One of the points affirmed by the court during the trial of the case was:

"A contract for the purchase of stock for speculation and upon margin, is not in itself a gambling transaction unless the parties to the contract understand that there is, under no circumstances, to be a delivery."

Beaver College Gets Fund.

In common pleas court No. 2 the exceptions to the report of the master, Joseph M. Swearingen, in the matter of the endowment fund of the Pittsburgh Female college, were withdrawn and his report confirmed absolutely. He recommended that the fund, approximately $28,000, go to the Beaver college at Beaver, Pa. The Allegheny college at Meadville, disputed right of the Beaver college to the fund, under the laws of the Methodist Episcopal church, but Master Swearingen found against, and the fight was continued in court.

DOCTORS DISAGREE.

At Hearing to Have Albert Pitcairn Released from Dixmont, Court Gets Two Versions of Case.

A hearing was held yesterday before Judge R. S. Frazer in the matter of the application of Mrs. Mary Pitcairn to have her husband, Albert Pitcairn, released from the insane asylum at Dixmont. Pitcairn was a well-known tailor and possesses a valuable estate.

Dr. Henry A. Hutchinson, superintendent of the asylum, swore Pitcairn's mind is very much disturbed, that he requires care at all times and that at times he has feelings of irritability against his wife, the result of the progression of his mental disease. He considered that Pitcairn's condition, since his confinement, has not improved. This testimony was corroborated by Dr. Walker, assistant to Dr. Hutchinson.

Dr. C. C. Wylie and another physician considered it was safe to have Pitcairn released, but acknowledged that he required constant attention. The court took the papers.

MRS. VIRGIN'S APOLOGY.

Missing Jewelry Woman Gives a Letter of Explanation to the Hair Dresser.

Mrs. Martha Just Virgin who lost track of her jewelry for several days, is in more trouble. Mrs. C. B. North, the colored hair dresser, on whom Mrs. Virgin cast suspicion in connection with the alleged disappearance of the jewelry, called at No. 620 College avenue yesterday morning and demanded an explanation.

Mrs. Vrigin admitted that she had made a mistake and gave Mrs. North this letter:

To Whom It May Concern:

I wish to say that the bearer, Mrs. C. B. North, had nothing whatever to do with the supposed robbery at my residence, No. 620 College avenue, on Saturday evening, November 15. As I have found my jewelry I am positive of the above statement.

MRS. M. J. VIRGIN.

It had been reported that Mrs. Virgin had left the city, but she was at home yesterday.

RUTH WILL GO HOME INSTEAD OF MARRYING

Detectives Got a Runaway Girl Before Her Lover Kept the Appointment.

Detectives Swinehart and Merritt intercepted an elopement yesterday afternoon at the Union station. They arrived at the station before the young man in the case and took the intended bride to the Central station, where she is held to await the arrival of her parents from Urichsville, O.

The girl is Ruth Purdue, 17 years old. Her intended partner for life is John Barry of No. 4414 Butler street. They were raised together. On Tuesday Ruth sent word to Barry that she would come to Pittsburgh yesterday. She told her parents that she was coming to this city to work for a dressmaker. After she left her parents looked over her letters and found several from Barry. The contents revealed the intended elopement. As the girl stepped off the train Detective Swinehart met her, saying:

"Ruth, you are too young to get married, and we are going to send you home."

She cried, but agreed to do what she was told. When Barry arrived at the station he was informed that Ruth had been taken to police headquarters. He went there, but the officers refused to permit him to see the girl.

IN LOCAL PLAYHOUSES.

An Interesting Program Outlined for Theatergoers in Pittsburgh Next Week.

At the Alvin next week Miss Annie Russell, always a favorite in Pittsburgh, will be seen for the first time here in her new play by Clyde Fitch, "The Girl and the Judge." There is a strong company, including Mrs. G. H. Gilbert, Mrs. McKee Rankin, Mina Cottvelly and Orin Johnson.

Viola Allen's gorgeous production of Marion Crawford's thrilling play, "In the Palace of the King," has caught on to the extent of packing the Grand to standing room only at every performance. So many people have been turned away this week unable to secure seats that Manager Davis has made arrangements with Liebler & Co., the owners of the property, to continue the play for one more week, beginning with next Monday afternoon. The sale of seats will open at the box office this morning.

In representing the new "Eight Bells," which comes to the Bijou next week, John F. Byrne has outclassed all previous efforts in the way of mechanical effects, scenic display, pantomime comedy, etc. The wonderful originality shown has never been equaled and shows a master mind for this kind of work. "Eight Bells" is by far the most original up-to-date pantomimic comedy ever produced.

"A Gambler's Daughter" is the attraction at the Empire next week. The piece is a sensational melo-drama, full of human interest and abounding in highly exciting scenes and climaxes. Miss Clara Thropp, well known and popular as a leading woman, heads the excellent company of players, playing the title role. New and highly interesting songs and specialties are introduced. Matinees will be given Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday.

In addition to a thirty minute version of "Fra Diavalo" next week, including in the cast Clara Lane, Bessie Tannehill, George Tallman and Charles Drew, the vaudeville bill at the Avenue will include the celebrated De Lucas, European acrobats who have just arrived in this country from the London music halls; the American jester, Charles T. Aldrich; Dolan & Lenharr in a new sketch, "A High Toned Burglar;" Satsuma, the Japanese juggler; the cinematograph in a new line of pictures, Wood & Ray, eccentric comedy sketch, and Edna C. Burnett, contralto singer.

The Empire show, which opens a week's engagement at the Duquesne next week, will realize the drawing room atmosphere and tone of the most modern vaudeville ideas. James J. Corbett in his own original monologue, the Three Meers, European wire act; Davis & Macauley, Raymond & Caverly, Reynard and the Parmene Brothers are among the acts.

Harry W. Williams, Jr.'s, Imperial burlesquers is the Thanksgiving attraction to furnish the amusement of the Academy next week. The company numbers 35 well known burlesquers and vaudeville artists and contains catchy music, pretty girls and the burletta, "Two Old Sports."

AT FIRST GLANCE

It Would Appear That Local Remedies Would Be Best for Cure of Catarrh.

It would seem at first glance that catarrh being a disease of the mucous membrane, that salves, sprays, etc., being applied directly to the membranes of the nose and throat, would be the most rational treatment but this has been proven not to be true.

The mucous membrane is made and repaired from the blood and catarrh is a blood disease and any remedy to make a permanent cure must act on the blood, and when the blood is purified from catarrhal poison, the secretions from the mucous membrane will become natural and healthy.

In this climate thousands of people seem scarcely ever free from some form of catarrh; it gets better at times but each winter becomes gradually deeper seated and after a time the sufferer resigns himself to it as a necessary evil.

Catarrh cures are almost as numerous as catarrh sufferers, but are nearly all so inconvenient and ineffective as to render their use a nuisance nearly as annoying as catarrh itself; anyone who has used douches, sprays and powders will bear witness to their inconvenience and failure to really cure.

There are a number of excellent internal remedies for catarrh, but probably the best and certainly the safest is a new remedy, composed of Red Gum, Blood Root and similar antiseptic remedies and other valuable catarrh specifics.

This remedy is in tablet form, pleasant to the taste and sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and anyone suffering from catarrh may use these tablets with absolute assurance that they contain no cocaine, opiate nor any poisonous mineral whatever.

A leading druggist in Albany speaking of catarrh cures says: "I have sold various catarrh cures for years, but have never sold any which gave such general satisfaction as Stuart's Catarrh Tablets. They contain in a pleasant, concentrated form all the best and latest catarrh remedies, and catarrh sufferers who have used douches, sprays and salves, have been astonished at the quick relief and permanent results obtained after a week's use of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets." All druggists sell full sized packages for fifty cents.

It's easy to raise wages—mighty hard to get them down again—

Men's Lounging Coats for the House.

Favored for the Holiday Gift.

Some call them House Coats, some say Smoking Jackets, but we think "Comfort" Coats would be as good a name, or probably better than either of the other two.

At Christmas times the feminine mind turns to House Coats with great satisfaction—to make "him" a present of a garment that will be a comfortable change when "he" returns from "his" business at night and yet be dressed well enough to receive "his" friends.

In the great Christmas rush the two weeks preceding Christmas there is always more or less trouble getting the correct size. This can be avoided at all times if women will be particular to bring the measurements of one of "his" old coats or bring the coat itself. That will avoid any trouble, besides minimizing the chances for disappointment over the fit Christmas morning.

Now is the time to make choice—the best time of all. The lines cannot be more complete. They will not. All of them are before you. You can leisurely inspect and select. Here are some of the Coats, made by good tailors who have served us for years.

$5—Reversible Cloths in dark green, fancy dark plaid at collar, cuffs and pockets. The same plaid effect combined with such other colors as wine, brown, blue.

$6—Brown and blue reversible cloths, with fancy dark plaids at collar, cuffs and pockets.

$7, $8, $9, $10—Finer quality of reversible cloths in all the stylish and most favored colors.

$10—Black, brown, green, blue broadcloths. Either bound with braid or cord. These Coats are lined with venetian, a material that looks like silk but wears much better.

$13.50—Black and blue velvet, lapels faced with dull silk, excellent venetian lining. These Smoking Jackets are in the Tuxedo shape.

$15, $18 and up to $25—Smoking Jackets of the finest matelasse cloth, with white, blue and red silk figures. These are the finest cloth Smoking Jackets made.

$35—Smoking Jackets of silk velvet with red, white and blue figures. Silk lined and silk faced. Tuxedo shape. This is the most elegant example of all the house coats.

The Canaries.

They're in the Basement and we are sorry to say the rollers are all gone.

But there are any number of other good singers, each one guaranteed.

We don't know but an all-round singer is just as good as a roller, for to tell the truth a roller knows aught else but trilling.

We will sell you a guaranteed singer for $2; or bird and neat brass cage for $2.50.

A large and portable article for the shining of shoes—men's, women's, misses', children's.

You can hang it against the wall, adjusting a last for the size shoe to be shined.

Three sizes of lasts go in the outfit. We charge 75c, but the regular price is $1.

Use any polish preferred.

Antherea,

a new silk, beautiful and good as its adopted Oriental name implies, a splendid taffeta primarily for lining, yet admirable for making the handsome petticoat.

Every thread pure silk, the dye pure—a better dye was never used on silk.

At the Lining Counter we will take great pleasure in introducing this new Silk to you.

We show it in 20 new shades, including white and black.

The price is 58c a yard.
